Turncoats, U.S. Facing Trouble on Discharges

Army Red Tape Is Blamed by Wilson

Washington, July 12 (AP)—A Communist decision to send home three American turncoats who first chose to stay in China could stir up new difficulties for the U. S. Army and the former soldiers themselves.

The three who changed their minds about remaining with the Communists who captured them in Korea sailed from Hong Kong yesterday saying they are ready to face the consequences of any wrongdoings while prisoners of war.

WHAT THEY did not say, and may not realize, is that they have possible legal grounds for challenging the army's right to give them dishonorable discharges when they and 18 of their comrades refused to come home with other American prisoners after the armistice in Korea.

The military code states that a dishonorable discharge can result only from a conviction and sentence by a general court-martial. The same regulations also state that a full dress military trial cannot be held without the presence of the defendant and qualified lawyers to defend him.

THE ARMY decided that "undesirable" discharges were the worst that could be given to the 21 men who originally chose to stay with the Reds. Such discharges, which rate below honorable and general discharges but above bad conduct and dishonorable discharges, can be ordered by administrative action.

But Secretary of Defense Wilson bluntly told the army it was all tied up in its own red tape. He ordered that the men be given dishonorable discharges, saying the secretary of the army had sufficient powers to dispose of the cases that way.

THE THREE Americans were given a short briefing about their status when they reached Hong Kong. They will be fully informed of their rights when they get back to this country, especially if either civil or military action is started against them. They could demand a test of the legality of their dishonorable discharges.

There is also the undecided question of whether a man who has been formally and officially discharged from service can be returned to military jurisdiction to answer charges lodged against him for alleged acts while in uniform.

The army has given no hint as to what if any action it plans in the cases of the three now on their way home: William A. Cowart of Dalton, Ga.; Otho G. Bell of Hillsboro, Miss.; and Lewis W. Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex.

TVA Victors Pressing President

Call for Ouster Of Power Dealers

Nashville, Tenn., July 12 (AP)—Gov. Frank G. Clement and Citizens for TVA, Inc., both leaders in the victorious fight against the Dixon-Yates contract, have called on President Eisenhower to fulfill a campaign pledge to maintain the Tennessee Valley Authority at "maximum efficiency."

In statements issued yesterday, both also demanded the ouster of persons responsible for the deal.

"DIXON-YATES conspiracy has been beaten," Clement said. "Now let us hope the conspirators will be removed from public position and influence."

William L. Sturdevant Jr., executive director of the citizens group, suggested the President "get rid of the people who led him into the Dixon-Yates deal" and "inform himself of TVA's benefits not only to our region but also to the nation and the free world."

The citizens statement also said the President is "still not off the hook" as far as his campaign pledge is concerned.

"MAXIMUM efficiency is not maintained either by forcing Dixon-Yates on TVA or by forcing the municipal partners out of the system, as he is intent on doing in the case of Memphis. The course that has been forced on Memphis must not become the pattern for the whole valley."

Hotel Worker Is Struck by Auto Walking on R-209

An employe of a hotel near Ellenville, struck by an automobile about 10 p. m., yesterday, according to state police, as he walked along Route 209, was reported in "fair" condition this morning at Kingston Hospital.

He is Wenceslao Ramos, 33, of 960 Rogers place, Bronx, an employe of the Evergreen Manor Hotel on Route 209 about a mile south of Ellenville.

TROOPERS N. G. Lecakes and J. Huntoon, who investigated, reported that Mr. Ramos was going to a nearby store to pick up a newspaper when the accident occurred. He was walking south on the west side of the highway when the right front door handle of a 1952 sedan, operated by Morris W. Kaplan, 48, of 120 Gale place, Bronx, proceeding south at about 20 MPH, caught his left arm, troopers said.

HE WAS knocked to the ground, suffering a badly lacerated left arm, a laceration on the head and various bruises and contusions, according to troopers.

Mr. Ramos was rushed to the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, by the Ellenville First Aid and Rescue Squad. He was treated and later taken to Kingston Hospital.

Demand Is Made for Full Design

Delay May Occur In School Use

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee called today for an abrupt halt to all construction work on the 125-million-dollar air force academy project at Colorado Springs, Colo.

It said it wants the architectural design "more firmly established" before any more money is spent on the "West Point of the Air" formally dedicated at Denver ceremonies only yesterday.

THE ACTION was taken as the committee recommended to the House a money bill carrying more than 1½ billion dollars for a wide variety of federal activities in the bookkeeping year which started July 1.

The recommendation is subject to action by the full House, which follows the appropriations committee in such matters more often than not, and then by the companion Senate committee and the full Senate. House action is scheduled Thursday.

Not only did the committee refuse to approve 79 million dollars in new funds asked for the air force academy, but it said none of the money remaining out of 15 million dollars appropriated earlier should be used for construction work until "a further specific request . . . has been approved by the committee."

CONSTRUCTION started last spring.

The committee based its action solely on the proposed design for the academy, which has stirred criticism in Congress and elsewhere. The committee suggested that Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott consult on a design with the Fine Arts Commission, an advisory group to the government.

The committee said in a formal report to the House:

"The committee and individual members of Congress received a great deal of comment on the recently publicized preliminary designs of the academy and feel strongly that it would be most unwise to provide funds for construction until the design is more firmly established."

POSSIBLE effects of the committee's action were not immed-

Chance ILA May Join Teamsters

New York, July 12 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn., an independent union since its expulsion from the AFL two years ago, now has a chance to tie up with the AFL teamsters.

A 20-year agreement pledging close cooperation between the two unions was placed before the ILA's quadrennial convention yesterday. Longshoremen delegates are expected to decide whether to accept or reject the pact today or tomorrow.

THE AGREEMENT calls for joint organization campaigns by the two unions and "maximum cooperation" in negotiations with employers. The unions would seek to have their contract with employers expire at the same time so they could take action together without

Junk Law Enforcement Held Up

Temporary Ruling Is In Favor of Dealers

The town of Ulster has been temporarily enjoined by a decision of Justice Isadore Bookstein of the Supreme Court, from enforcing the junk and second hand dealers licensing ordinance which was adopted by the town board on April 27, 1955, and which was to become effective on June 1.

In an action commenced by Robert Abelove, Judson Haynes, Robert Barnhardt, William Urell, Frank Anderson, Arthur Tyler and Arthur Buck against the town of Ulster to test the validity of the town board adopted ordinance, Justice Bookstein says in an order granting the temporary injunction:

"SOUND DISCRETION dictates the granting of a temporary injunction, pending the determination, upon the merits, upon a trial, of the validity or invalidity of the ordinance attacked in this action.

The ultimate determination of this action, which will be heard in Supreme Court at an early date, may well determine the future action of other muncipalities in the licensing of dealers engaged in the sale of used auto parts, second hand articles and junk yards. It is believed that the legality of such regulations as adopted by the Town of Ulster has not been previously adjudicated.

ALL OF THE plaintiffs in the action, except Arthur Buck, are engaged in the used auto parts business within the town of Ulster. Arthur Buck is engaged in the junk business. It is the contention of the plaintiffs that the ordinance is discriminatory.

$30 Million for Salk Rejected

Congress Approval Of Program Awaited

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today rejected President Eisenhower's request for 30 million dollars to provide free Salk polio vaccine for the nation's needy children.

It explained in its report that it could not approve the request because the program has not yet been authorized by Congress. Authorization legislation is pending in Senate and House committees.

The committee took this action in approving a $1,648,876,126 appropriations bill to finance scores of federal activities. This was $278,909,740 less than Eisenhower asked, with the big cuts applied to requests for atomic and defense plant equipment and construction programs.

THE BILL, last scheduled to come before the committee at this session, is subject to amendment when it reaches the House on Thursday. However, the House generally accepts its appropriations committee's recommendations.

Although it turned down the request for money to finance the President's free vaccine program, the committee did approve related bids for 4½ millions to help the states operate their own polio vaccination programs, for $300,000 to help prevent a black market in polio vaccine, and for $400,000 to build cages for 800 monkeys needed by the Nation Institutes of Health (NIH) in its polio vaccine work.

In another major action, the committee ordered all work halted on the new 125-million-dollar Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

THE COMMITTEE said it wants the design "more firmly

Centralization Meetings Slated For This Week

Meetings to discuss centralization will be held in three schools in the town of Rosendale at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Meetings will be held at the Rosendale Union Free School, Creek Locks School and Maple Hill School.

Similar meetings will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, July 20, at Cottekill School and Whiteport School.

A MEMBER of the centralization committee will be on hand at each meeting to answer questions and discuss the project with parents and taxpayers. Interested persons are urged to attend. Petitions will be available for those who wish to sign, it was said. Brochures will be distributed explaining the financial planning and proposed tax schedules.

The proposed centralization embraces school districts of Marbletown, Rosendale, Rochester, Wawarsing, Accord and Hurley.

Congress Leaders Are To Be Advised on Talks

Washington, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower today promised congressional leaders frequent progress reports during the Big Four conference opening in Geneva Monday.

The President also pledged that when the conference ends the leaders will receive "an appraisal of its accomplishments."

The President made the promises to 27 Republican and Democratic Congress members at a White House meeting which lasted an hour and 45 minutes.

THE LEADERS declined to tell newsmen anything of what went on at the meeting. They said they all had agreed that the White House would issue a statement.

That statement given reporters by Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, said:

"The President invited the bipartisan leadership of the Congress to the White House so that he and the secretary of state could give the group an explanation of the general character of the discussions which the United States expects to take place at the Big Four meeting in Geneva.

"THE PRESIDENT and the secretary further discussed the attitudes in which the United States delegation will approach the meeting.

"They analyzed international developments of the past few months bearing on the matters expected to be considered at the conference.

"After this there was a full and free question and answer period.

"The leaders were assured by the President of frequent progress reports during the duration of the conference and of an appraisal of its accomplishments at its conclusion."

ASKED ABOUT the mechanics of the progress reports, Snyder said that they probably will be transmitted from Geneva to the capitol here "to the same bi-partisan leaders" who attended today's White House meeting.

Snyder added that the reports probably will be relayed to the leaders by Vice President Nixon, who sat in at the White House session.

In response to a question, Snyder said he doubts that the appraisal on "accomplishments" of the Big Four conference would be made public at the same time it is transmitted to the Congressional leaders.

Snyder was asked whether there was any discussion of a resolution introduced yesterday by Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) which would express hope the people of Soviet satellite countries will be freed from Communist domination.

"THERE WAS NO discussion of any specific legislation," Snyder replied.

Knowland, a Senate Republican leader, said in introducing the resolution that it had the full approval of the President.

This and other preparations for Geneva led both Dulles and Eisenhower to cancel their news conferences this week. They normally are held on Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

In advance of the White House session, Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he is "satisfied the President is going to Geneva with the firm backing of both parties."

CHAIRMAN George (D.-Ga.) of the committee, one of those who first suggested the summit meeting, said he feels "very hopeful that something will come out of this conference that will serve the cause of world peace."

In the House, 29 Democrats signed a letter inviting colleagues to listen to an afternoon debate on "some aspects of our foreign policy involved in the forthcoming Geneva conference," and declaring:

"We believe the President's participation in the conference is not a sign of weakness or appeasement, but a constructive opportunity to move away from the possibility of an atomic war which would destroy civilization."

BUT THIS VIEW wasn't unanimous.

Rep. Dodd (D-Conn.) protested that "there has been a studied effort to silence all in this Congress, and indeed outside of it, who express misgivings about the success of this meeting."

Rep. McCormack (Mass.), the House Democratic leader, cautioned against the "present cooing policy of the Communist leaders" and added: "While I have no objections to conferences, at the summit level or any other level, I think we should keep our guard high."

Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) told the Senate yesterday Eisenhower's decision to take part in the summit talks provided "evidence we have been bamboozled by

Forest Fires Appear to Be Under Check

By The Associated Press

An estimated 2,000 firefighters apparently were winning their battle today against forest fires that have swept 23,000 acres in Colorado, Arizona and Wyoming.

Supervisor W. M. Beveridge of Prescott National Forest, about 90 miles northwest of Phoenix, Ariz., said 700 men made more progress yesterday in fighting a 19,000-acre fire than at any time since the blaze started last Friday.

Sheppard Denied New Trial

Three-Judge Court Rules Out Error Try; Second Motion Due

Cleveland, July 12 (AP) — A three-judge Appellate Court today refused Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, 31, a new trial on the basis of error in the 10-week trial which ended Dec. 21 with his conviction for second degree murder in the bludgeon death of his wife, Marilyn, last July 4.

"The defendant in this case has been afforded a fair trial by an impartial jury, and in this court's opinion substantial justice has been done," the Appellate Court ruling said.

THE ACTION ruled groundless a contention by the osteopath's attorneys that there were 37 assignments of error in his long trial.

The three judges, Lee E. Skeel, Julius M. Kovachy and Joy Seth Hurd, indicated they would not rule until next week on a second motion by Sheppard for a new trial.

The second motion is based on defense claims of "newly discovered evidence" which centers on testimony by Dr. Paul L. Kirk, professor of criminalistics at the University of California, Berkeley, Calif.

SHOULD THE COURT of Appeals hold against Sheppard on this second and final motion, he would be removed from Cuyahoga county jail to Ohio penitentiary to begin serving a life term to which he was sentenced. Since last July 30 he has been in the county jail, and the time served has not counted toward the life sentence. Under Ohio law Sheppard will be eligible for parole consideration after serving 10 years in the penitentiary.

In their 69-page opinion, written by Judge Skeel, the Appellate Court held that Common

2,500 Enjoy Block Party at Ellenville Held as Feature of 150th Anniversary

Festivities in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the village of Ellenville began last night with a gala block party attended by an estimated 2,500 people from all over the country.

Three fine bands, supplied by the Fallsview Hotel, West End Hotel and Tamarack Lodge, all of Ellenville, played for the mammoth dance. A Mardi Gras effect was reported with streamers and confetti freely used.

Winners in the fashion parade last night were Mrs. Virginia VanKeuren of Ellenville for the most unique costume and Mrs. Marie Green of Ellenville for the prettiest costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schor of Ellenville received the nod in the foxtrot, Jane Schipp and Kurt Krastin of Kingston in the jitterbug and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Napanoch in the waltz.

Various styles of strange-looking beards, some quite fearful, made their appearance at the party. Winners in the beard contest will be announced Saturday night.

The pageant, with a cast of 300, depicting the history of the village, will be presented for the first time at 8:30 p. m. today at Kelly Field on Route 209 about a mile south of Ellenville.

The sesquecentennial committee announced this morning that about 60 per cent of available tickets to the five nightly performances of the pageant had been sold with good prospects for a full house on each occasion.

Tomorrow will be Youth Day in the village celebration with a baby contest at 2 p. m. Entry blanks may be obtained at sesquicentennial headquarters. Prizes will be awarded.

A coaster derby is scheduled for 4 p. m. tomorrow for youngsters not over 15 years of age. A marshmallow roast will follow at the Church Street School grounds.

The sesquicentennial committee has asked that former residents who desire to return to Ellenville on Homecoming Day let the committee know at the earliest possible moment in order that accommodations may be provided and other arrangements made.

Forced Road Tax Plan Seen Accepted by Administration

Motoring Commodities Would Be Hiked to Pay for New Highways

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Key House members said today they expect the Eisenhower Administration to accept, as second choice, a proposal to raise gasoline and like taxes almost a billion dollars a year to help pay for a huge road building program.

A House public works subcommittee has proposed increases in taxes on gas, diesel fuel, trucks and tires as a means of financing President Eisenhower's proposed 33-billion-dollar plan to modernize the nation's highways—particularly the interstate network — over the next 12 years.

SECRETARY of the Treasury Humphrey was called before the Public Works Committee (10 a. m. EDT) to testify on the tax plan.

Committee members interviewed in advance of Humphrey's appearance said they understood this is the administration's position:

The President still prefers his original proposal to finance the vast road building program by creating a special corporation which would sell long-term bonds. These would not be subject to the national debt limit. Such bonds would be repaid out of the proceeds of highway user taxes.

BUT IF Congress should refuse to approve the bond plan, the administration would go along with a proposal to raise tax revenues so road building would be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The Senate already has turned down Eisenhower's bond idea, adopting instead a substitute bill calling for a big increase in the present federal-aid highway program.

The administration was said to feel the first objective is to get roads built. At the same time, the President was pictured as strongly opposed to any road building plan which would not provide for self-financing, since this would increase the federal deficit.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE proposal would increase taxes on gasoline from 2 to 3 cents a gallon; on diesel fuel, used by trucks, from 2 to 6 cents a gallon; on truck tires, from 5 to 15 cents a pound; on truck tubes, from 9 to 15 cents a pound; on heavy tire retreads, from no tax now to 7½ cents per pound; on trucks, from 8 to 10 cents.

Spokesmen from the American Farm Bureau Federation truckers, airlines, bus companies, oil jobbers and other groups lined up before the committee yesterday to denounce the proposed tax hikes.

THEIR ARGUMENT generally was that the tax proposal would pile an unjust burden on a few firms, many of them already heavily taxed and financially hard pressed. They claimed this was not fair because the program would benefit the whole nation.

The Senate bill sponsored by Sen. Gore (D.-Tenn.) provided no financing feature because tax bills must originate in the House.

Otherwise it was similar to the House bill, except that it provided bigger increases for farm-to-market roads. Almost all the increased funds in the House bill would go to interstate defense highways.

Congress Leaders Are To Be Advised on Talks

Washington, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower today promised congressional leaders frequent progress reports during the Big Four conference opening in Geneva Monday.

The President also pledged that when the conference ends the leaders will receive "an appraisal of its accomplishments."

The President made the promises to 27 Republican and Democratic Congress members at a White House meeting which lasted an hour and 45 minutes.

THE LEADERS declined to tell newsmen anything of what went on at the meeting. They said they all had agreed that the White House would issue a statement.

That statement given reporters by Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary, said:

"The President invited the bipartisan leadership of the Congress to the White House so that he and the secretary of state could give the group an explanation of the general character of the discussions which the United States expects to take place at the Big Four meeting in Geneva.

"THE PRESIDENT and the secretary further discussed the attitudes in which the United States delegation will approach the meeting.

"They analyzed international developments of the past few months bearing on the matters expected to be considered at the conference.

"After this there was a full and free question and answer period.

"The leaders were assured by the President of frequent progress reports during the duration of the conference and of an appraisal of its accomplishments at its conclusion."

ASKED ABOUT the mechanics of the progress reports, Snyder said that they probably will be transmitted from Geneva to the capitol here "to the same bi-partisan leaders" who attended today's White House meeting.

Snyder added that the reports probably will be relayed to the leaders by Vice President Nixon, who sat in at the White House session.

In response to a question, Snyder said he doubts that the appraisal on "accomplishments" of the Big Four conference would be made public at the same time it is transmitted to the Congressional leaders.

Snyder was asked whether there was any discussion of a resolution introduced yesterday by Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) which would express hope the people of Soviet satellite countries will be freed from Communist domination.

"THERE WAS NO discussion of any specific legislation," Snyder replied.

Knowland, a Senate Republican leader, said in introducing the resolution that it had the full approval of the President.

This and other preparations for Geneva led both Dulles and Eisenhower to cancel their news conferences this week. They normally are held on Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively.

In advance of the White House session, Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he is "satisfied the President is going to Geneva with the firm backing of both parties."

CHAIRMAN George (D.-Ga.) of the committee, one of those who first suggested the summit meeting, said he feels "very hopeful that something will come out of this conference that will serve the cause of world peace."

In the House, 29 Democrats signed a letter inviting colleagues to listen to an afternoon debate on "some aspects of our foreign policy involved in the forthcoming Geneva conference," and declaring:

"We believe the President's participation in the conference is not a sign of weakness or appeasement, but a constructive opportunity to move away from the possibility of an atomic war which would destroy civilization."

BUT THIS VIEW wasn't unanimous.

Rep. Dodd (D-Conn.) protested that "there has been a studied effort to silence all in this Congress, and indeed outside of it, who express misgivings about the success of this meeting."

Rep. McCormack (Mass.), the House Democratic leader, cautioned against the "present cooing policy of the Communist leaders" and added: "While I have no objections to conferences, at the summit level or any other level, I think we should keep our guard high."

Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) told the Senate yesterday Eisenhower's decision to take part in the summit talks provided "evidence we have been bamboozled by

DECIDES TODAY — Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer, 54-year-old grandmother and student of the Bible, relaxes by practicing on her accordion before appearing on a television quiz program in New York tonight (July 12) when she'll make known her decision as to whether she'll take $32,000 or go on and try to win the top prize of $64,000. She won $32,000 a week ago after answering a complicated three-part question on the Disciples of Jesus. All her questions have been about the Bible. If she chooses to hear the final question tonight and fails to answer it, Mrs. Kreitzer will take home only a new automobile—and she doesn't drive. (AP Wirephoto)

Forest Fires Appear to Be Under Check

By The Associated Press

An estimated 2,000 firefighters apparently were winning their battle today against forest fires that have swept 23,000 acres in Colorado, Arizona and Wyoming.

Supervisor W. M. Beveridge of Prescott National Forest, about 90 miles northwest of Phoenix, Ariz., said 700 men made more progress yesterday in fighting a 19,000-acre fire than at any time since the blaze started last Friday.

"WE FEEL THAT the most critical spots along the perimeter of the fire have been controlled, but we want to be sure

Three-Judge Court Rules Out Error Try; Second Motion Due

Cleveland, July 12 (AP) — A three-judge Appellate Court today refused Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, 31, a new trial on the basis of error in the 10-week trial which ended Dec. 21 with his conviction for second degree murder in the bludgeon death of his wife, Marilyn, last July 4.

"The defendant in this case has been afforded a fair trial by an impartial jury, and in this court's opinion substantial justice has been done," the Appellate Court ruling said.

THE ACTION ruled groundless a contention by the osteopath's attorneys that there were 37 assignments of error in his long trial.

The three judges, Lee E. Skeel, Julius M. Kovachy and Joy Seth Hurd, indicated they would not rule until next week on a second motion by Sheppard for a new trial.

The second motion is based on defense claims of "newly discovered evidence" which centers on testimony by Dr. Paul L. Kirk, professor of criminalistics at the University of California, Berkeley, Calif.

SHOULD THE COURT of Appeals hold against Sheppard on this second and final motion, he would be removed from Cuyahoga county jail to Ohio penitentiary to begin serving a life term to which he was sentenced. Since last July 30 he has been in the county jail, and the time served has not counted toward the life sentence. Under Ohio law Sheppard will be eligible for parole consideration after serving 10 years in the penitentiary.

2,500 Enjoy Block Party at Ellenville Held as Feature of 150th Anniversary

Festivities in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the village of Ellenville began last night with a gala block party attended by an estimated 2,500 people from all over the country.

Three fine bands, supplied by the Fallsview Hotel, West End Hotel and Tamarack Lodge, all of Ellenville, played for the mammoth dance. A Mardi Gras effect was reported with streamers and confetti freely used.

Winners in the fashion parade last night were Mrs. Virginia VanKeuren of Ellenville for the most unique costume and Mrs. Marie Green of Ellenville for the prettiest costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schor of Ellenville received the nod in the foxtrot, Jane Schipp and Kurt Krastin of Kingston in the jitterbug and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones of Napanoch in the waltz.

Various styles of strange-looking beards, some quite fearful, made their appearance at the party. Winners in the beard contest will be announced Saturday night.

The pageant, with a cast of 300, depicting the history of the village, will be presented for the first time at 8:30 p. m. today at Kelly Field on Route 209 about a mile south of Ellenville.

The sesquecentennial committee announced this morning that about 60 per cent of available tickets to the five nightly performances of the pageant had been sold with good prospects for a full house on each occasion.

Tomorrow will be Youth Day in the village celebration with a baby contest at 2 p. m. Entry blanks may be obtained at sesquicentennial headquarters. Prizes will be awarded.

A coaster derby is scheduled for 4 p. m. tomorrow for youngsters not over 15 years of age. A marshmallow roast will follow at the Church Street School grounds.

The sesquicentennial committee has asked that former residents who desire to return to Ellenville on Homecoming Day let the committee know at the earliest possible moment in order that accommodations may be provided and other arrangements made.

Forced Road Tax Plan Seen Accepted by Administration

Motoring Commodities Would Be Hiked to Pay for New Highways

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Key House members said today they expect the Eisenhower Administration to accept, as second choice, a proposal to raise gasoline and like taxes almost a billion dollars a year to help pay for a huge road building program.

A House public works subcommittee has proposed increases in taxes on gas, diesel fuel, trucks and tires as a means of financing President Eisenhower's proposed 33-billion-dollar plan to modernize the nation's highways—particularly the interstate network — over the next 12 years.

SECRETARY of the Treasury Humphrey was called before the Public Works Committee (10 a. m. EDT) to testify on the tax plan.

Committee members interviewed in advance of Humphrey's appearance said they understood this is the administration's position:

The President still prefers his original proposal to finance the vast road building program by creating a special corporation which would sell long-term bonds. These would not be subject to the national debt limit. Such bonds would be repaid out of the proceeds of highway user taxes.

BUT IF Congress should refuse to approve the bond plan, the administration would go along with a proposal to raise tax revenues so road building would be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The Senate already has turned down Eisenhower's bond idea, adopting instead a substitute bill calling for a big increase in the present federal-aid highway program.

The administration was said to feel the first objective is to get roads built. At the same time, the President was pictured as strongly opposed to any road building plan which would not provide for self-financing, since this would increase the federal deficit.

THE SUBCOMMITTEE proposal would increase taxes on gasoline from 2 to 3 cents a gallon; on diesel fuel, used by trucks, from 2 to 6 cents a gallon; on truck tires, from 5 to 15 cents a pound; on truck tubes, from 9 to 15 cents a pound; on heavy tire retreads, from no tax now to 7½ cents per pound; on trucks, from 8 to 10 cents.

Spokesmen from the American Farm Bureau Federation truckers, airlines, bus companies, oil jobbers and other groups lined up before the committee yesterday to denounce the proposed tax hikes.

THEIR ARGUMENT generally was that the tax proposal would pile an unjust burden on a few firms, many of them already heavily taxed and financially hard pressed. They claimed this was not fair because the program would benefit the whole nation.

The Senate bill sponsored by Sen. Gore (D.-Tenn.) provided no financing feature because tax bills must originate in the House.

Otherwise it was similar to the House bill, except that it provided bigger increases for farm-to-market roads. Almost all the increased funds in the House bill would go to interstate defense highways.

Firemen Will Pay Respects July 13 To E. F. Flanagan

Members of Excelsior Hose Company No. 1, and exempt firemen will meet at the Jenson and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. to pay their respects to E. Frank Flanagan, who was a life member of Wiltwyck Hose Company, No. 1, of which he had served as secretary.

Mr. Flanagan also was chairman of the citizens committee, along with Senator Arthur H. Wicks, acting in an advisory capacity in making arrangements for the recent convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association which was held in Kingston last month.

Long associated with the men's clothing and furnishings business in Kingston, out of respect to Mr. Flanagan, the men's stores will remain closed Thursday morning during the time of the funeral services.

ADVENTURE UNLIMITED! — Explorer Scouts of Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council, and other sections, prepare to embark on a two-week camping trip in the wilds of Canada. The bus, operated by a new organization, Adventure Unlimited, with headquarters in Belvedere, N. J., departed this morning for Lac Landron where the "base camp" is located. Twenty boys were aboard. They will be two days enroute, stopping at points of interest on the way, and spending Monday night at Ottawa. From Ottawa they will proceed on Tuesday to the base camp located about 300 miles north of Ottawa in the Province of Quebec. The canoe trip, which will last for eight days, will follow the north branch of the Ottawa river to Pettikewan Lake, thence to Cammachigma Lake, shooting some rapids, making portages around others, circling through a number of smaller lakes into the south branch of the Ottawa river down which they paddle into Lac Landron as they return to base. The trip will be approximately 175 miles long. The boys will camp on the trail, do their own cooking, sleep in "jungle hammcks," sleeping bags or blankets, do a bit of fishing if it's good, etc. They will also visit the Canadian parliament building in Ottawa. The trip is under the direction of Homer Hicks of Belvidere, N. J., director of Adventure Unlimited, a former resident of the Kingston area, assisted by Leonard Rue of Columbia, N. J. In charge of the bus trip was Buddy Emerson, well-known horseman of Marbletown, and former leading lightweight boxer of this area. (Anner photo).

Congress . . .

established" before any more money is spent.

The group also:

1. Approved funds to help states develop plans for the evacuation of 92 potential A-bomb target areas.

2. Refused to finance construction of an atomic-powered merchant ship sought by Eisenhower to demonstrate peaceful uses of atomic energy. Here, too, the committee said specific authorization legislation has not been enacted.

3. Granted one million dollars to finance the forthcoming summit meeting of Big Four leaders and subsequent international conferences.

4. Criticized the President's farm program.

5. Turned down the administration's request for $17,000,000 to build two new prisons, one for juveniles and one for adults. It said it would consider the prison bureau's request next year.

THE BIGGEST part of the bill was an allotment of $1,395,879,000 in new cash for military construction programs, plus approval of the use of $483,612,000 through transfers from other military funds. This represented a cash cut of $77,671,000 and a reduction of $61,388,000 in transfer authority.

The committee slashed the Atomic Energy Commission's plant and equipment requests from $294,700,000 to $138,577,000. But it allowed the AEC to use 101 millions of its unobligated balances for this program. It turned down a request for $2,900,000 for a new community hospital at Oak Ridge, Tenn., but approved $50,000 to repair the existing hospital.

It deferred action on a request for 59½ millions to start construction of a new Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) building "until a more firm program can be presented." However, the committee approved three millions for plans and specifications.

Not only did the committee refuse to approve 79 millions in new funds for the Air Force Academy, but it ordered that none of the money remaining from 15 million already provided be used for construction work until the committee itself gives the go-ahead.

There has been some criticism of architectural plans for the academy. The committee said the air force should consult the Fine Arts Commission before approving any design.

For the Civil Defense Administration, the committee approved $8,650,000 of the $16,050,000 requested, making available a total of 65 millions for the agency for the present fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

THE EXTRA funds would provide for 150 new employes to make evacuation studies. Included is eight millions to help states and cities develop evacuation and related plans for 92 target areas, and to conduct research in radiation fallout problems.

The rejected atomic ship request came to $33,650,000—$12,650,000 for the Maritime Administration to build the hull and 21 millions for the AEC to supply the power plant.

The entire $300,000 requested by the Food and Drug Administration to enforce laws relating to polio vaccine was approved. The committee said this will help prevent a black market in the vaccine.

The $400,000 for monkey housing at the Bethesda, Md., Health Institutes will provide for a weekly supply of 80 monkeys for the polio testing program.

IN APPROVING funds for the summit and related international parleys, the committee said three foreign ministers meetings and five negotiating conferences are expected to grow out of the Geneva huddle which opens next Monday.

Criticism of the administration's farm policies took up a large part of the committee's report.

In approving the entire three millions in supplemental cash and 30 millions in loan authorizations for agricultural programs, the committee said it did so in the hope the administration would alter its present policies.

It said Secretary of Agriculture Benson should "recognize that reductions in the level of price support, without proper provisions for meeting increased farm costs, and reduced acreage made necessary by failure of the department to sell in world markets at competitive prices, are the factors which are creating the very conditions which they hope to correct."

Five Boys Killed In Snow Avalanche

Banff, Alta., July 12 (AP)—Four boys from Philadelphia and one from St. Louis are known dead in a snow avalanche that caught them 9,500 feet up on Mt. Temple yesterday afternoon.

Two other boys were still missing at 5 a. m. today. Two are in Banff Hospital suffering from head injuries, shock and exposure and two escaped injury.

The dead are:

Richard and James Balis, 13 year old twins of Philadelphia; William Wise, 15, of Philadelphia; William Watts, 16, of Philadelphia; Luther Seddon, 13, of St. Louis.

Still missing this morning were:

Miles Marble, 12, Philadelphia; David Chapin, 15, Philadelphia.

In Banff Hospital are Frederick Ballard, 13, and Jerry Clattenburg, 14, both of Philadelphia.

Spending Recommended

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today recommended a $2,471,745,000 construction program at army, navy and air force installations during the next 12 months. Projects for which money was proposed in a supplemental appropriation bill totaled $553,880,000 for the army, $606,479,700 for navy, and $1,311,385,000 for the air force. Many of the projects included in the money bill were authorized by Congress only yesterday with the final passage of the military public works authorization bill. Other funds are for continued work on projects previously authorized.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury, July 7, 1955: Balance, $5,303,074,485.64; deposits fiscal year July 1, $777,866,489.11; withdrawals fiscal year, $1,740,274,490.56; total debt, $274,377,891,223.91(x); gold assets, $21,678,372,517.16; (x) includes $492,317,831.80 debt not subject to statutory limit.

Girl, 2, Stolen From Crib Is Fatally Assaulted

Sioux City, Iowa, July 12 (AP)—A chubby 2-year-old girl, plucked from her crib by an apparent sex degenerate, was found raped and slain in a farm field yesterday.

Police said they were without clues in the abduction-slaying of curly-haired Donna Sue Davis, described by neighbors as "the darling of the neighborhood."

The pajama-clad daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis was lifted from her crib within minutes after her mother had tucked her in for the night Sunday.

ABOUT THIS time neighbors reported seeing a young man prowling about the Davis' modest duplex home.

The crumpled body, savagely beaten about the head, was found alongside a ditch at the edge of a cornfield on the Ernest Oehlerking farm near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri river from here.

The child's pink pajama tops were wound around her neck. Her diaper, rubber pants and pajama bottoms were picked up by Oehlerking three-fourths of a mile down the country road.

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury county coroner, said the girl was killed by a severe blow on the head and confirmed she had been sexually assaulted. She had been dead 10 to 12 hours when found, he said.

Aluminum to Offer Steelworkers Hike

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—Aluminum Co. of America, the nation's No. 1 aluminum producer, said today at opening of 1955 negotiations that a pay increase offer will be submitted to the CIO United Steelworkers "at the proper time."

R. K. Heineman, director of industrial relations and Alcoa's head negotiator, told newsmen: "Of course, we will make a wage offer to the union."

He added the corporation also will submit a wage proposal to the AFL Aluminum Workers Union slated to begin wage talks Thursday. The two unions have teamed up in precedent-setting joint bargaining strategy for their some 25,000 members employed by Alcoa.

Hopes Not Too Bright

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Rebuffed despite a special appeal to the House, administration leaders looked hopefully to the Senate today to restore deep cuts in foreign aid appropriations, But their hopes were none too bright. Some influential senators already have demanded additional cuts in the $2,638,741,750 voted by the House yesterday to finance the aid program for the current bookkeeping year which ends next June 30.

Wood Preservatives

Fence posts and other underground lumber need preservatives to prevent rot. Chlorinated phenols and zinc naphthenates penetrate pores and repel fungi. These can be painted over. Copper naphthenate and creosote also are preservatives, but tend to bleed through paint.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 12 (AP)—The stock market continued its climb ahead today with a general advance into the early afternoon.

Gains were widespread throughout the list and went to between 1 and 3 points. Some higher priced issues pushed their rise to around 6 points. Losses usually were quite small and rather infrequent.

TRADING was at a good pace and maintained a rate around 2,500,000 shares for the day. Yesterday's total was 2,420,000 shares with the market higher.

Most of the trading attention was spotlighted on the steels, motors, and railroads as a group, but there were several individual issues acting well in oils, utilities, and coppers.

Ordered to Trial

Panama, July 12 (AP)—Ruben Miro, a socially prominent lawyer, and six other persons last night were formally ordered to trial for the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon. Miro confessed that he killed Remon with a burst of machine-gun fire last Jan. 20. Vice President Jose Ramon Guizado, who succeeded to the presidency a few hours after Remon was killed, now is serving a term of six years and eight months as an accessory in the slaying.

ADVENTURE UNLIMITED! — Explorer Scouts of Rip Van Winkle Boy Scout Council, and other sections, prepare to embark on a two-week camping trip in the wilds of Canada. The bus, operated by a new organization, Adventure Unlimited, with headquarters in Belvedere, N. J., departed this morning for Lac Landron where the "base camp" is located. Twenty boys were aboard. They will be two days enroute, stopping at points of interest on the way, and spending Monday night at Ottawa. From Ottawa they will proceed on Tuesday to the base camp located about 300 miles north of Ottawa in the Province of Quebec. The canoe trip, which will last for eight days, will follow the north branch of the Ottawa river to Pettikewan Lake, thence to Cammachigma Lake, shooting some rapids, making portages around others, circling through a number of smaller lakes into the south branch of the Ottawa river down which they paddle into Lac Landron as they return to base. The trip will be approximately 175 miles long. The boys will camp on the trail, do their own cooking, sleep in "jungle hammcks," sleeping bags or blankets, do a bit of fishing if it's good, etc. They will also visit the Canadian parliament building in Ottawa. The trip is under the direction of Homer Hicks of Belvidere, N. J., director of Adventure Unlimited, a former resident of the Kingston area, assisted by Leonard Rue of Columbia, N. J. In charge of the bus trip was Buddy Emerson, well-known horseman of Marbletown, and former leading lightweight boxer of this area. (Anner photo).

Congress . . .

established" before any more money is spent.

The group also:

1. Approved funds to help states develop plans for the evacuation of 92 potential A-bomb target areas.

2. Refused to finance construction of an atomic-powered merchant ship sought by Eisenhower to demonstrate peaceful uses of atomic energy. Here, too, the committee said specific authorization legislation has not been enacted.

3. Granted one million dollars to finance the forthcoming summit meeting of Big Four leaders and subsequent international conferences.

4. Criticized the President's farm program.

5. Turned down the administration's request for $17,000,000 to build two new prisons, one for juveniles and one for adults. It said it would consider the prison bureau's request next year.

THE BIGGEST part of the bill was an allotment of $1,395,879,000 in new cash for military construction programs, plus approval of the use of $483,612,000 through transfers from other military funds. This represented a cash cut of $77,671,000 and a reduction of $61,388,000 in transfer authority.

The committee slashed the Atomic Energy Commission's plant and equipment requests from $294,700,000 to $138,577,000. But it allowed the AEC to use 101 millions of its unobligated balances for this program. It turned down a request for $2,900,000 for a new community hospital at Oak Ridge, Tenn., but approved $50,000 to repair the existing hospital.

It deferred action on a request for 59½ millions to start construction of a new Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) building "until a more firm program can be presented." However, the committee approved three millions for plans and specifications.

Not only did the committee refuse to approve 79 millions in new funds for the Air Force Academy, but it ordered that none of the money remaining from 15 million already provided be used for construction work until the committee itself gives the go-ahead.

There has been some criticism of architectural plans for the academy. The committee said the air force should consult the Fine Arts Commission before approving any design.

For the Civil Defense Administration, the committee approved $8,650,000 of the $16,050,000 requested, making available a total of 65 millions for the agency for the present fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

THE EXTRA funds would provide for 150 new employes to make evacuation studies. Included is eight millions to help states and cities develop evacuation and related plans for 92 target areas, and to conduct research in radiation fallout problems.

The rejected atomic ship request came to $33,650,000—$12,650,000 for the Maritime Administration to build the hull and 21 millions for the AEC to supply the power plant.

The entire $300,000 requested by the Food and Drug Administration to enforce laws relating to polio vaccine was approved. The committee said this will help prevent a black market in the vaccine.

The $400,000 for monkey housing at the Bethesda, Md., Health Institutes will provide for a weekly supply of 80 monkeys for the polio testing program.

IN APPROVING funds for the summit and related international parleys, the committee said three foreign ministers meetings and five negotiating conferences are expected to grow out of the Geneva huddle which opens next Monday.

Criticism of the administration's farm policies took up a large part of the committee's report.

In approving the entire three millions in supplemental cash and 30 millions in loan authorizations for agricultural programs, the committee said it did so in the hope the administration would alter its present policies.

It said Secretary of Agriculture Benson should "recognize that reductions in the level of price support, without proper provisions for meeting increased farm costs, and reduced acreage made necessary by failure of the department to sell in world markets at competitive prices, are the factors which are creating the very conditions which they hope to correct."

Five Boys Killed In Snow Avalanche

Banff, Alta., July 12 (AP)—Four boys from Philadelphia and one from St. Louis are known dead in a snow avalanche that caught them 9,500 feet up on Mt. Temple yesterday afternoon.

Two other boys were still missing at 5 a. m. today. Two are in Banff Hospital suffering from head injuries, shock and exposure and two escaped injury.

The dead are:

Richard and James Balis, 13 year old twins of Philadelphia; William Wise, 15, of Philadelphia; William Watts, 16, of Philadelphia; Luther Seddon, 13, of St. Louis.

Still missing this morning were:

Miles Marble, 12, Philadelphia; David Chapin, 15, Philadelphia.

In Banff Hospital are Frederick Ballard, 13, and Jerry Clattenburg, 14, both of Philadelphia.

Spending Recommended

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today recommended a $2,471,745,000 construction program at army, navy and air force installations during the next 12 months. Projects for which money was proposed in a supplemental appropriation bill totaled $553,880,000 for the army, $606,479,700 for navy, and $1,311,385,000 for the air force. Many of the projects included in the money bill were authorized by Congress only yesterday with the final passage of the military public works authorization bill. Other funds are for continued work on projects previously authorized.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The cash position of the treasury, July 7, 1955: Balance, $5,303,074,485.64; deposits fiscal year July 1, $777,866,489.11; withdrawals fiscal year, $1,740,274,490.56; total debt, $274,377,891,223.91(x); gold assets, $21,678,372,517.16; (x) includes $492,317,831.80 debt not subject to statutory limit.

Girl, 2, Stolen From Crib Is Fatally Assaulted

Sioux City, Iowa, July 12 (AP)—A chubby 2-year-old girl, plucked from her crib by an apparent sex degenerate, was found raped and slain in a farm field yesterday.

Police said they were without clues in the abduction-slaying of curly-haired Donna Sue Davis, described by neighbors as "the darling of the neighborhood."

The pajama-clad daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis was lifted from her crib within minutes after her mother had tucked her in for the night Sunday.

ABOUT THIS time neighbors reported seeing a young man prowling about the Davis' modest duplex home.

The crumpled body, savagely beaten about the head, was found alongside a ditch at the edge of a cornfield on the Ernest Oehlerking farm near South Sioux City, Neb., just across the Missouri river from here.

The child's pink pajama tops were wound around her neck. Her diaper, rubber pants and pajama bottoms were picked up by Oehlerking three-fourths of a mile down the country road.

Dr. Thomas L. Coriden, Woodbury county coroner, said the girl was killed by a severe blow on the head and confirmed she had been sexually assaulted. She had been dead 10 to 12 hours when found, he said.

Aluminum to Offer Steelworkers Hike

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—Aluminum Co. of America, the nation's No. 1 aluminum producer, said today at opening of 1955 negotiations that a pay increase offer will be submitted to the CIO United Steelworkers "at the proper time."

R. K. Heineman, director of industrial relations and Alcoa's head negotiator, told newsmen: "Of course, we will make a wage offer to the union."

He added the corporation also will submit a wage proposal to the AFL Aluminum Workers Union slated to begin wage talks Thursday. The two unions have teamed up in precedent-setting joint bargaining strategy for their some 25,000 members employed by Alcoa.

Hopes Not Too Bright

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Rebuffed despite a special appeal to the House, administration leaders looked hopefully to the Senate today to restore deep cuts in foreign aid appropriations, But their hopes were none too bright. Some influential senators already have demanded additional cuts in the $2,638,741,750 voted by the House yesterday to finance the aid program for the current bookkeeping year which ends next June 30.

Wood Preservatives

Fence posts and other underground lumber need preservatives to prevent rot. Chlorinated phenols and zinc naphthenates penetrate pores and repel fungi. These can be painted over. Copper naphthenate and creosote also are preservatives, but tend to bleed through paint.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 12 (AP)—The stock market continued its climb ahead today with a general advance into the early afternoon.

Gains were widespread throughout the list and went to between 1 and 3 points. Some higher priced issues pushed their rise to around 6 points. Losses usually were quite small and rather infrequent.

TRADING was at a good pace and maintained a rate around 2,500,000 shares for the day. Yesterday's total was 2,420,000 shares with the market higher.

Most of the trading attention was spotlighted on the steels, motors, and railroads as a group, but there were several individual issues acting well in oils, utilities, and coppers.

Ordered to Trial

Panama, July 12 (AP)—Ruben Miro, a socially prominent lawyer, and six other persons last night were formally ordered to trial for the assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon. Miro confessed that he killed Remon with a burst of machine-gun fire last Jan. 20. Vice President Jose Ramon Guizado, who succeeded to the presidency a few hours after Remon was killed, now is serving a term of six years and eight months as an accessory in the slaying.

VACATION JAM

The way summer travel is shaping up, vacations soon may have to be scheduled on a year-round basis. There just won't be space enough on trains, planes, ships and roads to handle the hordes of American summer tourists.

New ships are being built by lines to handle the anticipated increase in volume of summer tourists. Airlines are seeking ways of expanding their capacities to handle the growing crowds. One airline alone anticipates a $7,000,000 business this year as the result of its travel-now-and-pay-later plan, which did business of $4,000,000 volume under this program last year.

Not only are more Americans traveling. They are going to many places which seldom drew tourists in the past. This trend may be attributable to World War II, when many GI's saw and fell in love with remote islands they wanted to revisit. In part, it can also be laid to the desire to get away from it all—all being the thousands of other tourists.

Foreign travel is being boosted in all quarters. Travel companies want to see it keep expanding. Foreign governments like the increased business it brings. The American government likes it as a new source of foreign aid.

The only ones who do not like it are those vacationers who want to avoid crowds and tour leisurely. But whenever people go, they enjoy it and build up happy memories.

LIFE IS PRECARIOUS

If you don't think this mechanized civilization of ours functions on a slender margin of safety, listen to this:

An elderly woman baby sitter parked her car on a slope in a suburb of New York City. Either she didn't put the brake on firmly, or some youngsters playing around her car released it.

Some time later, driverless, it rolled downhill, crashed through a barrier and dropped several feet to the tracks of an electrically powered railroad line. The impact bent the tracks.

Rush hour trains pouring out of the city were backed up for miles. Harassed commuters on trains anywhere near stations piled off and ran to telephone their wives. The wives got into their cars and headed for convenient pickup points along the rail line.

Soon traffic around these suburban centers was clogged for blocks with honking, steaming vehicles. Wives, so near and yet so far, fretted and stewed. Impatient husbands stomped up and down station platforms.

It's just that extra notch on the emergency brake that holds this thing together, folks. So if you want to keep the country orderly, the train running, traffic flowing, and tempers smoothed at home and at work, fasten that lever well. Otherwise we"ll all wind up beating a wild tom-tom in the urban jungles.

An eclipse of the sun in Ceylon had the attention of a great many scientists but only a team from Harvard reported satisfactory viewing conditions. Harvard grads will probably not be too tough to live with about this, however, as they used to be on the rare occasions when their eleven beat Yale.

NEWSPAPER TOPS LIST

Alfred G. Peterson, who is president of the National Savings and Loan League, has this to say about advertising: "I feel that advertising is a very profitable investment. But we should not buy advertising blindly. We should give careful consideration both to the appeals and the media we use.

'The medium which tops the list is the medium that reaches the greatest number of people at the lowest cost. It is my opinion the newspaper is that medium. I place the newspaper at the top of the list because it reaches the local market. All of us are really conducting local businesses. We may be bound together into a national industry, but our spheres of influence are entirely local.

'The newspaper reaches precisely the people we want to reach."

Well spoken, Mr. Peterson!

A PECULIAR DEFINITION

In a statement of principles regarding American immigration and naturalization policies, the National Community Relations Advisory Council states:

"Immigration laws crystalize and express a society's basic human values . . ."

They do nothing of the sort. They only state specifically how many and what kind of immigrants a country will admit and by what procedures. Such a law has nothing to do with human values, a term lightly used without definition. When the United States was short of population, particularly of men who could do heavy labor, it imported large numbers of peasants from Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Italy and other Eastern and Southern European countries. Agents were sent into those countries by steel mills and road contractors to induct physically powerful men to emigrate to the United States. In an earlier period, Chinese coolies were shanghaied for work on our Western railroads at so much per head.

Today most of the work that those men did is done by machines and they are no longer essential. Were they essential, it would be sound to import them.

The N.C.R.A.C statement says further:

". . . Such (immigration) laws affirm the degre of our acceptance or rejection of the essential equality of all human beings.

The premise for such an assumption is that equality of "all human beings" is demonstrated by admitting them into the United States for permanent residence and for labor here. This pre-supposes that the 3,000,000 square miles of American territory can supply an indefinite number of human being on the American standard of living. There is no data to confirm this at the present time. In fact, there is some concern among students of food supply on the subject.

Most of Great Britain's economic and political difficulties, for instance, arise from the fact that they can only feed 15,000,000 persons, while they have a population of 50,000,000. This means that they have to find the money in exchangeable currency (at present, principally dollars) to meet the cost of their imports of food, to say nothing of raw materials for their manufactures. The United States ought never to find itself in such a condition. Therefore its increase in population needs to be studied in relation to its food supply. None of this has anything to do with "our professed ideals," except the ideal of maintaining the American standard of living and improving it, if possible.

The trouble with those who advocate changes in our immigration law is that they do not face the facts squarely. Such a sentence as, "Xenophobia has no place in a vigorous and confident democracy," adds nothing to our knowledge of the subject or wisdom in dealing with it.

Objection is particularly made to the National Origins Quota System which was adopted in 1924 and has been employed since, permitting a total of 150,000 immigrants a year to enter the United States. Except for the countries of the Western Hemisphere, a specific quota is set for each country each year, on the basis of the 1920 census of the total white population of the United States.

It so works out that about 70 per cent of the visas available each year go to countries of Northern and Western Europe. The countries of Eastern and Southern Europe and of Asia would like to send more immigrants to the United States, because they are over-populated.

The question has nothing to do with race, religion or local habitat. It has to do with the assimilability of immigrants. Those who voted for such a law believe that the peoples of Northern and Western Europe are more rapidly assimilated into the American culture than those people who come from other parts of the world. They make the point that ours is an Anglo-Saxon culture, basically identical with that of Great Britain, and close to the cultures of the Scandinavian and the Teutonic countries.

Those who do not believe that ours is an Anglo-Saxon culture raise the issue of racial discrimination and prefer to fight it out on those terms. If they can establish that other groups are as assimilable in the American culture as the favored groups, then they will have destroyed the argument for the National Origins Quota System. But then they need to propose some other form of limitation, as obviously the United States cannot physically admit all who want to come here.

That Body of Yours

CONTACT DERMATITIS

A fairly common skin ailment which affects various parts of the body is known as contact dermatitis. The name comes from "derma," meaning skin and "itis," meaning inflammation. The "contact" part of the name means that the inflammation is caused by the skin coming into repeated contact with some substance to which it is sensitive or allergic. One contact with the harmful substance does not usually cause any symptoms, it is the repeated contact that makes the trouble.

For example, in investigating poison ivy dermatitis it has been shown that the application of poison ivy extract to the skin of a normal infant produces no harmful reaction but if the application is repeated in a week or two, symptoms will result. These symptoms are redness of the skin in spots of varying size and place followed by the rising of small blister-like sacs containing fluid.

Many different materials have been found to be capable of causing these eruptions and we can help find out what they are by considering just where the dermatitis appears. For example, an eruption about the eyelids suggests eye makeup as the cause; around the wrist it may be a watchband; on the leg it may be due to some substance in the stockings or socks worn; if on the hands it may be something encountered in one's occupation — a soap or a chemical. Usually it is just the part of the skin that comes in contact with the offending substance which becomes sensitive; but sometimes the sensitiveness spreads over the entire surface.

There is always an incubation period from the time of first contact until the development of the dermatitis which averages 6 to 10 days but may be much longer. There is usually a further period of time, 12 to 48 hours, after the skin has become sensitized before the first symptoms appear.

Another group of persons who have a similar condition without contact with the offending substances are those who react on exposure to heat, cold or sunlight. There is a further group who react to just the smell of a certain substance to which they are sensitive. This was shown in the case of a restaurant worker who had symptoms only on the days when shrimp was served, although he had no direct contact with it himself. Such cases as this are difficult to identify.

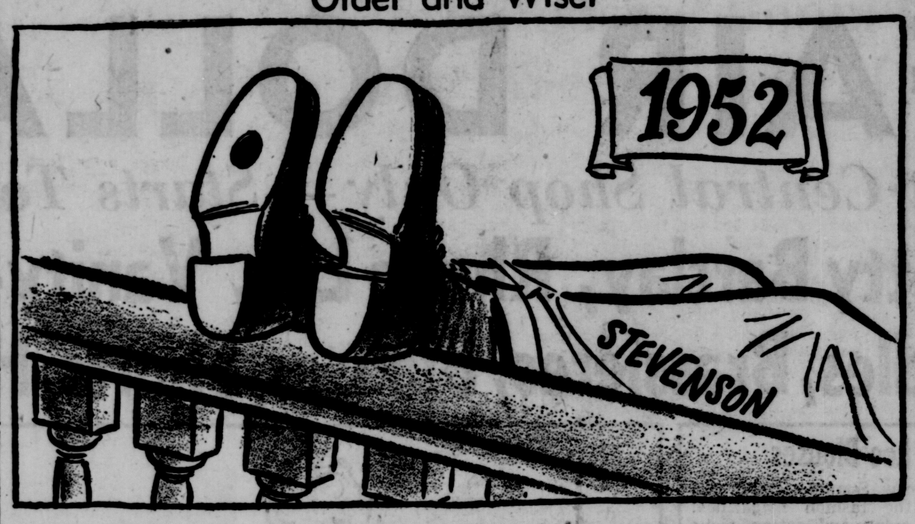

The thing to remember is that when we have a skin condition with little sacs containing fluid appearing on just certain areas of the skin, we should suspect that it is being caused by something with which we are in contact at that particular area. Once the cause is known, it should be a relatively easy thing to avoid it in the future.

Allergy

Being allergic or sensitive to various substances is a common condition. Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The record of the first session, 84th Congress, on President Eisenhower's legislative program, still has to be made.

All the boasting by Senate Democratic leaders on their accomplishments so far can't conceal this fact.

And President Eisenhower's listing of the 14 top proposals on which he wants more action this session tells only half the story of what hasn't been accomplished.

Congress just began to roll in June. In the first four months of the session, only 28 acts were passed and signed into law by the President. Twenty more were signed in May for a total of 48.

BUT 52 NEW LAWS were signed by the President in June to bring the total for the session to an even 100. The rate for July will be even faster.

There is a 50-50 chance the session will run through the first half of August. In the final weeks bills will be raining down faster than you can keep track of them. That's the way it always has been and probably always will be.

President Eisenhower's 14 measures on which he wants action aren't exactly a "must" list. Legislative proposals now before Congress won't die with the end of this first session. They'll carry over for action next year.

This has been one of the factors influencing a slowdown this session. There has been plenty of evidence in both parties of a desire to wait and make a record in 1956, an election year.

There has also been evidence of foot dragging on the part of congressmen who aren't overly enthusiastic about some parts of the Eisenhower program.

THE PRESIDENT'S health reinsurance plan is getting no place and probably won't. It was first presented to the 83rd Congress and cold shouldered, then as now.

The same thing has happened to the President's proposal for amendments to the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Neither party is showing any great fondness for the administration's power-partnership policy. This applies to the Cougar and John Day projects in the Northwest, in particular. They have been taken out of the public works bill, which covers 100 per cent federally financed projects.

The President would like to get Cougar and John Day authorized on the basis of having state and local interests share construction and operating costs. The idea is that if just a couple of these partnership power projects could be started, they would set a pattern for more.

There is even some evidence that congressional majorities have deliberately gone out of their way this session to sabotage the President's program.

Neither the President nor the congressional leaders went into this phase of the situation in their recent exchange of compliments on legislative achievements or lack of them.

THE HOUSE DEMOCRAT'S plan to put over a $20 individual income tax cut for everyone is a prime example. It would have cut government revenues by two billion dollars a year, or more.

The Senate-led crusade against the President's bond issue plan for highway construction financing, if successful, will increase federal government's direct expenditures for new roads by an estimated 1.7 billion dollars a year.

The House Democrats' plan to increase social security benefits for the aged is another move in the same direction. It would cost only hundreds of millions a year, instead of billions, but the effect would be the same.

All three of these measures would throw the budget further out of balance, increase the public debt and so make the Republican fiscal record look bad.

Perhaps the most effective wrecking of the President's program has been done on the military reserves plan — which the President considers vital — and the aid to education and school construction bills.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N. Y.) was encouraged to introduce antisegregation amendments for both proposals. These amendments made the legislation unacceptable to Southern Democrats and action was effectively blocked.

'Mutual Trust' Is Key For Geneva Conference

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 11 — President Eisenhower said the other day that the kind of peace "that will allow people to be really tranquil and confident in their daily pursuits" will be achieved only when nations have achieved "mutual trust."

It's no state secret. That's the core of the problem at the Big Four conference to be held next week at Geneva. How, therefore, does any nation, any government, any head of a state set about to "achieve mutual trust"?

THE ANSWER is to be found in applying the dilemma to the affairs of individual human beings. For, in their relations, they do not differ materially from those of nations.

If an individual has repeatedly violated his word, if he has broken contract after contract, if he has schemed behind his partner's back to undermine him, if he has entered an association designed for specific objects and then has deliberately plotted against all the other members of that association, what can such a person do to regain the trust and confidence of his neighbors and his fellow men?

Usually an individual who commits a crime confesses it and repents. He tells why he has done wrong and asks the rest of the community to forgive him and restore to him a place in the esteem of his fellow citizens.

CAN GOVERNMENT ever admit they were wrong? Can they repent of their sins? Isn't that difficult, it will be asked, for them to do if they have pride? The oft-used expression of diplomacy "saving face"—is invoked and it is usually suggested that some method of glossing over the wrongdoing be accepted as a substitute. Hence public confession by a government is politically difficut even in a totatlitarian country.

An alternative method would be performance—actual deeds that show retribution. This could be accomplished by undoing the wrongs which the Soviet Union has committed since 1945.

Thus the Moscow government pledged itself to permit free elections in Poland and Czechoslovakia and in the other satellite countries. It was a pledge given first in the Atlantic Charter signed by Stalin.

FREE ELECTIONS everywhere would solve the East German problem, too, and permit German reunification.

Another step would be to release all the prisoners of war the Soviets have retained in their custody since 1945. There is not the semblance of right behind those acts and it would be a sign of regeneration if the captives were allowed to go to their respective countries.

Then there are the prisoners held by Red China in violation of the Panmunjom armistice agreement. If they were given their freedom, the world would understand that a new era had arisen and that sincere efforts were being made to establish "mutual trust."

RED CHINA, too, should permit free elections uncoerced by military force. There would be no question of admission to the Security Council of the UN for a representative of a unified China if the Chinese on Formosa and the Chinese on the mainland could pick their own Parliament and their own rulers, and if the new China government were to achieve and practice complete independence of the Moscow yoke.

Another step would be the unification of Korea. This can be achieved if the Communists would permit the United Nations to hold free elections so that a new government might emerge to govern all of Korea as a country independent of Red Chinese or Soviet coercion.

The key to "mutual trust" is to be found in free elections everywhere so that the people can rule. There would be no fear of war if dictatorships were not in power in countries that have the military might and the resources to menace the peace of the world.

All this will seem difficult to accomplish but only because evil men do not choose to reform or repent. Maybe that's because they no longer believe in God, and worship instead the false gods of their own fallacious authority. Men who have learned to surrender to the will and guidance of a Supreme Being have not been troubled about "saving face" and admitting wrong.

IF THE SOVIET rulers mean to win trust and to be themselves trustful they have only to undo the many things they have done since 1945 which have brought on the "cold war." Then, indeed, will a conference of the heads of states mean something. If there's no "mutual trust" only an uneasy truce can ensue — a postponement of the crisis until the aggressor feels strong enough to start a war. Meantime, spiritual power and moral force mobilized by free peoples can seek to reach the oppressed peoples and encourage them to get rid of their evil rulers—it may be the only way to prevent a catastrophe from happening.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, July 11—For years a mysterious verboten has prevented presentation of any moving-picture showing the alliance of the movie industry with the Capone mob, or syndicate. To be sure, Capone has died, victim of a miscarriage of justice in the federal jurisprudence which gave him eleven years in prison, most of it in the torture-chambers of Alcatraz, for failure to pay a debt. Capone was already gone during the worst phase of the collaboration of the mighty magnates of the movies with Willie Bioff, George Browne and other remnants and heirs of the syndicate. The proof was recorded in the federal courts, which were literally goaded into action not by the Roosevelt regime, however, which was Hollywood's eager accomplice, but by journalistic initiative.

The industry has taken a sanctimonious resolve never to "glorify" any noted gangster. The purpose here is to hide its own guilt in a corruption as foul as any other in our history. The implication is that any portrayal of Capone would put evil ideas into the heads of precocious young murderers of the city streets and country by-ways who have even learned to make their own deadly firearms with little pieces of wood, little lengths of pipe and rubber bands. The more important fact—that a truthful film would expose the social and moral equality of Bioff and Browne with eminent arbiters of our entertainment and thus, of our morals—is purely incidental and unimportant.

Bioff and Browne were agents of the Capone syndicate. Although they were racketeers, and Bioff throughout his Hollywood career had a six months' term hanging over him for running a house of prostitution in Chicago, they were of the social elite of Hollywood. There was little to choose between them and the giants of the trade who bribed them but later cried "extortion." Bioff and Browne were selling out the workers by deals under the table with these familiars of the White House who, in one instance, loaned $50,000 to Jimmy Roosevelt and, in another, hired him for latent talents at $35,000 a year.

Most of the convicted gangsters got off with little punishment thanks to members of the Pendergast-Truman machine in Missouri who persuaded political powers to discount their terms. Nicolo Dean was deported recently and flew to Buenos Aires in time for the revolution. Willie Bioff is in action in public housing promotions in Phoenix under the name of Nelson, which he sometimes used in the old days. Bioff and Browne were treated as guests of the federal prison system, by contrast, incidentally, with the cruel and unusual punishment of the patriotic and heroic flying Finn twins.

The "rule" of the industry excluding gangster movies is elastic.

Any scenario tending to discredit the industry itself, as distinguished from personal errors of pretty women and handsome males, is "immoral." But the late Mark Hellinger, a Broadway columnist, intimate with the mob on Broadway during prohibition, made one of those "great human documents" about the streets of New York in which the principal item of cost was $10,000 worth of blank cartridges. It probably did not turn any childish feet from the downward path. On the other hand, any murderous young bum who went to the chair after watching this opus was just a child of destiny.

Last year, an actor named Marlon Brando was the "star" of one of those shadow-effects called "On the Waterfront," which seemed to me to be a summary of a great many routine crime stories by newspaper reporters. Malcolm Johnson, late of the late Evening Sun, had done the latest and best of the lot in cooperation with Bill Keating, then of the district attorney's office, who recently got five days in jail for refusing to double-cross an informant and so violate his honor in the wiretapping case. Johnson worked hard and turned in a proven case in a daily series which won him passing recognition but not much else. I, too, had worked fitfully on this waterfront for some years and that "Waterfront" to me was reminiscent of my own research.

For climax, Brando got an object called an "Oscar," a little statue signifying nothing but the approval of a group of employes of publications having neither official status nor special qualifications. I have now noted that there is discontent with these awards by this authority and a demand for resort to some form of popular vote.

Recently, Senator Kefauver, of Tennessee, has been making cheesecake moralistic publicity in Hollywood and I dare say he will concur with the industry's holy resolve to protect the public from reminders of Hollywood's own complicity in a sordid phase of our history and culture. Kefauver is a Democrat; Hollywood is democratic and communistic and the Roosevelt regime, which fertilized this degrading influence, was the patron, protector, accomplice and partner of the whole business.

Eight years ago, I joyously panicked the industry with a script called "The Capone Story." I was serious enough, but other matters diverted me, so I did not persevere. But, recently, Ben Hecht bethought himself of this theme and, after study, concluded that the scenario was sure-fire. So Hecht, Gene Fowler and I are going through with it in the autumn and, friends, you are about to see high-octane commotion with sound effects as the Hollywood lobby rallies its ballyhoo to deplore this sordid exploitation of the most resounding name in our criminal history since Jesse James.

It is my hope to hire the culprit magnates to impersonate themselves, but Hecht and Fowler think they will go bashful and refuse. Well, maybe so, but I am sure I can get Willie and George.

Assembly Ratifies Treaty

Paris, July 12 (AP)—The French National Assembly ratified the Austrian independence treaty today by a unanimous vote. No opposition was voiced in the brief debate. The treaty now goes to the Senate. The United States, the Soviet Union and Austria have completed action on the treaty and deposited their documents of ratification in Moscow. Britain's Parliament also has approved the treaty but has not yet sent its ratification to the Soviet capital.

VACATION JAM

The way summer travel is shaping up, vacations soon may have to be scheduled on a year-round basis. There just won't be space enough on trains, planes, ships and roads to handle the hordes of American summer tourists.

New ships are being built by lines to handle the anticipated increase in volume of summer tourists. Airlines are seeking ways of expanding their capacities to handle the growing crowds. One airline alone anticipates a $7,000,000 business this year as the result of its travel-now-and-pay-later plan, which did business of $4,000,000 volume under this program last year.

Not only are more Americans traveling. They are going to many places which seldom drew tourists in the past. This trend may be attributable to World War II, when many GI's saw and fell in love with remote islands they wanted to revisit. In part, it can also be laid to the desire to get away from it all—all being the thousands of other tourists.

Foreign travel is being boosted in all quarters. Travel companies want to see it keep expanding. Foreign governments like the increased business it brings. The American government likes it as a new source of foreign aid.

The only ones who do not like it are those vacationers who want to avoid crowds and tour leisurely. But whenever people go, they enjoy it and build up happy memories.

LIFE IS PRECARIOUS

If you don't think this mechanized civilization of ours functions on a slender margin of safety, listen to this:

An elderly woman baby sitter parked her car on a slope in a suburb of New York City. Either she didn't put the brake on firmly, or some youngsters playing around her car released it.

Some time later, driverless, it rolled downhill, crashed through a barrier and dropped several feet to the tracks of an electrically powered railroad line. The impact bent the tracks.

Rush hour trains pouring out of the city were backed up for miles. Harassed commuters on trains anywhere near stations piled off and ran to telephone their wives. The wives got into their cars and headed for convenient pickup points along the rail line.

Soon traffic around these suburban centers was clogged for blocks with honking, steaming vehicles. Wives, so near and yet so far, fretted and stewed. Impatient husbands stomped up and down station platforms.

It's just that extra notch on the emergency brake that holds this thing together, folks. So if you want to keep the country orderly, the train running, traffic flowing, and tempers smoothed at home and at work, fasten that lever well. Otherwise we"ll all wind up beating a wild tom-tom in the urban jungles.

An eclipse of the sun in Ceylon had the attention of a great many scientists but only a team from Harvard reported satisfactory viewing conditions. Harvard grads will probably not be too tough to live with about this, however, as they used to be on the rare occasions when their eleven beat Yale.

NEWSPAPER TOPS LIST

Alfred G. Peterson, who is president of the National Savings and Loan League, has this to say about advertising: "I feel that advertising is a very profitable investment. But we should not buy advertising blindly. We should give careful consideration both to the appeals and the media we use.

'The medium which tops the list is the medium that reaches the greatest number of people at the lowest cost. It is my opinion the newspaper is that medium. I place the newspaper at the top of the list because it reaches the local market. All of us are really conducting local businesses. We may be bound together into a national industry, but our spheres of influence are entirely local.

'The newspaper reaches precisely the people we want to reach."

Well spoken, Mr. Peterson!

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

A PECULIAR DEFINITION

In a statement of principles regarding American immigration and naturalization policies, the National Community Relations Advisory Council states:

"Immigration laws crystalize and express a society's basic human values . . ."

They do nothing of the sort. They only state specifically how many and what kind of immigrants a country will admit and by what procedures. Such a law has nothing to do with human values, a term lightly used without definition. When the United States was short of population, particularly of men who could do heavy labor, it imported large numbers of peasants from Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Italy and other Eastern and Southern European countries. Agents were sent into those countries by steel mills and road contractors to induct physically powerful men to emigrate to the United States. In an earlier period, Chinese coolies were shanghaied for work on our Western railroads at so much per head.

Today most of the work that those men did is done by machines and they are no longer essential. Were they essential, it would be sound to import them.

The N.C.R.A.C statement says further:

". . . Such (immigration) laws affirm the degree of our acceptance or rejection of the essential equality of all human beings.

The premise for such an assumption is that equality of "all human beings" is demonstrated by admitting them into the United States for permanent residence and for labor here. This pre-supposes that the 3,000,000 square miles of American territory can supply an indefinite number of human being on the American standard of living. There is no data to confirm this at the present time. In fact, there is some concern among students of food supply on the subject.

Most of Great Britain's economic and political difficulties, for instance, arise from the fact that they can only feed 15,000,000 persons, while they have a population of 50,000,000. This means that they have to find the money in exchangeable currency (at present, principally dollars) to meet the cost of their imports of food, to say nothing of raw materials for their manufactures. The United States ought never to find itself in such a condition. Therefore its increase in population needs to be studied in relation to its food supply. None of this has anything to do with "our professed ideals," except the ideal of maintaining the American standard of living and improving it, if possible.

The trouble with those who advocate changes in our immigration law is that they do not face the facts squarely. Such a sentence as, "Xenophobia has no place in a vigorous and confident democracy," adds nothing to our knowledge of the subject or wisdom in dealing with it.

Objection is particularly made to the National Origins Quota System which was adopted in 1924 and has been employed since, permitting a total of 150,000 immigrants a year to enter the United States. Except for the countries of the Western Hemisphere, a specific quota is set for each country each year, on the basis of the 1920 census of the total white population of the United States.

It so works out that about 70 per cent of the visas available each year go to countries of Northern and Western Europe. The countries of Eastern and Southern Europe and of Asia would like to send more immigrants to the United States, because they are over-populated.

The question has nothing to do with race, religion or local habitat. It has to do with the assimilability of immigrants. Those who voted for such a law believe that the peoples of Northern and Western Europe are more rapidly assimilated into the American culture than those people who come from other parts of the world. They make the point that ours is an Anglo-Saxon culture, basically identical with that of Great Britain, and close to the cultures of the Scandinavian and the Teutonic countries.

Those who do not believe that ours is an Anglo-Saxon culture raise the issue of racial discrimination and prefer to fight it out on those terms. If they can establish that other groups are as assimilable in the American culture as the favored groups, then they will have destroyed the argument for the National Origins Quota System. But then they need to propose some other form of limitation, as obviously the United States cannot physically admit all who want to come here.

That Body of Yours

CONTACT DERMATITIS

A fairly common skin ailment which affects various parts of the body is known as contact dermatitis. The name comes from "derma," meaning skin and "itis," meaning inflammation. The "contact" part of the name means that the inflammation is caused by the skin coming into repeated contact with some substance to which it is sensitive or allergic. One contact with the harmful substance does not usually cause any symptoms, it is the repeated contact that makes the trouble.

For example, in investigating poison ivy dermatitis it has been shown that the application of poison ivy extract to the skin of a normal infant produces no harmful reaction but if the application is repeated in a week or two, symptoms will result. These symptoms are redness of the skin in spots of varying size and place followed by the rising of small blister-like sacs containing fluid.

Many different materials have been found to be capable of causing these eruptions and we can help find out what they are by considering just where the dermatitis appears. For example, an eruption about the eyelids suggests eye makeup as the cause; around the wrist it may be a watchband; on the leg it may be due to some substance in the stockings or socks worn; if on the hands it may be something encountered in one's occupation — a soap or a chemical. Usually it is just the part of the skin that comes in contact with the offending substance which becomes sensitive; but sometimes the sensitiveness spreads over the entire surface.

There is always an incubation period from the time of first contact until the development of the dermatitis which averages 6 to 10 days but may be much longer. There is usually a further period of time, 12 to 48 hours, after the skin has become sensitized before the first symptoms appear.

Another group of persons who have a similar condition without contact with the offending substances are those who react on exposure to heat, cold or sunlight. There is a further group who react to just the smell of a certain substance to which they are sensitive. This was shown in the case of a restaurant worker who had symptoms only on the days when shrimp was served, although he had no direct contact with it himself. Such cases as this are difficult to identify.

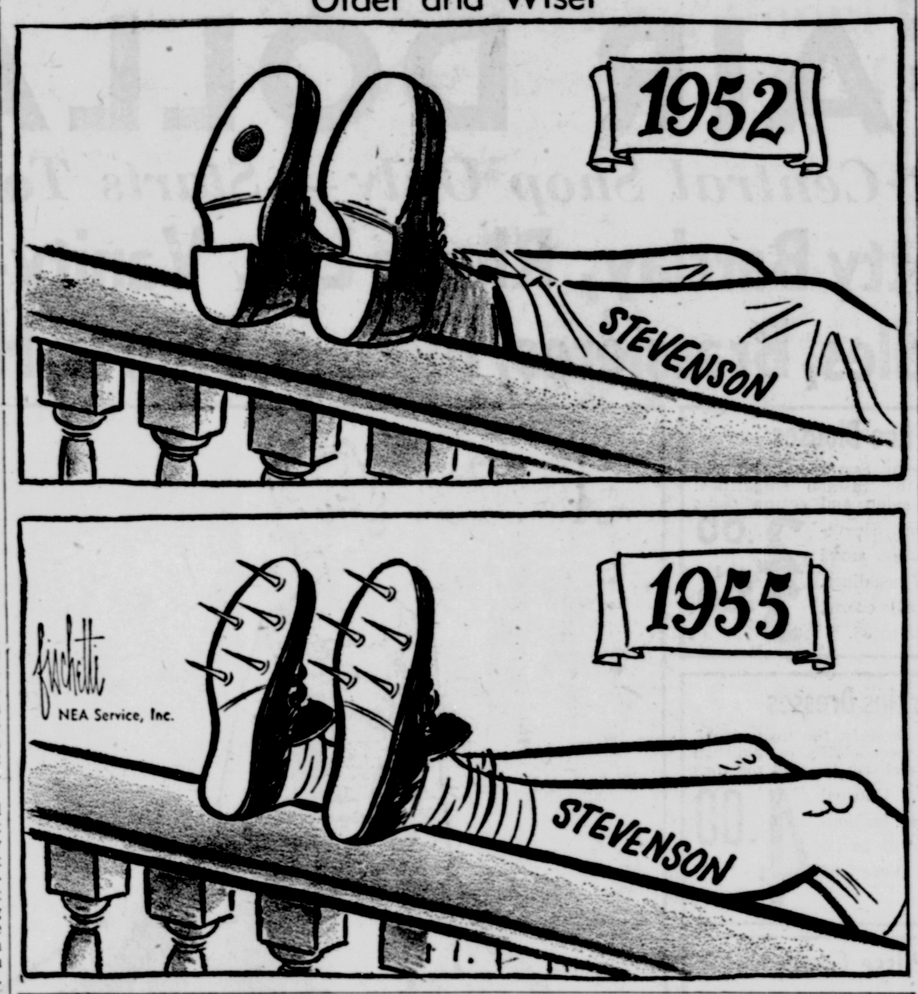

The thing to remember is that when we have a skin condition with little sacs containing fluid appearing on just certain areas of the skin, we should suspect that it is being caused by something with which we are in contact at that particular area. Once the cause is known, it should be a relatively easy thing to avoid it in the future.

Allergy

Being allergic or sensitive to various substances is a common condition. Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The record of the first session, 84th Congress, on President Eisenhower's legislative program, still has to be made.

All the boasting by Senate Democratic leaders on their accomplishments so far can't conceal this fact.

And President Eisenhower's listing of the 14 top proposals on which he wants more action this session tells only half the story of what hasn't been accomplished.

Congress just began to roll in June. In the first four months of the session, only 28 acts were passed and signed into law by the President. Twenty more were signed in May for a total of 48.

BUT 52 NEW LAWS were signed by the President in June to bring the total for the session to an even 100. The rate for July will be even faster.

There is a 50-50 chance the session will run through the first half of August. In the final weeks bills will be raining down faster than you can keep track of them. That's the way it always has been and probably always will be.

President Eisenhower's 14 measures on which he wants action aren't exactly a "must" list. Legislative proposals now before Congress won't die with the end of this first session. They'll carry over for action next year.

This has been one of the factors influencing a slowdown this session. There has been plenty of evidence in both parties of a desire to wait and make a record in 1956, an election year.

There has also been evidence of foot dragging on the part of congressmen who aren't overly enthusiastic about some parts of the Eisenhower program.

THE PRESIDENT'S health reinsurance plan is getting no place and probably won't. It was first presented to the 83rd Congress and cold shouldered, then as now.

The same thing has happened to the President's proposal for amendments to the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Neither party is showing any great fondness for the administration's power-partnership policy. This applies to the Cougar and John Day projects in the Northwest, in particular. They have been taken out of the public works bill, which covers 100 per cent federally financed projects.

The President would like to get Cougar and John Day authorized on the basis of having state and local interests share construction and operating costs. The idea is that if just a couple of these partnership power projects could be started, they would set a pattern for more.

There is even some evidence that congressional majorities have deliberately gone out of their way this session to sabotage the President's program.

Neither the President nor the congressional leaders went into this phase of the situation in their recent exchange of compliments on legislative achievements or lack of them.

THE HOUSE DEMOCRAT'S plan to put over a $20 individual income tax cut for everyone is a prime example. It would have cut government revenues by two billion dollars a year, or more.

The Senate-led crusade against the President's bond issue plan for highway construction financing, if successful, will increase federal government's direct expenditures for new roads by an estimated 1.7 billion dollars a year.

The House Democrats' plan to increase social security benefits for the aged is another move in the same direction. It would cost only hundreds of millions a year, instead of billions, but the effect would be the same.

All three of these measures would throw the budget further out of balance, increase the public debt and so make the Republican fiscal record look bad.

Perhaps the most effective wrecking of the President's program has been done on the military reserves plan — which the President considers vital — and the aid to education and school construction bills.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N. Y.) was encouraged to introduce antisegregation amendments for both proposals. These amendments made the legislation unacceptable to Southern Democrats and action was effectively blocked.

'Mutual Trust' Is Key For Geneva Conference

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 11 — President Eisenhower said the other day that the kind of peace "that will allow people to be really tranquil and confident in their daily pursuits" will be achieved only when nations have achieved "mutual trust."

It's no state secret. That's the core of the problem at the Big Four conference to be held next week at Geneva. How, therefore, does any nation, any government, any head of a state set about to "achieve mutual trust"?

THE ANSWER is to be found in applying the dilemma to the affairs of individual human beings. For, in their relations, they do not differ materially from those of nations.

If an individual has repeatedly violated his word, if he has broken contract after contract, if he has schemed behind his partner's back to undermine him, if he has entered an association designed for specific objects and then has deliberately plotted against all the other members of that association, what can such a person do to regain the trust and confidence of his neighbors and his fellow men?

Usually an individual who commits a crime confesses it and repents. He tells why he has done wrong and asks the rest of the community to forgive him and restore to him a place in the esteem of his fellow citizens.

CAN GOVERNMENT ever admit they were wrong? Can they repent of their sins? Isn't that difficult, it will be asked, for them to do if they have pride? The oft-used expression of diplomacy "saving face"—is invoked and it is usually suggested that some method of glossing over the wrongdoing be accepted as a substitute. Hence public confession by a government is politically difficut even in a totatlitarian country.

An alternative method would be performance—actual deeds that show retribution. This could be accomplished by undoing the wrongs which the Soviet Union has committed since 1945.

Thus the Moscow government pledged itself to permit free elections in Poland and Czechoslovakia and in the other satellite countries. It was a pledge given first in the Atlantic Charter signed by Stalin.

FREE ELECTIONS everywhere would solve the East German problem, too, and permit German reunification.

Another step would be to release all the prisoners of war the Soviets have retained in their custody since 1945. There is not the semblance of right behind those acts and it would be a sign of regeneration if the captives were allowed to go to their respective countries.

Then there are the prisoners held by Red China in violation of the Panmunjom armistice agreement. If they were given their freedom, the world would understand that a new era had arisen and that sincere efforts were being made to establish "mutual trust."

RED CHINA, too, should permit free elections uncoerced by military force. There would be no question of admission to the Security Council of the UN for a representative of a unified China if the Chinese on Formosa and the Chinese on the mainland could pick their own Parliament and their own rulers, and if the new China government were to achieve and practice complete independence of the Moscow yoke.

Another step would be the unification of Korea. This can be achieved if the Communists would permit the United Nations to hold free elections so that a new government might emerge to govern all of Korea as a country independent of Red Chinese or Soviet coercion.

The key to "mutual trust" is to be found in free elections everywhere so that the people can rule. There would be no fear of war if dictatorships were not in power in countries that have the military might and the resources to menace the peace of the world.

All this will seem difficult to accomplish but only because evil men do not choose to reform or repent. Maybe that's because they no longer believe in God, and worship instead the false gods of their own fallacious authority. Men who have learned to surrender to the will and guidance of a Supreme Being have not been troubled about "saving face" and admitting wrong.

IF THE SOVIET rulers mean to win trust and to be themselves trustful they have only to undo the many things they have done since 1945 which have brought on the "cold war." If there's no "mutual trust" only an uneasy truce can ensue — a postponement of the crisis until the aggressor feels strong enough to start a war. Meantime, spiritual power and moral force mobilized by free peoples can seek to reach the oppressed peoples and encourage them to get rid of their evil rulers—it may be the only way to prevent a catastrophe from happening.

But, recently, Ben Hecht bethought himself of this theme and, after study, concluded that the scenario was sure-fire. So Hecht, Gene Fowler and I are going through with it in the autumn and, friends, you are about to see high-octane commotion with sound effects as the Hollywood lobby rallies its ballyhoo to deplore this sordid exploitation of the most resounding name in our criminal history since Jesse James.

It is my hope to hire the culprit magnates to impersonate themselves, but Hecht and Fowler think they will go bashful and refuse. Well, maybe so, but I am sure I can get Willie and George.

Assembly Ratifies Treaty

Paris, July 12 (AP)—The French National Assembly ratified the Austrian independence treaty today by a unanimous vote. No opposition was voiced in the brief debate. The treaty now goes to the Senate. The United States, the Soviet Union and Austria have completed action on the treaty and deposited their documents of ratification in Moscow. Britain's Parliament also has approved the treaty but has not yet sent its ratification to the Soviet capital.

Gable, Wife Are On Secret Honeymoon

Minden, Nev., July 12 (AP)—Clark Gable, 54-year-old screen veteran, and Kay Williams Spreckels, 37, actress and former wife of California sugar heir Adolph Spreckels II, were honeymooning today—but no one seemed to know where.

They were married in this small seat of Douglas county yesterday in a surprise double ring ceremony in the yellow stucco home of Justice G. Walter Fisher. It was Gable's fifth marriage, Miss Williams' third.

The ceremony climaxed an on-again, off-again romance that has linked their names in gossip columns for about 10 years.

TREE-VENGE IS SWEET—This weird arrangement of broom, old shoes, pots and tin cans symbolizes the revenge of construction workmen against a "stingy" homeowner in Frankfurt, Germany. When a house is finished it is the custom to erect on the roof a colorfully decorated tree, whereupon the owner must treat all hands. When the budget-conscious owner of this house refused, the thirsty workmen expressed their ire with this caricature.

Nation's Housing Boom Continues Despite Rising Costs of Building

New York, July 12 (AP)—You're paying a bigger price for your new home these days but some builders claim you're getting more for your money.

Regardless of that claim, the cost of building materials, labor and land is going up. So there's pressure for price boosts although some builders may absorb higher costs to sell more homes.

THE NATION is in the midst of one of its greatest housing booms. Nevertheless, competition in homebuilding is getting keener and the builders' margin is being squeezed, according to the Housing Institute, economic advisers to business.

Builders will have to use all their production ingenuity to keep sale prices in line despite the cost boosts, says Nathan H. Rogg, economist for the National Assn. of Home Builders (NAHB).

The 1955 home-buyer is much smarter than the buyer of six or seven years ago. He's choosier, has more definite ideas of what a house should be.

An interesting round-up on how big builders from coast to coast have improved their product to please this present-day buyer has just been published by the NAHB.

ONE AMAZING fact highlights this sampling of new home projects in various parts of the country. The homes are bigger, costlier, more livable than the houses produced by the same builders in 1948 or '49—but a number of these builders say the price per square foot is either less now than it used to be or about the same.

For example, Earl W. (Flat Top) Smith of El Cerrito, Calif., president of the NAHB, who pioneered contemporary design and flat roof houses in the San Francisco Bay area, compares his 1948 house with the type he's building now.

His 1949 house cost $8,100 while the 1955 house is $10,500. They're both on a lot of 5,000 square feet but the 1949 lot was valued at only $900 compared with $2,400 for the 1955 lot.

Disregarding this hike in the price of land, Smith says the 1949 customer paid $6 per square foot for 1,200 square feet of house while the 1955 customer pays only $5.60 a square foot for 1,400.

THE 1955 CUSTOMER also gets four bedrooms instead of three, two baths instead of one, and improved materials, Smith reports.

In Kansas City, Mo., the NAHB reports that the J. C. Nichols Co. in 1949 sold a two-bedroom, one bath home at $12,500. Their 1955 homes with three bedrooms and 1½ or 2 baths sell for $18,950. The living area is increased by 50 per cent and the lot size by 40 per cent. Yet the buyer today gets a more modern, better equipped home at the same cost of $13 per square foot, including land.

In Santa Fe, N. M., builder Allen Stamm reports his house-and-lot package cost the buyer $9.73 a square foot in 1951 whereas his 1955 home is down to $9.70—although it has more equipment, includes built-ins and landscaping not provided before, has three bedrooms instead of two and 1½ baths instead of one. The lot is bigger too and the price is up from $8,500 to $11,200.

"Gradually the consumer has become sophisticated in his preferences," says David Slipher, chairman of the NAHB Research Institute. He knows about the virtues of two bathrooms, an outside patio, plenty of storage space and orientation for privacy."

ON AVERAGE, today's new homes are bigger and better than they were right after World War 2 when almost any house could be sold.

But how many builders can give more house per dollar is problematical. The index of all building materials prices was up 3.6 per cent from spring 1954 to spring '55. Lumber led the rise with Douglas Fir up 13.3 per cent and softwood plywood up 11.7 per cent. Wages are higher.

In a nationwide survey, the Wall Street Journal reported that the chances are the new home you buy this summer will cost $200 to $400 more than it would have earlier this year.

But demand for housing is still strong in the wake of the most prosperous half year in the nation's history.

U. S. AIR FORCE SALUTES Civilian Skywatch

General Nathan F. Twining, chief-of-staff of the U. S. Air Force, today paid tribute to the 350,000 citizens—volunteers in the Ground Observer Corps.

"We of the Air Force" he said "salute these patriotic citizens who have given so unselfishly of their time in this vital cause. We all owe to the volunteers of the Ground Observer Corps a continuing debt of gratitude. I ask that all Americans join me in paying honor to them on this, the third anniversary of 'Operation Skywatch', and ask that those who can arrange their time to lend active support, do so. One million volunteers are urgently needed."

Jury Is Selected On Draft Evasion Try

Brattleboro, Vt., July 12 (AP)—A jury of seven women and five men today began hearing evidence in the federal case against Mrs. Lucille Miller, 44, mother of three who is charged with advising nine young men to evade military draft calls.

The jury was selected in less than an hour yesterday, the first day of trial before Federal Judge Ernest W. Gibson, a former governor of Vermont.

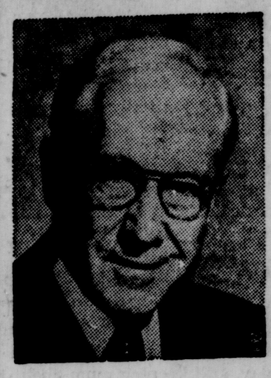

Also selected were two alternates, a man and a woman, who will participate in the deliberation only if a regular juror must be excused.

West Chazy Man Killed

Rome, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—A Griffiss Air Force Base airman was killed and a second seriously injured early today when the automobile in which they were riding left the road and smashed into a tree. Airman Second Class Claude L. Corron, 24, of (RD 3) West Chazy, N. Y., driver of the car, was dead on arrival at the base hospital. Staff Sergeant Russell Warner, 30, was reported by police to be suffering from internal injuries there. Police said they understood his condition was serious.

Sees Higher Prices

Philadelphia, July 12 (AP)—James H. Carmine, president of the Philco Corp., said today recent increases in steel and other raw materials probably will result in higher retail prices for appliances, especially refrigerators and air conditioners.

Divorcee Resigned To Gallows' Fate

London, July 12 (AP) — Ruth Ellis waited calm and resigned in death row at Holloway jail today, apparently unconcerned with last-minute efforts to save her from the gallows.

The blonde, 28-year-old divorcee is scheduled to be hanged at 9 a. m. (3 a. m. EST) tomorrow for the Easter Sunday slaying of a lover who had spurned her. Her sentence has revived a bitter controversy over capital punishment.

Opponents of the death penalty were expected to raise the issue in the House of Commons tonight in hopes that a vote might be obtained urging clemency. George Rogers, a Laborite member of Parliament, said he was considering what action might be taken.

It appeared doubtful, however, that the Commons would take action.

Is Blaming Hotel For Business Loss

New York, July 12 (AP)—Toy merchant Frederick G. Osborne Jr. says he lost $500,000 because he overslept one day last May and he blames it all on the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

In a suit filed against the world-famous hotel, the Milwaukee businessman said he had stayed at the hotel and left specific instructions with the desk clerk on May 6 to be called at 9 a. m. the next day.

The hotel failed to waken him, he claimed, and he therefore missed a business meeting "and was caused to suffer a loss in the sum of $500,000." Osborne, a 40-year-old bachelor who gave his address as 1816 Kane Place, Milwaukee, is suing the hotel for that amount of money.

Woman Keeps Mum On $64,000 Question

Harrisburg, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer headed for New York with her Bible today, still keeping mum about her money plans.

And big money it is, too. The 54-year-old grandmother from nearby Camp Hill, Pa., has won $32,000 on a network (CBS) television program.

Tonight, she'll tell viewers whether she'll keep her $32,000 or try for the $64,000 question, which is the name of the program.

The jackpot question, as have all other questions answered by the woman on the program, will be based on the Bible.

"I have always turned to it for guidance," Mrs. Kreitzer said. And she'll do the same tonight, she said, when she must make the big decision. She added she won't make that decision until she steps out on the stage.

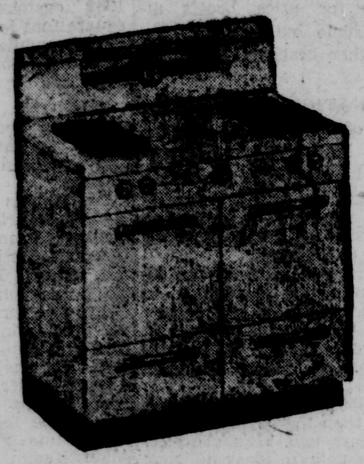

Secretly Married

London, July 12 (AP)—Sir Jacob Epstein, American-born center of many an artistic furor, confirmed today that he had secretly married Mrs. Kathleen Garman, his 50-year-old secretary and the model for several of his statues. The 76-year-old sculptor confirmed the marriage to a reporter aboard the French liner Liberte in mid-Atlantic The artist is en route to Philadelphia for the unveiling of his five-figure work, "Social Consciousness."

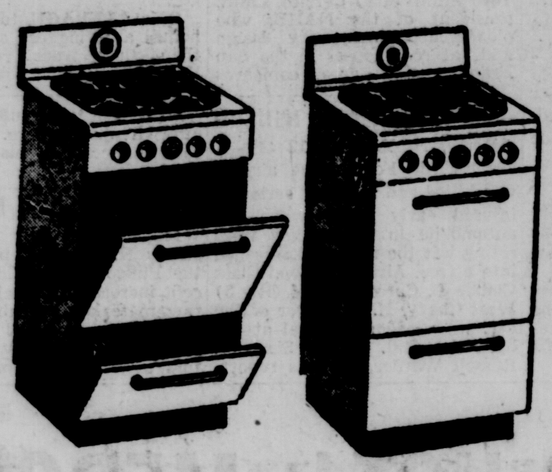

Bulgaria Accuses Turkey

London, July 12 (AP) — Communist Bulgaria accused Turkey today of wounding a Bulgarian frontier guard in a "shooting affray." A Sofia radio broadcast charged Turkey with provoking the incident and endangering peace in the Balkans. The broadcast quoted a Bulgarian government statement "deploring the resumption of these incidents on the eve of the Geneva conference."

Tonight, she'll tell viewers whether she'll keep her $32,000 or try for the $64,000 question, which is the name of the program.

The jackpot question, as have all other questions answered by the woman on the program, will be based on the Bible.

"I have always turned to it for guidance," Mrs. Kreitzer said. And she'll do the same tonight, she said, when she must make the big decision. She added she won't make that decision until she steps out on the stage.

Secretly Married

London, July 12 (AP)—Sir Jacob Epstein, American-born center of many an artistic furor, confirmed today that he had secretly married Mrs. Kathleen Garman, his 50-year-old secretary and the model for several of his statues. The 76-year-old sculptor confirmed the marriage to a reporter aboard the French liner Liberte in mid-Atlantic The artist is en route to Philadelphia for the unveiling of his five-figure work, "Social Consciousness."

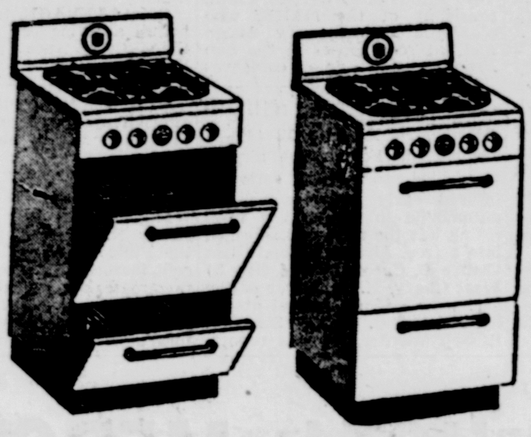

Bulgaria Accuses Turkey

London, July 12 (AP) — Communist Bulgaria accused Turkey today of wounding a Bulgarian frontier guard in a "shooting affray." A Sofia radio broadcast charged Turkey with provoking the incident and endangering peace in the Balkans. The broadcast quoted a Bulgarian government statement "deploring the resumption of these incidents on the eve of the Geneva conference."

Feel like you're driving with the hand brake partly on?

Only Shell Premium with TCP overcomes combustion chamber deposits to give your engine the full benefits of high octane gasoline*

Within 2000 miles a high compression engine has built up engine deposits. These deposits cancel out some of the power and economy the engine should get from high octane gasoline.

And the more "around-town" driving you do, the more these engine deposits can drag down engine power.

In the combustion chambers these deposits glow red hot and burn the gasoline before the piston is ready for its power stroke. This is called pre-firing—a major cause of engine knock and power loss.

These deposits also short-circuit spark plugs and cause them to "miss." Power falls off. It's almost like driving with the brake on!

But there's one high octane gasoline that gives you all the benefits of high octane power—gives them to you without the harmful effects of engine deposits!

Before you've used two tankfuls, Shell Premium with TCP additive will repower your engine by overcoming the deposits that cause the pre-firing. They no longer short-circuit your spark plugs and make them "miss."

Enjoy the full power built into your engine! Start using Shell Premium with TCP today.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

The 1955 Fourth of July came and went during an intense heat wave, folks suffered from poison ivy, prickly heat, sunburn and mosquito bites and perhaps too much soda pop drinking but hospital beds are not filled with firecracker burned children, that is a thing of the past. How lucky the young ones are, but they or their parents do not seem to realize it. They spent hours furiously shopping all over town and other cities for perhaps some kind of fireworks. When I told group after group of parents and children of the danger of firecracker burns, they laughed at me. They did not believe that the entire eastern seaboard has restrictive or prohibitive laws, they think they could buy them in Connecticut or New Jersey. There are only six states that sell fireworks this year and they have local laws to suit each community. The Life magazine of July 4, gives a map of the nation showing the six states which are mostly southwest toward Texas.

The American Medical Association began to see the light of day, back in 1903 by compiling statistics on fireworks casualties. In 1909 some 215 were killed and some 5,092 injured, many to carry disfigurement for life from this one day of fireworks. Newspapers started working together with civic organizations and saw to it that strict ordinances were passed so that today, one day after July 4th, many a youngster is free from awful burns or perhaps death, although they and their parents tried all over to buy those dangerous fireworks. But try and tell it to them, they will not believe you. Parents were more insistant than their children.

Prohibiting the use of fireworks came before Independence day. A Rhode Island law of 1731 banned "the unnecessary firing of guns, pistols, squibs, (firecrackers) or other fireworks." Pennsylvania adopted a similar law in 1751. Yet, late as 1930 laws were still being passed but law enforcement agencies could not keep the fireworks out of the children's hands. In 1937 a model state fireworks law, based upon statutes that had proved effective in Iowa, Michigan and New Jersey, was drafted by the National Fire Assn. Its provisions would make illegal the sale for retail use or the explosion of fireworks and would permit only supervised public displays as authorized by a state fire marshal or local fire chief.

At present there exists the six states where local law has its own restrictions. For a time, it is said, comic books and magazines had advertisements by which folks could get fireworks from other states, but this legal loophole was closed last year by Congress, at the insistance of state and local law enforcement agencies, that is: "enacted legislation prohibiting the shipment of fireworks into any state which has a ban." So you can go as far south as Florida or north to Maine and you will find same laws as in New York state.

No doubt old timers remember when the trolley cars ran on a track in Kingston and youths used to put various fireworks on the tracks so that when the trolley ran over it a tremendous noise and shooting would occur. It was only fun for those who put them on the track. Throwing lighted firecrackers at people's feet, poking sparklers at each other and little children was all considered O. K. in our day. My father's drug store usually had a good supply of linseed oil and limewater, then used for burns as first aid, but most of those burns had to be treated by a physician, they did not heal easily. Remember.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, July 12—A pot luck supper preceded the meeting of Highland Grange Tuesday night. Master Jack Nace presided and lecturer Mrs. Arthur Jacobs arranged the program with readings by Mrs. Bertha Hasbrouck, Miss Frances Valenti, Mrs. Richard Dunham and a travel quiz in which all participated. Tickets for the clambake August 6 were distributed with Mrs. Barbara Trapani in charge for Highland and Mrs. Hasbrouck in New Paltz. Members are to meet Tuesday evening for the annual clean-up of the grounds. There were 40 members attending.

Mrs. Donald Randall, Tarrytown spent a few days this week with her father, Edward Rhodes.

Mrs. Dora R. Haight, Oneonta, is spending some time with her sister, Miss Eliza Ives Raymond.

Installation of officers was held at the meeting of Ida McKinley council, Daughters of America, Wednesday night in Odd Fellows hall. Mrs. Marjorie Merritt, Poughkeepsie, deputy of the council presided. She was assisted by Mrs. Lurella Scott, regalia; Mrs. Maude Puff and Mrs. Grace Duncan, flagbearers. Mrs. Teressa Swibold, Kingston, national representative and past state councilor; and Mrs. Goldie Gerhardt, Sarasota, Fla., past national representative and past state councilor were guests; also Mrs. Beatrice Fowx, Poughkeepsie, district deputy of district 26; and Mrs. Charlotte Salomon, Highland, deputy of Moll Pitcher council, Poughkeepsie.

Officers inducted were Mrs. Dorothy Temm, councilor; Mrs. Velma Clearwater, vice councilor; Miss Dorothy Churchill, associate councilor; Miss Grace Simmons, associate vice councilor; Mrs. Margaret Radcliffe, conductor; Mrs. Dorothy Palmer, warden; Mrs. Evelyn Hoberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Amanda Curtis, financial secretary; Mrs. Ethel Kuerstine, assistant financial secretary; Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Salomon, Miss Churchill, Mrs. Cecile Petersen, Mrs. Florence E. Cotant, representatives to the state session. Mrs. Frances Foertach, inside sentinel; Mrs. Cotant, trustee.

Other officers are Mrs. Minnie Pape, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Catherine Manville, outside sentinel; Mrs. Mabel E. L. Lent and Mrs. Grace Relyea, trustees; Mrs. Gertrude Therrien, associate junior past councilor.

Attendance awards were given Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Edna Stewart. Invitations received from Vanderlyn Council, Kingston, for installation ceremonies, Tuesday night, and Moll Pitcher Council, Friday night, 261 Main street, Poughkeepsie.

Quarterly reports were read by Mrs. Cotant, trustee; Mrs. Hoberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Mittelstaedt, treasurer, and Mrs. Radcliffe, financial secretary. Mrs. Anna Rozell, councilor, and Miss Florence Duncan, councilor-elect, Poughkeepsie, were guests. Mrs. Clearwater, vice councilor in behalf of the council and friends distributed gifts to the guests of honor. Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Temm called upon Mrs. Minnie Terpening, Mrs. Naomi Vandemark, Mrs. Ella Tubbs, Mrs. Manville in St. Francis Hospital; Mrs. Nettie Osterhoudt and Mrs. Eileen Halstead. They will continue on the sunshine committee for two weeks. Mrs. Dorothy Palmer is chairman of refreshments for the meeting.

Plans for the annual picnic will be discussed at the next meeting. Mrs. Fowx, district deputy, will also conduct a school of instruction at that time on some of the ritualistic work. There were 17 members from Poughkeepsie and five from Kingston. A covered dish supper was served after the meeting with Mrs. Clearwater in charge.

Entertainment featuring a toreador was arranged by Mrs. Radcliffe. Assisting in the meeting were Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Puff and Mrs. Duncan. The councilor announced Mrs. Petersen to act as a captain for six months; Miss Doris Radcliffe, Mrs. Stewart, flagbearers; and Mrs. Cotant, pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Wadlin and two children, Princeton, N. J., were weekend guests of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Maynard.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

The 1955 Fourth of July came and went during an intense heat wave, folks suffered from poison ivy, prickly heat, sunburn and mosquito bites and perhaps too much soda pop drinking but hospital beds are not filled with firecraker burned children, that is a thing of the past. How lucky the young ones are, but they or their parents do not seem to realize it. They spent hours furiously shopping all over town and other cities for perhaps some kind of fireworks. When I told group after group of parents and children of the danger of firecracker burns, they laughed at me. They did not believe that the entire eastern seaboard has restrictive or prohibitive laws, they think they could buy them in Connecticut or New Jersey. There are only six states that sell fireworks this year and they have local laws to suit each community. The Life magazine of July 4, gives a map of the nation showing the six states which are mostly southwest toward Texas.

The American Medical Association began to see the light of day, back in 1903 by compiling statistics on fireworks casualties. In 1909 some 215 were killed and some 5,092 injured, many to carry disfigurement for life from this one day of fireworks. Newspapers started working together with civic organizations and saw to it that strict ordinances were passed so that today, one day after July 4th, many a youngster is free from awful burns or perhaps death, although they and their parents tried all over to buy those dangerous fireworks. But try and tell it to them, they will not believe you. Parents were more insistant than their children.

Prohibiting the use of fireworks came before Independence day. A Rhode Island law of 1731 banned "the unnecessary firing of guns, pistols, squibs, (firecrackers) or other fireworks." Pennsylvania adopted a similar law in 1751. Yet, late as 1930 laws were still being passed but law enforcement agencies could not keep the fireworks out of the children's hands. In 1937 a model state fireworks law, based upon statutes that had proved effective in Iowa, Michigan and New Jersey, was drafted by the National Fire Assn. Its provisions would make illegal the sale for retail use or the explosion of fireworks and would permit only supervised public displays as authorized by a state fire marshal or local fire chief.

At present there exists the six states where local law has its own restrictions. For a time, it is said, comic books and magazines had advertisements by which folks could get fireworks from other states, but this legal loophole was closed last year by Congress, at the insistance of state and local law enforcement agencies, that is: "enacted legislation prohibiting the shipment of fireworks into any state which has a ban." So you can go as far south as Florida or north to Maine and you will find same laws as in New York state.

No doubt old timers remember when the trolley cars ran on a track in Kingston and youths used to put various fireworks on the tracks so that when the trolley ran over it a tremendous noise and shooting would occur. It was only fun for those who put them on the track. Throwing lighted firecrackers at people's feet, poking sparklers at each other and little children was all considered O. K. in our day. My father's drug store usually had a good supply of linseed oil and limewater, then used for burns as first aid, but most of those burns had to be treated by a physician, they did not heal easily. Remember.

Three Turncoats Talk Freely, Declare They 'Outsmarted' Reds

By DAVID J. ROADS

Hong Kong, July 12 (AP)—I took the three American turncoats out for $40 worth of drinks Sunday night in a round of dance halls.

I agree with one of them, 22-year-old Lewis W. Griggs, that they "weren't very smart." But what else they are I couldn't say.

I spent their first evening of freedom with Griggs, William A. Cowart and Otho G. Bell in the line of duty, hoping they would reveal more than they had in evasive answers during the news conference following their arrival in Hong Kong yesterday.

Helped along by mambo music, double scotches, beer, Manhattans and plenty of American cigarettes, they appeared to talk freely. But they committed themselves on little.

All three kept repeating that things were hell in Red China.

Cowart, 23, of Dalton, Ga., was anxious to line up some "quick cash" and also talked vaguely about contacts with an anti-Communist underground in China.

Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss., kept repeating that he couldn't wait to "see that beautiful little daughter of mine." The child, Paula, now 4, was born after he was sent to Korea. Her mother is working at a military base near Olympia, Wash.

Griggs, of Jacksonville, Tex., reckoned they had "outsmarted the Reds in getting out."

GRIGGS SAT silently at first, sipping Coca-Cola and then switching to beer. Suddenly he turned to me and said:

"You know we aren't very smart. But I feel positive we outsmarted the Reds in getting out. I'm convinced our case was dealt with by no less than Mao Tze-tung himself.

"They never knew exactly how to handle us after we started acting up," he continued. "We aren't too smart, but we forced the top boys in the Communist government to handle our case. Boy, that makes me feel we accomplished something."

Griggs said he was charged once with "double sabotage"—for "goofing up some farm machinery" on the state farm where they were sent and for "trying to smuggle out a letter."

"The Reds charged I was trying to contact intelligence sources in Hong Kong," Griggs said, "but I wasn't."

The Communists, he went on, threatened to shoot him if he got out of line, "but I didn't care what happened just so I got out of there.

"I come from a strict family back home and I'm pretty strong-willed. When I made up my mind to go, I was going regardless."

ALL THREE ASKED about the trials of Edward S. Dickenson and Claude Batchelor, two other Korean POW's who changed their minds earlier about staying with the Communists and were turned back to the UN command in Korea. They said they had heard the two men were free, awaiting another trial. Both actually are in prison after being convicted of collaborating with the enemy, Batchelor on a 20-year sentence and Dickenson for a 10-year term.

"Do you think we act like we're abnormal?" Bell asked me. I told him no and he went on: "I'm glad we're not classified as abnormal.

"Look, there's the floor show. This sure beats Chinese opera, where the music is high pitched and the singing sounds like whining or something. Man, this is really living."

Later, at their request, the orchestra played the first mambo the men said they had ever heard. All smiles, the trio kept time with their feet.

"You know, I never appreciated music before, but I sure know its value now," Bell broke in.

As he had been at the news conference, Cowart was the leader of the group. Bell and Griggs frequently looked to him for guidance. Finally Cowart brought the conversation around to money.

"Look, we have to pick up some quick cash before we land in the States," he said. "Have you any suggestions?"

After a brief silence, he began asking for offers:

"I HAVE PLENTY to tell and will tell if I'm paid. What's it worth for our stories—individually or all three?"

When no offer was forthcoming, Cowart brought out his cloak and dagger story. He maintained he had underground contacts in Red China among "people who worked against the government"—White Russians, Japanese, Overseas Chinese who had returned to the mainland and other dissatisfied persons, he said.

"The only reason they couldn't do more was lack of funds," he declared, continuing:

"I attempted to move these people from the small towns into the larger cities—Peiping especially—where they would march down the streets of the capital in an antigovernment parade."

Asked just how that could be pulled off, Cowart continued: "Because we were involved as peace fighters, and the authorities couldn't harm us because of the publicity given our case." Then he added hastily:

"The plans didn't come off because I didn't have enough money to take all these people to Peiping."

First reports that the men were leaving China had said Cowart wanted to go to Japan. He said last night his idea had been to meet "certain contacts in Japan who are on the way out to China now to make further plans."

As the hours rolled on and the drinks went down, the talk boiled down to usual barroom chatter—sports, movie stars and sex. Finally everybody was yawning and I picked up the check.

Longer looking lashes?

Here's the answer...

TALIKA A new, eye-beautifying cream fresh from Paris

Leave it to Paris! French women have always gone in for beauty in a big way—especially eye-beauty. Small wonder beauty-chemist Danielle Roches of Paris came up with the answer to softer, silkier, longer looking lashes.

And all because of a cream that's the beauty-talk of the European continent. It is called Talika Eyelash Creme. You don't have to wait weary months to see something happen. Use this "white magic" for just two weeks and you'll see a lot happen: Your lashes will look longer and lovelier. They'll be lustrous and luxuriant. Your eyes will have IT—the look of genuine glamor that comes only from lovely, luxuriant, lustrous, longer looking lashes—the kind Nature bestows on the favored few.

You know, of course, that eyelashes are short-lived. Old ones fall out. New ones come in. That is why you should start now to beautify them with Talika. For Talika is no ordinary cosmetic or beauty preparation. Adding it to your daily beauty ritual takes little time and wins quick reward. You apply it nightly—after you've removed makeup and mascara. And in two weeks' time—what a difference! You will hardly believe your own eyes!

Best of all, the cost is small. A full jar of Talika Eyelash Creme costs only $2.50 (plus tax). Today, get this "white magic" at our cosmetic counter. Prove to yourself that you can have the lustrous, long looking lashes people rave about! Harmless to lids and eyes! Exclusive Paris import by Myrtle Lorraine

Cadillac

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

But nowadays more and more motorists—like the happy man you see above—are stepping right up from their first car to a Cadillac.

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change.

To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty . . . its captivating luxury and graciousness . . . and its heart-winning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection for 1955.

And secondly, the path that leads to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The lowest-priced Cadillac costs little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's gasoline economy and upkeep expense. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and the car is so soundly built and engineered that it is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac cars return their owners a higher percentage of their investments than any other automobiles in the land.

So if you want a Cadillac—don't feel that you have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move to Cadillac, the automobile you now own is the perfect stepping-stone.

Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? You'll find that we have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

TALIKA A new, eye-beautifying cream fresh from Paris

Leave it to Paris! French women have always gone in for beauty in a big way—especially eye-beauty. Small wonder beauty-chemist Danielle Roches of Paris came up with the answer to softer, silkier, longer looking lashes.

And all because of a cream that's the beauty-talk of the European continent. It is called Talika Eyelash Creme. You don't have to wait weary months to see something happen. Use this "white magic" for just two weeks and you'll see a lot happen: Your lashes will look longer and lovelier. They'll be lustrous and luxuriant. Your eyes will have IT—the look of genuine glamor that comes only from lovely, luxuriant, lustrous, longer looking lashes—the kind Nature bestows on the favored few.

You know, of course, that eyelashes are short-lived. Old ones fall out. New ones come in. That is why you should start now to beautify them with Talika. For Talika is no ordinary cosmetic or beauty preparation. Adding it to your daily beauty ritual takes little time and wins quick reward. You apply it nightly—after you've removed makeup and mascara. And in two weeks' time—what a difference! You will hardly believe your own eyes!

Best of all, the cost is small. A full jar of Talika Eyelash Creme costs only $2.50 (plus tax). Today, get this "white magic" at our cosmetic counter. Prove to yourself that you can have the lustrous, long looking lashes people rave about! Harmless to lids and eyes! Exclusive Paris import by

Second Car He Ever Owned!

Time was when a man wouldn't have considered a Cadillac until he had owned four—or five—or even six different motor cars.

But nowadays more and more motorists—like the happy man you see above—are stepping right up from their first car to a Cadillac.

There are, we think, two basic reasons for this wonderful change.

To begin with, the temptation to make the move to Cadillac has never been greater than it is today.

The car's arresting grace and beauty . . . its captivating luxury and graciousness . . . and its heart-winning performance have all been brought to new peaks of perfection for 1955.

And secondly, the path that leads to Cadillac has never before been so clearly marked or so easily traveled.

Take original cost, for instance. The lowest-priced Cadillac costs little more than many models in the medium-price field.

And then consider Cadillac's gasoline economy and upkeep expense. Few automobiles of any size or make will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and the car is so soundly built and engineered that it is all but free from any save the most routine costs of maintenance.

And, finally, there is the car's resale value. Year after year, Cadillac cars return their owners a higher percentage of their investments than any other automobiles in the land.

So if you want a Cadillac—don't feel that you have to advance gradually to the car of cars.

If you are ready to make the move to Cadillac, the automobile you now own is the perfect stepping-stone.

Why not stop in soon and see for yourself? You'll find that we have some very pleasant news for you about cost and delivery.

Mr. Mann complained that there were a lot of mice overrunning his home.

Mr. Mann's Friend — Why don't you get a cat, then?

Mr. Mann—That's a good idea. Thanks. I'll stop at the pet shop on my way home and buy one.

A few weeks later the friend dropped in on Mr. Mann for a visit. He was taken down to the cellar to have a look at the new cat.

Friend—Holy smoke! What kind of a cat is that? He's playing with the mice.

Mr. Mann—Sure, those are our mice. But you let a strange mouse stick his nose in here and you'll see some action.

Stone Ridge Church Plans Parish Fair

The program of events for the annual fair and bazaar, scheduled for Saturday July 16 and sponsored by the women's auxiliary of Saint Peter's Episcopal Church of Stone Ridge, has been completed. The fair and bazaar will open at 11 a. m. and continue until late evening. A teagarden will serve tea and refreshments from 2:30 until 6 p. m,. with Mrs. Lester Roosa in charge and a gold plate dinner. Dessert and coffee is scheduled for 6 p. m., until all are served with Mrs. Isaac Graham, chairman and Mrs. Joseph Greenberg and Mrs. John D. Basten, assistant co-chairmen.

Special events for the children include a merry-go-round, ice cream and soft drinks together with special fair music.

The bazaar tables will include: Aprons, with Mrs. Clarence Pine in charge. The pantry shelf, featuring home baked goods will be in charge of Mrs. Frank Altieri. Mrs. George Ham is in charge of the Market Place with the gift table under the direction of Mrs. H. Edgar Timmerman. A special exhibit will be the basketry exhibit and a 8 p. m. there will be an illustrated talk, Mrs. H. P. Barmann is chairman of the rummage sale corner. Added features this year will include a Christmas Corner with Christmas decorations, cards, candles and orders taken for your Christmas tree. The young people are sponsoring a parcel post booth which will include packages sent in by parishioners and friends for sale at 25 cents plus the postage.

Soft drinks, ice cream, salt water taffy and punch will be available and there will be organ music in the church as you wait for the cold plate dinnner. Tickets for the dinner may be purchased from any member of the auxiliary.

Make use of ham trimmings, hambone, and fat as flavoring for soups, stews, baked beans, rice, potatoes, cabbage, and many casserole dishes.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

South Gives Foe Miscue Chance

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The proper play of the club suit was the key to the hand shown today. South played it correctly, but the defenders were caught off guard. This is a situation that should be familiar to every experienced bridge player, so look it over carefully and make sure that you would put up the right defense if you were at the table.

West opened the five of diamonds, and dummy won the first trick with the queen. South saw that he had to bring the clubs in to make his contract. For a reason that will soon become apparent, declarer began the clubs by leading a low club from the dummy towards his own hand.

East made the mistake of playing a low club, and South played the nine. West won with the king of clubs, and was then through for the day. West couldn't lead another diamond safely, since dummy would win with the jack. At best, West could lead a spade, allowing South to win and knock out the ace of clubs. This gave South his nine tricks.

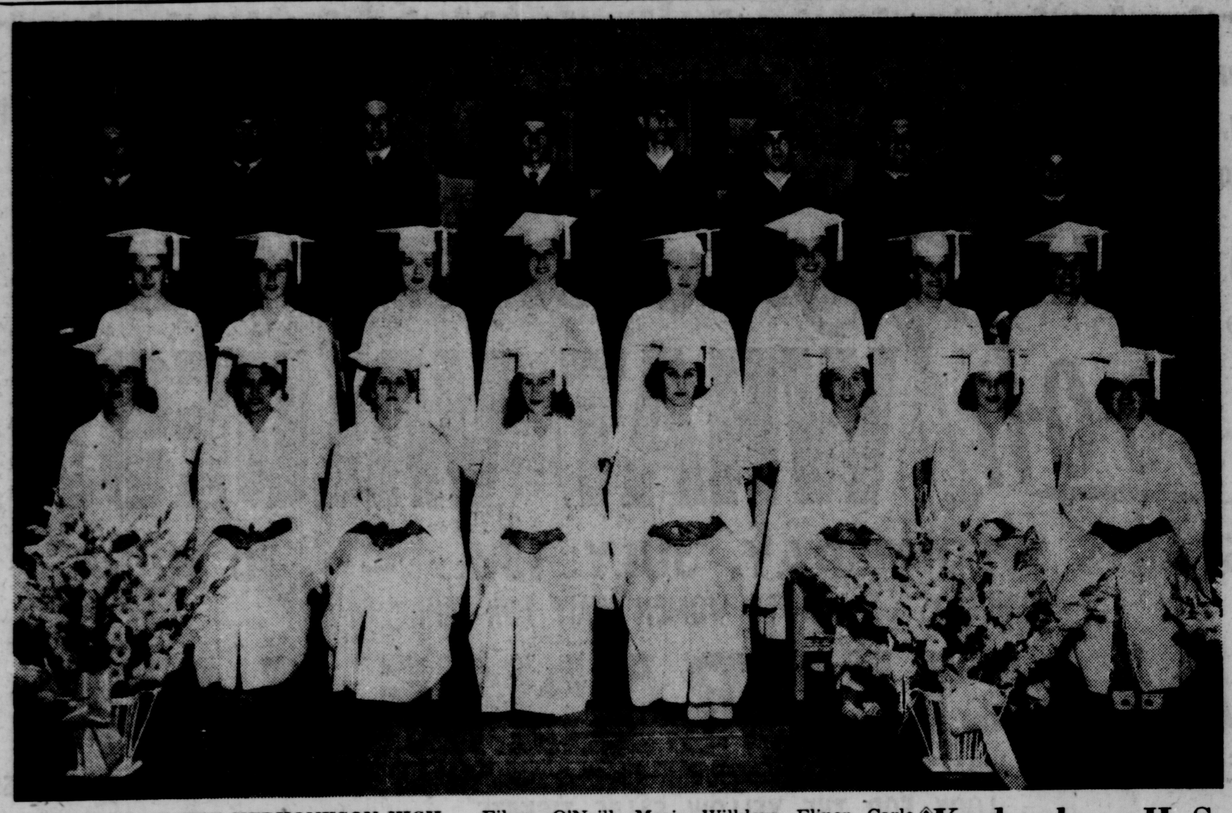

East should have put up the ace of clubs at the second trick instead of playing a low club. East would win the trick, of course, and would then lead his other diamond, allowing West to establish the suit. West would regain the lead with the king of clubs in time to set the contract with the rest of the diamonds.

From East's point of viow, the moral of this hand is "Second hand high!" The idea is to preserve West's entry until his long suit is established, after which the entry will allow him to win tricks with the long suit.

Incidentally, South made the correct play when he began the clubs by leading low from the dummy. This method of starting the clubs put the burden on East of making a fine play, and South made his contract when East failed the test. If South had begun the clubs by leading the suit from his hand, West would have ducked, and East would have taken the ace of clubs without the slightest chance for a misplay.

Pilot Cracks Sound Barrier Over Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—An air force jet pilot cracked the sound barrier high over Lake Ontario yesterday and caused a sonic explosion that scared the daylights out of thousands of residents in Buffalo and its northern suburbs.

Police and newspaper switchboards were jammed with calls for information. First reports said a plane had crashed on an island in the Niagara river.

The pilot of the aircraft, an F-86D Sabrejet, was unable to say whether he had broken the sound barrier. However, spokesmen at the Niagara Falls Air Force Base said it was possible to do so without the pilot being aware of it.

THE PILOT, First Lt. Donald R. Grostic, 24, of Howell, Mich., is a member of the 37th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Burlington, Vt., but is temporarily stationed at the Niagara Falls base.

Capt. Lester T. Hansen, public information officer at the air base, said the airplane apparently broke the sound barrier after rolling into a 700-mile-an-hour dive from high altitude.

It was most unusual, he said, for the blast to have been heard over such a wide area. There were no reports of damage from the explosion.

Central School In Saugerties Elects Board

Saugerties Central School District No. 1 last night elected a nine-member board of education to direct the destiny of the newly-formed central school district.

More than 700 eligible voters filled to capacity the Saugerties High School auditorium to cast their ballots in this important election.

ALL BUT ONE of the nine positions was filled by members of a slate of candidates proposed by the Centralization Study Committee. Former Mayor George P. Holmes upset the slate by defeating Milton Armstrong by three votes on the first ballot.

The highest number of ballots was polled by William Zeigler, former chairman of School District No. 10 of the village. Mr. Zeigler polled 628 votes out of a possible 703 which was the official count. He was elected to a term of three years.

OTHERS ELECTED included Charles Riccardi, three years, who will represent Glasco; Henry Haeussler, three years, who will represent Daisy, High Woods, Glenerie, Mt. Marion, Flatbush and Fish Creek; Robert Herb of Malden, two years, who will represent Malden, West Camp and Asbury; Mrs. Agnes Schroeder, two years, who will represent the village; John Lowther, two years, who will represent Veteran, Churchland, Pine Grove and Blue Mountain; Ernest E. Schirmer, one year, who will represent the village; Mrs. Mary Lasher, one year, who will represent Saxton, Manorville, West Saugerties, Quarryville, Cedar Grove and Katsbaan; and former Mayor Holmes, one year, who will represent the village.

Mr. Lowther of Pine Grove and Mr. Herb of Malden were elected on the second ballot due to their not having a clear majority on the first. Only 184 ballots were cast on the second vote.

THE COUNTING of the ballots was not completed until 3:20 a. m., this morning.

Prior to the actual balloting, George F. Kaufman, Kingston attorney, was elected as permanent chairman and Mrs. John W. Davis as permanent clerk.

Mr. Kaufman appointed assistant clerks including Mrs. Vera Jacobs, Mrs. Lila Simmons and Mrs. Jane Perks. Inspectors of election appointed by Mr. Kaufman were Henry Lamouree, Frank Campochiaro, Mrs. Ella Myers, Dr. Guy Axtell, Daniel N. Lamb, William D. Brinnier III, Kenneth Beadle and LeRoy Jacobsen.

Patrolman Dismissed

New York, July 12 (AP)—Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams yesterday announced the dismissal from the force of Patrolman John F. Delaney, 33, who had been accused of breaking into a Nassau county tavern and taking $54 while on vacation last fall. Delaney was faced with departmental charges of conduct unbecoming an officer, failure to have his service revolver on his person, and engaging in other work—installing storm windows—while on the force. He pleaded guilty to the charges.

THIS IS A "DIFFERENT" INSURANCE COMPANY...

The development of policies such as these—designed to serve people better—has been the guiding principle of Farm Bureau Insurance since we were founded 29 years ago.

At that time a group of Ohio farmers, seeking ways to help themselves obtain lower cost insurance, started these Companies.

During the intervening years this idea of self-help has been expressed in many ways—advisory groups of policyholders meet annually to help plan our activities; related enterprises have been formed to help people finance homes and cars at lower cost; and loans have been provided to distributors of consumer goods.

These are typical examples of mutual enterprise—of people working together, not for private gain, but to help solve many of their economic needs.

South Gives Foe Miscue Chance

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The proper play of the club suit was the key to the hand shown today. South played it correctly, but the defenders were caught off guard. This is a situation that should be familiar to every experienced bridge player, so look it over carefully and make sure that you would put up the right defense if you were at the table.

West opened the five of diamonds, and dummy won the first trick with the queen. South saw that he had to bring the clubs in to make his contract. For a reason that will soon become apparent, declarer began the clubs by leading a low club from the dummy towards his own hand.

East made the mistake of playing a low club, and South played the nine. West won with the king of clubs, and was then through for the day. West couldn't lead another diamond safely, since dummy would win with the jack. At best, West could lead a spade, allowing South to win and knock out the ace of clubs. This gave South his nine tricks.

East should have put up the ace of clubs at the second trick instead of playing a low club. East would win the trick, of course, and would then lead his other diamond, allowing West to establish the suit. West would regain the lead with the king of clubs in time to set the contract with the rest of the diamonds.

From East's point of view, the moral of this hand is "Second hand high!" The idea is to preserve West's entry until his long suit is established, after which the entry will allow him to win tricks with the long suit.

Warm Weather Trend Changing U.S. Living

By JOHN ROBBINS
NEA Special Correspondent

Cleveland (NEA)—The effects of the one-degree warmup the country has experienced over the past 50 years have been felt only indirectly.

Americans today, for instance, buy fewer heavy overcoats and far less woolen underwear than their grandfathers. But retailers see it as a style change.

We spend less time out-of-doors. Our houses are warmer and better insulated. If America continues to warm up, the trend toward lighter, cooler clothing will probably go even farther.

AS SUMMER weather extends into spring and fall, Americans are likely to indulge in more outdoor living. Architects and builders in the next 25 years are going to have to take the sun more into account than they have in the past, and to design homes as much for "coolth" as for warmth.

The heating companies — coal, gas and oil—are already acutely conscious of the trend toward warmer weather.

They have worked out a new way of measuring the "amount" of cold that accumulates over a winter. They take 65 degrees as a normal, and subtract from it the mean temperature of any day below that figure. The result is called "degree days." A January averaging 35 degrees, for instance, would make up 1,085 degree days. Warm days simply aren't counted.

FIFTY YEARS ago the yearly totals of degree days in the northeastern states ran between 6,000 and 6,500. Today they are more likely to run between 5,000 and 5,500. That's 1,000 degrees against which grandfather had to buy fuel and you don't.

The problems of heating companies are complicated by the necessity of keeping their facilities ready for any sudden cold snap, and enough fuel on hand for the occasional humdinger of a bitter winter that defies the trend toward warmth.

POWER COMPANIES, on the other hand, are experiencing new summer prosperity. Longer daylight hours used to cut down on the amount of electricity consumers used for lighting. The last few years the boom in air conditioning has in many cities, been enough to offset the normal summer power decrease.

Air conditioning, in fact, offers security to America against the danger that the climate might grow too hot for comfort, for health and for maximum activity.

The steel industry, for instance, has learned how to air-condition the blazing-hot carriages from which, in the newest furnaces, technicians control the ladles full of molten metal.

Technical progress in air conditioning will probably go farther still. There is little danger that Americans will have to abandon any region merely because it gets too hot.

BUT THE HEAT WAVE that seems to be advancing across the country is bringing with it a real danger to industry and to agriculture-drouth. Most of the scientists who are predicting warmer weather believe that the current dry spell in the Southwest will spread farther and farther north and east.

This brings up a definite possibility that the southwestern states will grow too dry to support the populations now living there. The tremendous expenditures made on irrigating the semi-arid lands may turn out to have been wasted if those lands turn into deserts.

If the water table falls still further below the surface, and the streams continue to dry up in the summer, the industrial boom that has hit the Southwest since World War 2 may slacken.

Only one area in the country has an assured permanent supply of fresh water for unlimited use. That is the Great Lakes basin, located around the largest reservoir in the world.

Should the United States grow drier, industry is like to "migrate" to the shores of the Great Lakes to take advantage of perpetual drouth insurance. The combination of an assured water supply and the new St. Lawrence Seaway may turn the Lakes states into the most populous and prosperous region in the country.

Albany Man Drowns

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—A coroner has attributed the death of a man whose body was found in the Hudson river to drowning. Bernard J. CONSTRUCTION PROGRESSES AT IBM—Continued growth is the keynote at the new IBM Kingston plant, Neighborhood road, Town of Ulster, where men and machines are pushing construction rapidly on the former Boice farm. When completed the plant will consist of two manufacturing units. The original structure houses production facilities for an important air force project as well as the administration building. The new electric typewriter plant is now under construction adjoining the initially erected unit. Upper left is the north wing of the administration building where steel is being erected. Upper right, the new cooling tower provides chilled water for the air condition installations; it is situated at the rear of the plant toward Route 9W. Lower left, this boiler house will provide a central heating plant for IBM buildings. Lower right, new warehouse, separate from production units, is being erected on plant property near the West Shore Railroad freight spur which serves the plant.

Warm Weather Trend Changing U.S. Living

By JOHN ROBBINS
NEA Special Correspondent

Cleveland (NEA)—The effects of the one-degree warmup the country has experienced over the past 50 years have been felt only indirectly.

Americans today, for instance, buy fewer heavy overcoats and far less woolen underwear than their grandfathers. But retailers see it as a style change.

We spend less time out-of-doors. Our houses are warmer and better insulated. If America continues to warm up, the trend toward lighter, cooler clothing will probably go even farther.

AS SUMMER weather extends into spring and fall, Americans are likely to indulge in more outdoor living. Architects and builders in the next 25 years are going to have to take the sun more into account than they have in the past, and to design homes as much for "coolth" as for warmth.

The heating companies — coal, gas and oil—are already acutely conscious of the trend toward warmer weather.

They have worked out a new way of measuring the "amount" of cold that accumulates over a winter. They take 65 degrees as a normal, and subtract from it the mean temperature of any day below that figure. The result is called "degree days." A January averaging 35 degrees, for instance, would make up 1,085 degree days. Warm days simply aren't counted.

FIFTY YEARS ago the yearly totals of degree days in the northeastern states ran between 6,000 and 6,500. Today they are more likely to run between 5,000 and 5,500. That's 1,000 degrees against which grandfather had to buy fuel and you don't.

The problems of heating companies are complicated by the necessity of keeping their facilities ready for any sudden cold snap, and enough fuel on hand for the occasional humdinger of a bitter winter that defies the trend toward warmth.

POWER COMPANIES, on the other hand, are experiencing new summer prosperity. Longer daylight hours used to cut down on the amount of electricity consumers used for lighting. The last few years the boom in air conditioning has in many cities, been enough to offset the normal summer power decrease.

Air conditioning, in fact, offers security to America against the danger that the climate might grow too hot for comfort, for health and for maximum activity.

The steel industry, for instance, has learned how to air-condition the blazing-hot carriages from which, in the newest furnaces, technicians control the ladles full of molten metal.

Technical progress in air conditioning will probably go farther still. There is little danger that Americans will have to abandon any region merely because it gets too hot.

BUT THE HEAT WAVE that seems to be advancing across the country is bringing with it a real danger to industry and to agriculture-drouth. Most of the scientists who are predicting warmer weather believe that the current dry spell in the Southwest will spread farther and farther north and east.

This brings up a definite possibility that the southwestern states will grow too dry to support the populations now living there. The tremendous expenditures made on irrigating the semi-arid lands may turn out to have been wasted if those lands turn into deserts.

If the water table falls still further below the surface, and the streams continue to dry up in the summer, the industrial boom that has hit the Southwest since World War 2 may slacken.

Only one area in the country has an assured permanent supply of fresh water for unlimited use. That is the Great Lakes basin, located around the largest reservoir in the world.

Should the United States grow drier, industry is like to "migrate" to the shores of the Great Lakes to take advantage of perpetual drouth insurance. The combination of an assured water supply and the new St. Lawrence Seaway may turn the Lakes states into the most populous and prosperous region in the country.

Albany Man Drowns

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—A coroner has attributed the death of a man whose body was found in the Hudson river to drowning. Bernard J. Labombard, 49, of Albany, told his family on leaving home Sunday that he was going to the river bank to cool off. The body was found yesterday. Coroner Ronan Campion of Albany county said there was no sign of violence. He continued the investigation.

Bible School Change

Due to the many school meetings on centralization scheduled for Thursday, July 14, the Bloomingdale Reformed Church in Bloomington will hold the daily Vacation Bible School exercises at 7:30 p. m., Friday, July 15.

CONSTRUCTION PROGRESSES AT IBM—Continued growth is the keynote at the new IBM Kingston plant, Neighborhood road, Town of Ulster, where men and machines are pushing construction rapidly on the former Boice farm. When completed the plant will consist of two manufacturing units. The original structure houses production facilities for an important air force project as well as the administration building. The new electric typewriter plant is now under construction adjoining the initially erected unit. Upper left is the north wing of the administration building where steel is being erected. Upper right, the new cooling tower provides chilled water for the air condition installations; it is situated at the rear of the plant toward Route 9W. Lower left, this boiler house will provide a central heating plant for IBM buildings. Lower right, new warehouse, separate from production units, is being erected on plant property near the West Shore Railroad freight spur which serves the plant.

Shirley Ann Buckman Thomas G. Carlino Wed at St. Mary's

In St. Mary's Church, Miss Shirley Ann Buckman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Buckman of 59 West Chester street, became the bride of Thomas George Carlino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carlino of Glasco, in a double ring ceremony Sunday, July 3, at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated. A reception for 200 guests at The Barn was held following the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin, with lace bodice, long pointed sleeves and a scoop neckline. The bouffant skirt was of tulle over a deep peplum of lace, and was floor length, with semi-sweep train. Her veil of fingertip length white silk illusion was attached to a lace cap outlined in tulle and seed pearls. She carried a prayer book covered with white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Rachel Carlino, sister of the bridegroom, of Glasco, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Bernice Juhl, Miss Theresa Maccaline and Miss Patricia Arnold. Miss Linda Buckman was flower girl for her sister, and her brother, Edward, served on the altar.

The honor attendant wore a gown of aqua lace and tulle. The bodice was of lace and the bouffant skirt was of alternate lace and tulle ruffles. A lace jacket was worn over the gown. Her headpiece was an aqua beaded tiara, with a half veil. She carried a cascade of pink roses.

The three attendants wore gowns of aqua, with lace bodices. The tulle skirts had alternate ruffles of lace and tulle in the back. Their headpieces and jackets were identical to that worn by the maid of honor. They carried cascades of pink roses and carnations.

The flower girl wore a gown of white nylon tulle over aqua taffeta. Her scoop neckline was trimmed with apple blossoms. Her hoop skirt was in three tiers accented with a huge bow in the back. Her headpiece was of matching apple blossoms and tulle. She carried a basket of pink roses and carnations.

Salvatore Ferraro of Mt. Marion served as best man. The ushers were Joseph Cashara, Glasco, Joseph Ausanio, Delaware avenue, and Angelo Ferraro, Glasco.

Miss Patricia Keefe was soloist accompanied by Theodore Riccobono at the organ. White gladioli and pink roses were floral decorations on the altar.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Canada. For traveling, the bride chose an aqua suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. Kingston Hall of Records.

The bridegroom, who attended Saugerties High School, served overseas with the marine corps. He is now with Pilgrim Furniture Company.

THE BORROWERS!

I wish I knew the answer to the following question because it is one that comes up in almost every household: "Will you please tell me how I can politely refuse to lend things to neighbors of ours who are constantly borrowing one thing or another. I can see people being forced to borrow something occasionally, but these neighbors do it all the time and frankly I am getting very fed up with it. I would like your advice as to what I can do about this without causing unpleasantness."

The only solution I can give is for you to start borrowing from her until she realizes what a trial a constant borrower can be to others.

Wrong Move

Dear Mrs. Post: When a person makes a wrong play at the card table, is it necessary to apologize to your partner, or is it best to ignore it and say nothing?

Answer: It is best to keep your mind on the game and say nothing until after the hand when you might well say, I'm sorry, partner, I shouldn't have played the ten."

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to a seaside summer resort for two weeks and I would like to know the proper amount to tip the chambermaid and the waitress. Also, is it necessary to tip the head waitress who assigns us to a table when we arrive but who renders no special service after that?

Answer: If you are staying in an American plan hotel, you give the waiter or waitress at the end of each week about 10 per cent of the week's board. The chambermaid in a first-class hotel is given about one dollar a week a room. If the head waitress does nothing more than assign you to a table at the beginning of your stay, it is not necessary to give her a tip.

Should leafy salad be cut with a knife? This and other table rules of importance are included in leaflet E-19. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Answer: It is best to keep your mind on the game and say nothing until after the hand when you might well say, I'm sorry, partner, I shouldn't have played the ten."

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to a seaside summer resort for two weeks and I would like to know the proper amount to tip the chambermaid and the waitress. Also, is it necessary to tip the head waitress who assigns us to a table when we arrive but who renders no special service after that?

Answer: If you are staying in an American plan hotel, you give the waiter or waitress at the end of each week about 10 per cent of the week's board. The chambermaid in a first-class hotel is given about one dollar a week a room. If the head waitress does nothing more than assign you to a table at the beginning of your stay, it is not necessary to give her a tip.

Should leafy salad be cut with a knife? This and other table rules of importance are included in leaflet E-19. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Hobble Skirt Back In Fashion News At Fall Showings

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

New York, July 12 (AP)—A 1955 version of the hobble skirt, designed by Ceil Chapman and named the Castle Walk, is the sensation of New York's current week of fall fashion showings.

The astute Ceil, known for strictly fabulous cocktail and evening gowns beloved by all female television stars, dramatizes this return to the modes of World War 1 in spectacular fuchsia, lemon, mauve and gold lame satins and brocades. The skirt is draped peg-top fashion about the hips, hugs the ankles in back and is slit to the knee in front. This makes it possible to walk or dance with ease, and yet preserves the hobble skirt look.

Gasps and applause greeted these sensational styles when they were presented to members of the visiting fashion press, plunging into a week of hectic fall showings by New York designers.

Similar but less spectacular is Mrs. Chapman's Juliet silhouette, consisting of a curving petal like overskirt on a lush satin or lame sheath—this street length.

IN THE MOOD of new formality, this designer also shows a group of long, slinky sheath evening gowns in fabulous fabrics, sometimes accompanied by elegant fur-trimmed matching coats.

But the gowns dedicated to Irene Castle steal this show, and are slated for wide distribution this fall. You'll be seeking the Castle Walk hobble skirts all over the country this fall, since these were the pets of buyers who already have placed their orders, figuring American women are yearning for a change from the multi-petticoat evening silhouette. It's doubtful if you wear any petticoat at all with the new Castle Walk gowns.

Another star of the opening day of showings was Claire McCardell, who always can be depended upon to make fashion headlines.

In direct contrast to the polished and sophisticated gowns shown by Ceil Chapman, the casual Claire outdoes even herself in immortalizing the fashionably careless look with a costume that might have been designed for space travel and certainly should provide insulation at sub-zero temperatures. In bulky black, beige and brown checkered tweed, it consists of a loose fingertip length coat lined in fur and fastened with leather straps, plus a matching jumper dress. The coat has a huge cape collar which can be worn as a parka, and the whole should have wide appeal for college girls and eskimos.

MISS McCARDELL also shows sheath dresses and costumes in imaginative woolens, featuring both the lowest and the highest waistlines in town. Sometimes, the belt is below the hips, sometimes just beneath the bust. Usually, however, the midriff is well defined, and the effect is slender and graceful.

Miss McCardell's Liberty Bell silhouette is best illustrated by a costume of dark green tweed-coat with bell-shaped skirt over a plaid jersey dress in long-torso silhouette, skirt fullness starting at the hipline.

Her dress shirts are full-length hostess gowns made like an elongated shirt casually belted in the middle.

The costume, the torso line and the tunic are highlights of Jo Copeland's fall collection, done in rich fabrics, with much accent on combinations of satin and tweed. She stresses the 3-D look in textured surfaces achieved by elaborate shirring, such as is evident on a crushed raspberry satin theatre coat, horizontally shirred all over and worn with a white jeweled sheath.

A highlight is a floor-length sheath in gold lame with matching mink-collared jacket.

LA Strike Continues

Los Angeles, July 12 (AP)—Operators and maintenance men rejected the offer which Los Angeles Transit Lines officials hoped would get the company's strikebound streetcars and buses rolling again. Rejection of the latest company proposal means that the strike, now in its fourth week, will continue. The vehicles which usually provide transportation for 900,000 daily riders remained parked in the car barns and depots. The strike began June 20.

Betsy Jane Powley, David Wallingford United in Marriage

Madison, N. J., July 9—The marriage of Miss Betsy Jane Powley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Edgar Powley of Convent, N. J., to David Wallingford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wallingford of Belmont, Mass., took place here this afternoon in the Presbyterian Church. The Rev. William McVey of Kingston officiated. A reception was held at the Morris County Golf Club, Convent.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk taffeta with Chantilly lace insets and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of Eucharist lilies and stephanotis.

Miss Wendy Hull of Brooklyn was maid of honor. The other attendants were the Misses Sally Howard of Wellesley, Mass., Nancy Eustis of Waterville, Me., Mary Jane Gidley of Drexel Hill, Penn., and Mrs. Philip Morse of Warwick, Va. They wore white organdy bouffant dresses embroidered in yellow with yellow satin sashes and picture hats. Their bouquets were yellow daisies and ivy.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Ushers were Robert Wallingford, brother of the groom; Mark Edgar Powley 3rd, brother of the bride; John Deering of Portland, Me., and Joseph Lovegren of Belmont, Mass.

Mrs. Wallingford was graduated from Bradford Junior College and Colby College and was a member of the faculty of the Gill School, Bernardsville, N. J. Mr. Wallingford was graduated from Belmont High School and Colby College.

After a trip the couple will fly to Germany where Mr. Wallingford is serving with the army in Bad Kreuznach.

The bride's parents formerly lived in Kingston. Guests from this city who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Caunitz, Mrs. M. E. Powley, Miss Beatrice Poyley, Mrs. William Henninger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw.

Red Farmers Coming

London, July 12 (AP)—Thirteen Russian farm leaders left Moscow by plane today for the United States, where they will tour Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and California. Moscow radio, announcing their departure, said the group is led by Vladimir Matskevich, first deputy minister of agriculture.

Miss Ann Steenken Is Engaged to Wed

Saugerties, July 12—Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Steenken of Malden-on-Hudson, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ann E. Steenken, to Wilbur B. Clarey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Clarey of Squirrel Island, Me.

Miss Steenken, a graduate of the Emma Willard School was a member of the class of 1953 at Pembroke College, Brown University. She is a member of the Pembroke Club of New York and is a provisional member of the Kingston Junior League.

Her grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Caswell of Malden-on-Hudson and the late Mr. and Mrs. John G. Steenken of Brooklyn. Mr. Clarey is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Powell of Summit, N. J., and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Clarey of Des Moines, Ia.

Mr. Clarey, a graduate of the Army-Navy Academy, Carlsbad, Calif., and Williams College class of 1951 is a member of St. Anthony Hall. He belongs to the Williams Club of New York and served with the Air Force.

iately clear. But the recommendation—if upheld by the House and Senate—might delay completion of the academy for from six months to a year. The Air Force had planned to move into the academy by the fall of 1957.

Today's appropriation bill is scheduled to be the last to start through Congress at this session. A new request for money to keep the academy work going would normally have to wait at least until next January.

A full-dress air force display was staged at Denver yesterday in connection with dedication of the new school by Secretary Talbott. He read a message from President Eisenhower saying the Air Force Academy "joins a proud company" including West Point and Annapolis.

THE DEDICATION was held in admitting the first class of 306 cadets to a temporary academy established at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver. Congress last year voted a million dollars for this temporary setup.

The committee made no reference in its report to testimony given a subcommittee last week by Frank Lloyd Wright, the noted and controversial architect. Wright complained that "half-baked" designs for ultra-modern buildings would convert the academy into a "wayside market." He has termed the proposed design "a birdmen's factory"

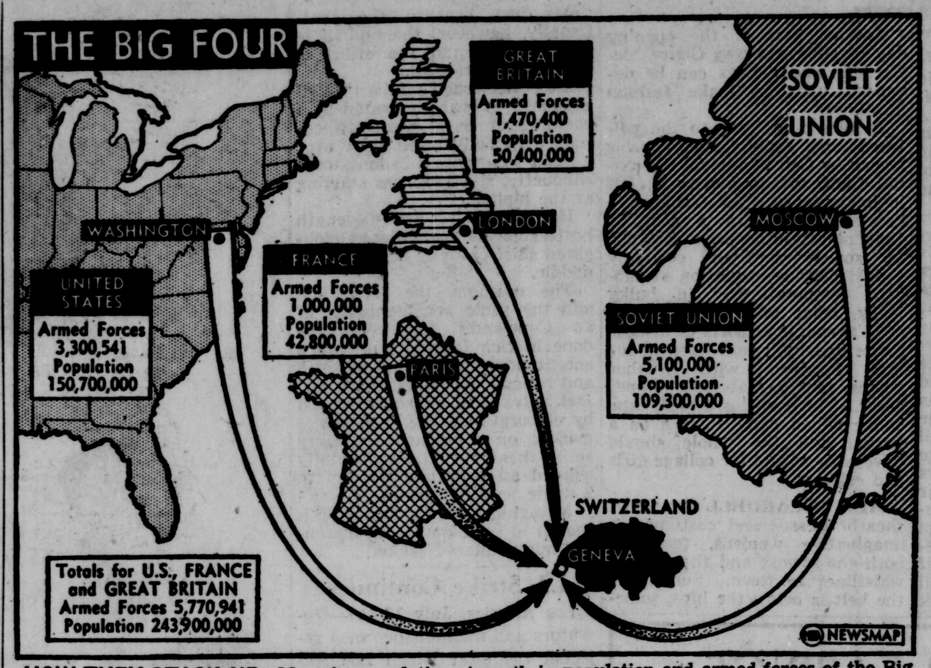

The firm which is designing the academy is Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, of Chicago. One of the partners, John O. Merrill, has called the over-all design "good—considering, as it must be considered—the terrain of the site."

Much of the criticism centered on photographs of a chapel model which Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) once said looked like an "assembly of wigwams."

Not Convinced

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) said today "the very high brass" has not convinced him he is wrong in opposing the Pentagon's compulsory military reserve program. "I haven't heard anything here yet to cause me to change my mind," Russell told reporters after the Senate Armed Services Committee he heads had wound up hearings on a new reserve program strongly urged by President Eisenhower. He added he will continue to push his substitute plan to offer a $400 cash bonus to any veteran who enlists in the army or marine corps ready reserves.

The operetta "Hansel and Gretel" is the best known composition of Humperdinck.

HOW THEY STACK UP—Map shows relative strength in population and armed forces of the Big Four before their conference in Geneva. Note that U.S.S.R.'s armed forces total nearly as much as the combined strength of the U.S., France and Great Britain.

NO LITTLE LITTER—Miss Priss feels she needs an icebag atop her head as she contemplates her outsized litter of 14 pups. Four of the English boxer's youngsters are farmed out to "wet nurses" because Miss Priss ran out of faucets. The dogs are owned by Mr. and Mrs. Lane Gluba, of Rock Island, Ill.

The "little big shots" can be fired just like a real cannon. Powder, paper wad and ball are rammed into the muzzle and the charge is touched off with a smoldering punk. They have amazed artillerymen with their accuracy. One-inch bulls-eyes at 200 yards are commonplace. Two of Herd's cannon are being fired at targets in above photo.

Temporary . . .

Louis A. DiDonna.

Plaintiffs secured an order to show cause, signed by Justice Harry E. Schirick, which was made returnable before Justice Bookstein at special term on June 3. At that time the matter was argued and submitted and Justice Bookstein had granted the temporary injunction sought by plaintiffs to restrain placing the ordinance in effect until the matter has been tried out in Supreme Court.

IN AFFIDAVITS which were submitted to the court plaintiffs allege they buy used cars, some of which are repaired and resold while others are stored on their premises and used parts removed and sold. This outdoor storage augments inside storage by some dealers, and they allege their business is not that of a "junk yard" and that after the usable parts have been sold, the remaining parts of the vehicles are then sold to a junk dealer and removed from their premises. Their business does not come under the category of a junk business, it is alleged, and therefore their business does not come under any regulation which might be effective in the case of a junk yard or any ordinance relating to operation of junk yards.

Plaintiffs allege the town of Ulster has attempted to bring their used car parts business under the junk law which pertains to businesses where waste paper, rags, scrap metals, etc., are stored and sold.

THE LAW does not comply with the Town Law of the State of New York and seeks in a discriminatory manner to restrict the car parts business and require licensing of their business contrary to law, plaintiffs allege.

The ordinance in part says no person shall engage in the business of dealer in second hand articles in the town of Ulster, except in a duly licensed junk yard. A fee of $25 is required to accompany the application for the license and that fee is to meet the cost of inspection and investigation. The granting of the license is at the discretion of the town board and costs $300 a year, the license to expire on December 31.

The ordinance excludes from its provision dealers in used bicycles, motorcycles and other vehicles but also stated that although junk yards may sell such vehicles such sale of used vehicles does not take the same out of the classification of junk yard, if the premises are used for any of the purposes enumerated in the town definition of junk yard.

Bootless Regrets

Austin, Tex. (AP)—On his 85th birthday, W. J. Parnell recalled when he came here 84 years ago, land could be bought for a pair of boots. How come his folks didn't buy a chunk of it. "We didn't have the boots," he said.

Camp Committees Play Vital Role InWendyProgram

Wallkill, July 12—The Ulster County Girl Scout summer calendar is checkered with interesting events designed to provide long and happy holidays in the season ahead at Camp Wendy, Wallkill.

The women and men who serve on the camp committee and those who assume the responsibility of leading troops and mapping out camp activities, are living examples of believing, belonging and building for the benefit of young ladies in Ulster county. They work long and hard for scouting because they believe in it. These adults make it possible for Ulster county to sustain a flourishing, vital, all-year-round Scout program.

SERVING on the camp committee includes president Mrs. Donovan Beuhring who is assisted by Henry Page of Woodstock, chairman. Also, Otis Campbell, Kerhonkson; Mr. and Mrs. Haitze de Vrien, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gray, High Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Hasbrouck, High Falls, Albert Haessig, Wallkill; William Heidgerd, New Paltz; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lang, West Shokan; Kenneth E. Martin, Woodstock; Angelo Syracuse, Napanoch and Mrs. Donald Tinnie of Port Ewen.

The great achievement of Camp Wendy, which is supported by the effort and energy by volunteer men and women "pitching in" and through camping fees paid by the girls and by donations made during the annual Girl Scout finance drive, is, that it makes the wilderness appealing. The program is well in advance of most camp practices. It's a family of friendly cabins and tents scattered along the Wallkill river. Camping out is fun, which makes it a lot easier for leaders and counselors to lead girls toward broader social objectives.

As the first camping session is in the throes of closing, the highlights for the session began with a camp parade July 4. The Wallkill Fire Department volunteered to repair the rope on the flag pole. Color celebration followed. The morning was also spent with swimming tests.

The camp committee sees to it that the camp is operated according to the standard of the National Girl Scout Camp Division, meeting the Red Cross life saving requirements on the waterfront and with regular inspection by the Ulster County Department of Health.

Following an old-fashioned picnic in the afternoon of the opening day with a twilight picnic supper around a bonfire, various historical skits that were in keeping with the holiday was presented. The following evening an all-camp campfire in the new campfire quarters in the jungle spot of the area was conducted. The jungle unit presented some new camp songs in their sing-song session.

The following program by various units was presented: The two youngest units—Tinkerbell and the Indians presented "Three Dukes" and a "Day at Camp" respectively; Greenwood unit enacted an original playlet "The Wendy Girls"; the Pioneers entertained with a parody about the staff and their activities; Romany unit presented a preview of "Pinafore."

Units that had a sleep-out were the Greenwood and Pioneer units in the Pines; the Jungle 'gals' went to Romany Hill and the Romany unit visited with the Garrison Farm in Wallkill.

Hurt in Collision

Raymond Prusak, 37, of 125 Mary's avenue, was treated by a private physician this morning for injuries to his left side and chest suffered in a collision police said about 5:50 a. m. today between his 1952 passenger car and another passenger vehicle operated by Virginia M. Scism, 29, of 234½ Wall street. The Prusak car was proceedings east on O'Reilly and the Scism car south on Broadway at the time of the collision. The left rear of the Prusak car and the entire front end of the Scism vehicle were reported damaged. The Prusak car had to be towed away. Investigating were officers Edward Edwards and Gerald Evory.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis LaSalle of Brooklyn are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minnikine.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Woolsey on July 6, entertained the following, all of the New York Telephone Company of Brooklyn, who called on Mr. Woolsey, a retired Telephone Company employe: Alexander Carrie, Walter Wright, Arthur VanEssen and Robert Rowley. The Woolseys also entertained Mr. and Mrs. Garard Deegan and family of Brooklyn.

Among the 12 Ulster county 4-H'ers attending the 29th Annual 4-H Club Congress, held at Cornell University, June 28 to July 1, was James Yarter of Tillson.

30,000th Immigrant In

New York, July 12 (AP)—The 30,000th immigrant to this country under the Refugee Relief Act of 1953 arrived today aboard the transport Gen. W. C. Langfitt. Edward Zimmer, 46, Romanian-born blacksmith who fled his native Bessarabia when the Russians annexed it, was the 30,000th person admitted under the act. He was among 1,243 refugees aboard the Langfitt, which completed its first sailing under the 26-member nation intergovernmental committee for European migration. Nine other refugee ship trips are planned this year.

KOREA'S CUTEST — Korea has recovered from the war enough to produce a comely candidate for the forthcoming Miss Universe contest in California. She's Kim Lee Jaung, 21, crowned "Miss Korea 1955" after winning from 101 other candidates in Seoul.

CEYLON EXPORT — Comely Maureen Hingert, a Ceylonese girl of Dutch descent, poses prettily after being named "Miss Ceylon of 1955" in a contest in Colombo. She's headed for Long Beach, Calif., to compete for the title of "Miss Universe."

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, July 12—A large group of volunteer firemen and Grangers set about improving swimming facilities in the Esopus Creek under the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant bridge Sunday morning. With the aid of a bulldozer operated by Clyde Smith, the men considerably improved the wading and swimming areas. Local boarding houses are also supporting the project.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hogan of Wittenberg visited Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schuhose recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byron celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary Saturday.

Visiting friends and relatives here Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Szekretar and sons, Kenneth and Allen. Kenneth Szekretar will remain here for a two-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey.

The second square dance of the season was held in the former schoolhouse Saturday night, with Carlton Hoyt, William Spanhake and Barney Sjursen providing the music and Joseph Haver calling. The dances, which are sponsored by the Community Association, will take place ever Saturday at 8:45 p. m.

Mrs. Barbara Messenger and son, George Wilhelm of Irvington, N. J., and this village, are enjoying a three-week vacation at their home on the Wittenberg road. Mrs. Messenger is a sister of Mrs. Fred Hornbach.

Camp Committees Play Vital Role In Wendy Program

Wallkill, July 12—The Ulster County Girl Scout summer calendar is checkered with interesting events designed to provide long and happy holidays in the season ahead at Camp Wendy, Wallkill.

The women and men who serve on the camp committee and those who assume the responsibility of leading troops and mapping out camp activities, are living examples of believing, belonging and building for the benefit of young ladies in Ulster county. They work long and hard for scouting because they believe in it. These adults make it possible for Ulster county to sustain a flourishing, vital, all-year-round Scout program.

SERVING on the camp committee includes president Mrs. Donovan Beuhring who is assisted by Henry Page of Woodstock, chairman. Also, Otis Campbell, Kerhonkson; Mr. and Mrs. Haitze de Vrien, Milton; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gray, High Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Hasbrouck, High Falls, Albert Haessig, Wallkill; William Heidgerd, New Paltz; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lang, West Shokan; Kenneth E. Martin, Woodstock; Angelo Syracuse, Napanoch and Mrs. Donald Tinnie of Port Ewen.

The great achievement of Camp Wendy, which is supported by the effort and energy by volunteer men and women "pitching in" and through camping fees paid by the girls and by donations made during the annual Girl Scout finance drive, is, that it makes the wilderness appealing. The program is well in advance of most camp practices. It's a family of friendly cabins and tents scattered along the Wallkill river. Camping out is fun, which makes it a lot easier for leaders and counselors to lead girls toward broader social objectives.

As the first camping session is in the throes of closing, the highlights for the session began with a camp parade July 4. The Wallkill Fire Department volunteered to repair the rope on the flag pole. Color celebration followed. The morning was also spent with swimming tests.

The camp committee sees to it that the camp is operated according to the standard of the National Girl Scout Camp Division, meeting the Red Cross life saving requirements on the waterfront and with regular inspection by the Ulster County Department of Health.

Following an old-fashioned picnic in the afternoon of the opening day with a twilight picnic supper around a bonfire, various historical skits that were in keeping with the holiday was presented. The following evening an all-camp campfire in the new campfire quarters in the jungle spot of the area was conducted. The jungle unit presented some new camp songs in their sing-song session.

The following program by various units was presented: The two youngest units—Tinkerbell and the Indians presented "Three Dukes" and a "Day at Camp" respectively; Greenwood unit enacted an original playlet "The Wendy Girls"; the Pioneers entertained with a parody about the staff and their activities; Romany unit presented a preview of "Pinafore."

Units that had a sleep-out were the Greenwood and Pioneer units in the Pines; the Jungle 'gals' went to Romany Hill and the Romany unit visited with the Garrison Farm in Wallkill.

Hurt in Collision

Raymond Prusak, 37, of 125 Mary's avenue, was treated by a private physician this morning for injuries to his left side and chest suffered in a collision police said about 5:50 a. m. today between his 1952 passenger car and another passenger vehicle operated by Virginia M. Scism, 29, of 234½ Wall street. The Prusak car was proceedings east on O'Reilly and the Scism car south on Broadway at the time of the collision. The left rear of the Prusak car and the entire front end of the Scism vehicle were reported damaged. The Prusak car had to be towed away. Investigating were officers Edward Edwards and Gerald Evory.

Tillson

Tillson, July 12—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Tillson Reformed Church will hold its annual fair and baked ham supper Saturday, July 16. The fair will start at 2 p. m., and at 5:30 p. m., the supper will be served in the church hall. The fair will be held on the church lawn. The public is invited.

George Fernandez, principal of the Tillson school in charge of the summer recreation program, announced over the weekend that attendance to the various activities has been very good. Over 70 children have enrolled, with an average daily attendance of about 40. Any children in the community who have not yet registered or joined in any of the activities are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Born entertained on July 4 in honor of their son, Walter, Jr., on the occasion of his 15th birthday. An outdoor spaghetti dinner was served. Those attending included Mrs. Michael Rollo and children Michael and Diane of Brooklyn; and from Tillson, Mrs. Margaret Taylor and children David and George; Mrs. Peter Hoffman, Jr., and daughter Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz and daughters Jessie and Susan; Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Harvey and daughter Marilyn; William Wakeley, Jr., Robert Bushman, Lawrence, Richard, Maureen, Gerald and Helen Born.

In honor of their daughter, Laura Sue's second birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Barringer recently entertained the following: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Dewey, Jr., of Brewster; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lord of Levittown; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Barringer of Cottekill; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barringer and children Mary and Billy of Red Hook; Mr. and Mrs. William Marinez of South Fallsburg; Leonard Rall of Red Hook and Miss Frances Barringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis LaSalle of Brooklyn are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minnikine.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Woolsey on July 6, entertained the following, all of the New York Telephone Company of Brooklyn, who called on Mr. Woolsey, a retired Telephone Company employe: Alexander Carrie, Walter Wright, Arthur VanEssen and Robert Rowley. The Woolseys also entertained Mr. and Mrs. Garard Deegan and family of Brooklyn.

Among the 12 Ulster county 4-H'ers attending the 29th Annual 4-H Club Congress, held at Cornell University, June 28 to July 1, was James Yarter of Tillson.

30,000th Immigrant In

New York, July 12 (AP)—The 30,000th immigrant to this country under the Refugee Relief Act of 1953 arrived today aboard the transport Gen. W. C. Langfitt. Edward Zimmer, 46, Romanian-born blacksmith who fled his native Bessarabia when the Russians annexed it, was the 30,000th person admitted under the act. He was among 1,243 refugees aboard the Langfitt, which completed its first sailing under the 26-member nation intergovernmental committee for European migration. Nine other refugee ship trips are planned this year.

KOREA'S CUTEST — Korea has recovered from the war enough to produce a comely candidate for the forthcoming Miss Universe contest in California. She's Kim Lee Jaung, 21, crowned "Miss Korea 1955" after winning from 101 other candidates in Seoul.

CEYLON EXPORT — Comely Maureen Hingert, a Ceylonese girl of Dutch descent, poses prettily after being named "Miss Ceylon of 1955" in a contest in Colombo. She's headed for Long Beach, Calif., to compete for the title of "Miss Universe."

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, July 12 — A large group of volunteer firemen and Grangers set about improving swimming facilities in the Esopus Creek under the Mt. Tremper-Mt. Pleasant bridge Sunday morning. With the aid of a bulldozer operated by Clyde Smith, the men considerably improved the wading and swimming areas. Local boarding houses are also supporting the project.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hogan of Wittenberg visited Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schuhose recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byron celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary Saturday.

Visiting friends and relatives here Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Szekretar and sons, Kenneth and Allen. Kenneth Szekretar will remain here for a two-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey.

The second square dance of the season was held in the former schoolhouse Saturday night, with Carlton Hoyt, William Spanhake and Barney Sjursen providing the music and Joseph Haver calling. The dances, which are sponsored by the Community Association, will take place ever Saturday at 8:45 p. m.

Mrs. Barbara Messenger and son, George Wilhelm of Irvington, N. J., and this village, are enjoying a three-week vacation at their home on the Wittenberg road. Mrs. Messenger is a sister of Mrs. Fred Hornbach.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen Carle spent a few days in the Adirondacks last week.

Bernard Brinks and Reese Smith, Jr., journeyed to Freeport Thursday night and spent Friday deep-sea fishing for bluefish. Mr. Brinks' uncle is captain of a party fishing boat, sailing out of Freeport. The two anglers returned here Friday night with a nice catch of blues.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ramsell and children, Margaret Mary, Richard and Mary Patricia are enjoying a vacation at Beach Haven, N. J.

The Rev. Albert Shanley arrived in Phoenicia last week to assume the duties of assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales Parish. Father Shanley, who has been an Army chaplain, spent six years in Texas parishes before coming here.

Miss Gertrude Savary recently reopened her home on the Onteora Trail for the summer. Miss Savary, who is a high school teacher in Union City, N. J., lives in Weehawken, N. J., during the major part of the year.

HAPPY TEARS—Patricia Ann O'Kane, 19, of Valley Stream, N.Y., wipes tears of joy from her eyes after winning the title of "Miss New York, 1955" at Palisades Park, N.J. The blonde beauty is 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighs 133 pounds and measures 36, 24, 36.

Centralization

date was held at the Marbletown Central School when 175 taxpayers and parents were present to hear and participate in the discussions.

Overcrowding in most of these schools and state insistence that districts be centralized (97 per cent of the state is centralized) are reported to be "forcing" the issue. According to the centralization committee, something must be done soon to meet school emergencies. Marbletown Central Elementary School, built in 1951 for 300 students, now has 450, plus more than 100 attending high school elsewhere. Kerhonkson Union Free, built in 1926 for 250 students, now has 450 in the main building and is renting space outside for 150 elementary students. Union Free School in Rosendale is overcrowded and some of the common schools in the area are operating with inadequate facilities which the state is demanding be changed. Accord is reported wondering where their junior and senior high school students will be sent.

It was pointed out by the committee that the meetings were only for the purpose of acquainting the people with the centralization issue and to answer their questions.

Diamond Judging

A diamond which has the highest degree of purity and fineness is said to be of the first water. Color is the most important thing in judging a diamond. Those of the finest quality are perfectly clear.

MAY GET JOB—Reuben B. Robertson, Jr., Cincinnati and Hamilton, O., industrialist, has been mentioned as possible successor to Robert B. Anderson who resigned (July 11) as Deputy Secretary of Defense effective about Aug. 15. Robertson is president of the Champion Paper & Fibre Co., of Hamilton. (AP Wirephoto)

First Universal Peace Conference at The Hague, Netherlands, was called by Czar Nicholas II, of Russia, May 18, 1899.

Call for Ouster

cision by Memphis to build its own power plant which brought about the suspension of the Dixon-Yates contract.

A FORMER Memphis mayor was sharply critical of the decision to build the power plant and called the decision a blow of the TVA.

Watkins Overton, who is expected to seek the mayor's post again in November, said at Memphis yesterday that "for Memphis to break with TVA is exactly what its opponents would love to happen."

"Why should we be the first to desert the agency which has made it possible for us to enjoy low-cost power for 20 years, just because TVA got a temporary setback in Congress?"

OVERTON said "we are told we are going to have a 100 million dollar power plant" but added "what its actual cost will be, we don't know. One thing we do know—it is not the mayor or city officials who will pay for it—the people of Memphis will pay for it."

In Chattanooga, the chairman of the Electric Power Board said that city is ready to build its own power generating plant if the "threat of a TVA dominated by the private power monopoly should become a reality."

L. J. Whilhoite said yesterday: "The action of President Eisenhower in ordering the cancellation of the nefarious Dixon-Yates contract which had for its sole purpose the sabotaging of TVA . . . has happily removed for the time being the need of Chattanooga's considering the building of a steam plant.

"Unfortunately, however, the cancellation of that contract does not permanently remove the threat of a TVA dominated by the private power monopoly and if and when that threat should become a reality then in my judgment Chattanooga will follow the good example set by its sister city of Memphis."

None Are Injured In Car-Truck Mishap

A car-truck collision on Route 209 about a mile south of Ellenville was investigated by troopers of the Ellenville Station about 10:20 p. m. yesterday.

Troopers N. G. Lecakes and J. Huntoon said there were no injuries and no arrests. The two vehicles received minor damages.

A 1953 truck, operated by John Henry Irwin, 43, of Napanoch, traveling north, stopped along the highway, troopers reported, and was struck in the rear by a 1949 sedan operated by George William McKenzie, 20, of Ellenville.

Corn Problems Loom

Washington, July 12 (AP)—A federal crop estimate indicates corn—the nation's No. 1 crop in point of acreage and production volume—may soon be plagued by the same surplus problems as wheat, cotton, rice and some other crops. In its first major 1955 production forecast, the agriculture department said late yesterday the year's total crop volume may be second only to the record set in 1948. Corn and other livestock feed grains contributed heavily to this anticipated big harvest.

MORROW JOINS PRESIDENT'S STAFF—Everett Frederic Morrow, of Hackensack, N. J., is sworn in as a member of Pres. Eisenhower's executive staff in ceremony at White House (July 11). Administering oath is Frank Sanderson, right, White House administrative officer as Sherman Adams, center, assitant to the President, looks on. Morrow, first Negro named to a top job in Eisenhower's executive office, will be administrative officer for the special projects group. (AP Wirephoto)

Big Turn-Around Begins

Troops Start Flying Home From Japan Base

Itazuke Air Base, Japan, July 12 (AP)—The big turn-around began today in history's longest and biggest airlift.

Operation Gyroscope still bringing in approximately 90 troops of the 508th Regimental Combat Team from Ft. Campbell, Ky., every two hours in giant C124 Globemaster transports, began lifting the same number of relieved troops on the homeward hop.

The departing outfit is the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team which began leaving this morning from this southern Japan base for Ft. Bragg, N. C.

EMPHASIZING the speed at which large numbers of troops move about the world these days, the 187th is scheduled to take part in a practice parachute jump at Ft. Bragg only 56 hours after departure here. The men will transfer to a C119 Flying Boxcar for the drop, the army said.

The 187th is the famous "Angels from Hell" combat team of World War 2 and Korean war fame. They have been in the Far East five years.

Assuming command of the 187th at midnight tonight, midway between Wake Island and Honolulu, is Col. Curtis J. Herrick of Alton, Ill., who left here on the first homeward bound Globemaster today as deputy commander. He takes over from Brig. Gen. Roy Lindquist, Pittsfield, Me., who is remaining in Japan to become chief of staff of the army's Ninth Corps at Sendai, northern Japan.

THE INCOMING troops of the 508th RCT are landing at Ashiya Air Base 35 miles northwest of here, loading into steam trains and moving to their new quarters near Beppu, the famous hot springs resort town on the inland sea coast of this southern island.

By now around two-thirds of the 3,900 troops of the 508th have arrived.

As the 30th giant plane landed at Ashiya today, only one minor hitch had marred the clock-like precision on which the big airlift has been operating. One C124 had to turn back to Wake Island when an engine failed. Two others halted at Wake to await new engines.

Col. Norman E. Tipton, commander of the 508th, said today that "Operation Gyroscope," conceived by the army to move whole units instead of individuals and allow servicemen to live more with their families, already had indicated regulations need rewriting to speed movement of transfer of soldiers and movement of their families and household goods.

Three Forfeit Bail

Three persons charged with speeding in the city of Kingston forfeited bail when they failed to appear in City Court this morning. They were Anthony DeFrancesco, 41, of Astoria, L. I., Melvin Meachum, Jr., 38, of Liberty, and Richard Kaser, 19, of Cobleskill. DeFrancesco was arrested at 11 a. m. Monday on East Chester street near Cassidy street by Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr. Meachum was arrested at 12:50 p. m. Monday on East Chester street near Garrison street. Kaser was arrested on Broadway by Officers William Snyder and Joseph Keller at 1 a. m. today charged with speeding 50 m.p.h.

Progress Reports

false Soviet peace propaganda."

George, who conferred with Eisenhower and Dulles yesterday, forecast a speedy okay from the Foreign Relations Committee for a resolution offered yesterday by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader. Knowland said he acted with "full approval" of the President.

THE RESOLUTION would put the Senate on record as expressing hope that subject peoples in Europe and Asia will gain their freedom.

Although frankly aimed at the Soviet satellites, the resolution does not name Russia nor speak of communism. Rather, it expresses concern for peoples subject to "totalitarian imperialism" and "alien despotism." An expression of sentiment, it would have no binding effect on anyone.

With the backing of George, Wiley and acting Democratic leader Clements (Ky.), Knowland offered the proposal in an obvious move to head off a resolution by McCarthy.

MC CARTHY asked the Senate to go on record for severing diplomatic relations with the Russian-dominated satellite governments and to recognize instead government-in-exile.

Clements blocked McCarthy's efforts for immediate action on this proposal and forced its assignment to the foreign relations committee. George said in an interview he will oppose it there.

McCarthy, without mentioning the Knowland resolution, said a mere expression of "pious hope" that the captive peoples will gain their freedom would "invite the world to think we are hypocrites."

"WE INVITE them to conclude what they already suspect—namely, that the American government's concern for the oppressed people is a cheap politician's concern about how Americans of eastern European descent will vote in the next election," he said.

From outside the group invited to the White House today came several suggestions for actions at Geneva.

Sen. Flanders (R.-Vt.) suggested that Eisenhower announce there the United States will not use atomic bombs on population centers except in reprisal for similar enemy attacks.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.) noted Eisenhower has said he expects no final settlements of controversial issues at Geneva and observed that the country ought not to expect too much.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) said in a statement Congress ought not to adjourn until after the President returns and reports on the Geneva conference.

No Large Bodies of Water

Early telescopic observers thought that dark areas on the planet Mars were water, but more recent data indicates that there are no large bodies of water on the planet.

Whitfield Withdrawn

Washington, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower today formally withdrew the nomination of Allen Whitfield, Des Moines attorney, to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. The action was taken at the request of Whitfield. He told the President last Friday that he did not wish to involve the commission in "political controversy."

Centralization

date was held at the Marbletown Central School when 175 taxpayers and parents were present to hear and participate in the discussions.

Overcrowding in most of these schools and state insistence that districts be centralized (97 per cent of the state is centralized) are reported to be "forcing" the issue. According to the centralization committee, something must be done soon to meet school emergencies. Marbletown Central Elementary School, built in 1951 for 300 students, now has 450, plus more than 100 attending high school elsewhere. Kerhonkson Union Free, built in 1926 for 250 students, now has 450 in the main building and is renting space outside for 150 elementary students. Union Free School in Rosendale is overcrowded and some of the common schools in the area are operating with inadequate facilities which the state is demanding be changed. Accord is reported wondering where their junior and senior high school students will be sent.

It was pointed out by the committee that the meetings were only for the purpose of acquainting the people with the centralization issue and to answer their questions.

First Universal Peace Conference at The Hague, Netherlands, was called by Czar Nicholas II, of Russia, May 18, 1899.

Call for Ouster

cision by Memphis to build its own power plant which brought about the suspension of the Dixon-Yates contract.

A FORMER Memphis mayor was sharply critical of the decision to build the power plant and called the decision a blow of the TVA.

Watkins Overton, who is expected to seek the mayor's post again in November, said at Memphis yesterday that "for Memphis to break with TVA is exactly what its opponents would love to happen."

"Why should we be the first to desert the agency which has made it possible for us to enjoy low-cost power for 20 years, just because TVA got a temporary setback in Congress?"

OVERTON said "we are told we are going to have a 100 million dollar power plant" but added "what its actual cost will be, we don't know. One thing we do know—it is not the mayor or city officials who will pay for it—the people of Memphis will pay for it."

In Chattanooga, the chairman of the Electric Power Board said that city is ready to build its own power generating plant if the "threat of a TVA dominated by the private power monopoly should become a reality."

L. J. Whilhoite said yesterday: "The action of President Eisenhower in ordering the cancellation of the nefarious Dixon-Yates contract which had for its sole purpose the sabotaging of TVA . . . has happily removed for the time being the need of Chattanooga's considering the building of a steam plant.

"Unfortunately, however, the cancellation of that contract does not permanently remove the threat of a TVA dominated by the private power monopoly and if and when that threat should become a reality then in my judgment Chattanooga will follow the good example set by its sister city of Memphis."

None Are Injured In Car-Truck Mishap

A car-truck collision on Route 209 about a mile south of Ellenville was investigated by troopers of the Ellenville Station about 10:20 p. m. yesterday.

Troopers N. G. Lecakes and J. Huntoon said there were no injuries and no arrests. The two vehicles received minor damages.

Corn Problems Loom

Washington, July 12 (AP)—A federal crop estimate indicates corn—the nation's No. 1 crop in point of acreage and production volume—may soon be plagued by the same surplus problems as wheat, cotton, rice and some other crops. In its first major 1955 production forecast, the agriculture department said late yesterday the year's total crop volume may be second only to the record set in 1948. Corn and other livestock feed grains contributed heavily to this anticipated big harvest.

Big Turn-Around Begins

Troops Start Flying Home From Japan Base

Itazuke Air Base, Japan, July 12 (AP)—The big turn-around began today in history's longest and biggest airlift.

Operation Gyroscope still bringing in approximately 90 troops of the 508th Regimental Combat Team from Ft. Campbell, Ky., every two hours in giant C124 Globemaster transports, began lifting the same number of relieved troops on the homeward hop.

The departing outfit is the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team which began leaving this morning from this southern Japan base for Ft. Bragg, N. C.

EMPHASIZING the speed at which large numbers of troops move about the world these days, the 187th is scheduled to take part in a practice parachute jump at Ft. Bragg only 56 hours after departure here. The men will transfer to a C119 Flying Boxcar for the drop, the army said.

The 187th is the famous "Angels from Hell" combat team of World War 2 and Korean war fame. They have been in the Far East five years.

Assuming command of the 187th at midnight tonight, midway between Wake Island and Honolulu, is Col. Curtis J. Herrick of Alton, Ill., who left here on the first homeward bound Globemaster today as deputy commander. He takes over from Brig. Gen. Roy Lindquist, Pittsfield, Me., who is remaining in Japan to become chief of staff of the army's Ninth Corps at Sendai, northern Japan.

THE INCOMING troops of the 508th RCT are landing at Ashiya Air Base 35 miles northwest of here, loading into steam trains and moving to their new quarters near Beppu, the famous hot springs resort town on the inland sea coast of this southern island.

By now around two-thirds of the 3,900 troops of the 508th have arrived.

As the 30th giant plane landed at Ashiya today, only one minor hitch had marred the clock-like precision on which the big airlift has been operating. One C124 had to turn back to Wake Island when an engine failed. Two others halted at Wake to await new engines.

Col. Norman E. Tipton, commander of the 508th, said today that "Operation Gyroscope," conceived by the army to move whole units instead of individuals and allow servicemen to live more with their families, already had indicated regulations need rewriting to speed movement of transfer of soldiers and movement of their families and household goods.

Three Forfeit Bail

Three persons charged with speeding in the city of Kingston forfeited bail when they failed to appear in City Court this morning. They were Anthony DeFrancesco, 41, of Astoria, L. I., Melvin Meachum, Jr., 38, of Liberty, and Richard Kaser, 19, of Cobleskill. DeFrancesco was arrested at 11 a. m. Monday on East Chester street near Cassidy street by Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr. Meachum was arrested at 12:50 p. m. Monday on East Chester street near Garrison street. Kaser was arrested on Broadway by Officers William Snyder and Joseph Keller at 1 a. m. today charged with speeding 50 m.p.h.

Progress Reports

false Soviet peace propaganda."

George, who conferred with Eisenhower and Dulles yesterday, forecast a speedy okay from the Foreign Relations Committee for a resolution offered yesterday by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader. Knowland said he acted with "full approval" of the President.

THE RESOLUTION would put the Senate on record as expressing hope that subject peoples in Europe and Asia will gain their freedom.

Although frankly aimed at the Soviet satellites, the resolution does not name Russia nor speak of communism. Rather, it expresses concern for peoples subject to "totalitarian imperialism" and "alien despotism." An expression of sentiment, it would have no binding effect on anyone.

With the backing of George, Wiley and acting Democratic leader Clements (Ky.), Knowland offered the proposal in an obvious move to head off a resolution by McCarthy.

MC CARTHY asked the Senate to go on record for severing diplomatic relations with the Russian-dominated satellite governments and to recognize instead government-in-exile.

Clements blocked McCarthy's efforts for immediate action on this proposal and forced its assignment to the foreign relations committee. George said in an interview he will oppose it there.

McCarthy, without mentioning the Knowland resolution, said a mere expression of "pious hope" that the captive peoples will gain their freedom would "invite the world to think we are hypocrites."

"WE INVITE them to conclude what they already suspect—namely, that the American government's concern for the oppressed people is a cheap politician's concern about how Americans of eastern European descent will vote in the next election," he said.

From outside the group invited to the White House today came several suggestions for actions at Geneva.

Sen. Flanders (R.-Vt.) suggested that Eisenhower announce there the United States will not use atomic bombs on population centers except in reprisal for similar enemy attacks.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.) noted Eisenhower has said he expects no final settlements of controversial issues at Geneva and observed that the country ought not to expect too much.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) said in a statement Congress ought not to adjourn until after the President returns and reports on the Geneva conference.

No Large Bodies of Water

Whitfield Withdrawn

Washington, July 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower today formally withdrew the nomination of Allen Whitfield, Des Moines attorney, to be a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. The action was taken at the request of Whitfield. He told the President last Friday that he did not wish to involve the commission in "political controversy."

Doblers Trounce Bowlodrome, 16-6, for Third Twilight Win

AN ALL-STAR RIDES THE BENCH—Chicago White Sox shortstop Chico Carresquel presents a forlorn appearance as he rounds out a week of bench riding at Comiskey Park, Chicago. Although he's on the American League all-star squad for today's (July 12) game at Milwaukee, Manager Marty Marion has benched the one-time flashy shortstop for what has been called "indifferent" play. Ferraro's Bowlodrome looked good for half an inning against Dobler Beer in the City League yesterday.

They led 5 to 0 before the Brewmeisters had their first licks. When that chore had been completed, Doblers were ahead 7 to 5.

And they stayed in front the rest of the way to complete a 16-6 rout for their third victory in four starts. The win moved them into second place. The loss was the fourth straight for Bowlodrome.

THE BOWLING alley representatives routed George Magley early but southpaw Frank Reis held them in check while the winners made merry at the expense of Pete Tiano, Angie Fondino and Jack Watzka.

Doblers collected 11 hits, including triples by Bud Scheffel and Beichert. Johnny Armstrong poled a trio of singles. Bill Glaser, Bud Scheffel and Joe Benjamin each had a pair of hits.

Bob Watzka was the star batter for the losers with three single for half of the Bowlodrome production. Hank Werber rapped a triple for the losers.

BOWLODROME accumulated five runs in the first on walks to Parise and Bill Olen, Bob Watzka's single, Hank Werber's triple and miscues by Glaser and Armstrong.

Doblers bounced back with a cluster of seven in their half of the second on a rally built around triples by Bud Scheffel and Beichert, two Bowlodrome boots, a walk and Johnny Armstrong's single. After that it was all Doblers.

Today's game pairs Jones Dairy and Nadler Motors at 6:15 o'clock.

The American Assn's all-star game will be played on July 21. In the city of the club leading the loop on the morning of July 11. The all-stars play the first place team.

Grays Bumped From EL Lead

(By The Associated Press)

The Williamsport Grays were out of the Eastern League's three-way tie for first place today.

They tumbled rudely as they took a 21-0 pasting yesterday from the Binghamton Triplets, another member of the league-leading triumverate.

The Trips scored 13 in the sixth, and are believed to have set a league record for a single inning. Sixteen men batted during the inning.

THE READING Indians managed to hang onto their share of first place by downing the Schenectady Blue Jays 8-4 at Schenectady. Elmira made it two straight over Johnstown by winning 5-4, and Albany took a 3-2 decision over Allentown.

The Triplets, who earlier this season scored 11 runs in an inning, ganged up on five Williamsport pitchers for 18 hits and seven walks. Pat Utley went the distance for the trips and got credit for the win.

Sam Suplizio hit a grand-slam homer for Binghamton during the sixth. Chico Rivera also got a homer and there were five doubles.

Auburn, Mich.—Dick Ramazetti, 131, Detroit, stopped Nicky Harris, 128, Cleveland, 4.

Major League Vets Want Check on Bonus Beauties

Milwaukee, July 12 (AP)—Major league baseball players want to clamp down on bonus babies, but their suggestion of a limit of two to a club appears doomed.

The player representatives of the American and National leagues huddled yesterday and agreed that a pair of bonus players, carried beyond the usual 25-player limit, was the way to solve a perplexing big league problem.

But although club owners concede the bonus policy is something of a bear they have caught by the tail, the sentiment is against such a restriction as advanced by the players.

THE PRESENT rule requires any bonus player—one signed for more than $4,000 yearly salary—to remain with the parent club for two years before minor league assignment.

Baseball authorities agree generally that compelling a bonus youngster to ride a major league bench for two years with little chance of competition is unfair both to the player and to the club.

Robin Roberts, star Philadelphia Phils' pitcher who started today's All-Star game, expressed the view as National League player representative that the bonus system also was unfair to veteran players.

"The players feel that the bonus setup is shoving too many veteran players out of jobs without actually replacing them," said Roberts, who yesterday was re-elected to a two-year term as his loop's player representative.

HOWEVER, National League President Warren Giles and Frank Lane, White Sox general manager, said in rebuttal that the player proposal took the teeth out of the present bonus restriction.

"The idea is to discourage promiscuous signing of bonus players, and putting even two in the same category as returning servicemen beyond the 25-player limit defeats the purpose of the bonus rule," said Lane.

At present, the Baltimore Orioles lead the bonus parade with five such players, while the Detroit Tigers have four. In several instances, veteran players have been released to make room for the untested phenoms.

Giles also contended the proposal would defeat the purpose of the rule which is to penalize a lavish-spending club which seeks to corner the market of young talent.

ROBERTS said the subject would come up for owner action next October.

The American and National League players also called for a one-year test of unrestricted play by big leaguers in winter ball and suggested that players be allowed to report for spring practice earlier than the usual March 1 limit at the invitation of their clubs.

The major league executive council, meeting in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday, is expected to okay the spring practice relaxation which still calls for exhibition play to start March 10.

Puleo Upsets Libby Manzo

New York, July 12 (AP)—Tab Tony Puleo as one of the better young lightweight prospects around today.

TONY IMPRESSED both by his winning margin and by the smart manner in which he whipped a more experienced rival.

TODAY'S ALL STAR STARTERS—Southpaw Billy Pierce of the White Sox, left, and veteran righthander Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies were scheduled to start for the American and National League, respectively, in today's All Star game at Milwaukee.

Major League Vets Want Check on Bonus Beauties

Milwaukee, July 12 (AP)—Major league baseball players want to clamp down on bonus babies, but their suggestion of a limit of two to a club appears doomed.

The player representatives of the American and National leagues huddled yesterday and agreed that a pair of bonus players, carried beyond the usual 25-player limit, was the way to solve a perplexing big league problem.

But although club owners concede the bonus policy is something of a bear they have caught by the tail, the sentiment is against such a restriction as advanced by the players.

THE PRESENT rule requires any bonus player—one signed for more than $4,000 yearly salary—to remain with the parent club for two years before minor league assignment.

Baseball authorities agree generally that compelling a bonus youngster to ride a major league bench for two years with little chance of competition is unfair both to the player and to the club.

Robin Roberts, star Philadelphia Phils' pitcher who started today's All-Star game, expressed the view as National League player representative that the bonus system also was unfair to veteran players.

"The players feel that the bonus setup is shoving too many veteran players out of jobs without actually replacing them," said Roberts, who yesterday was re-elected to a two-year term as his loop's player representative.

HOWEVER, National League President Warren Giles and Frank Lane, White Sox general manager, said in rebuttal that the player proposal took the teeth out of the present bonus restriction.

"The idea is to discourage promiscuous signing of bonus players, and putting even two in the same category as returning servicemen beyond the 25-player limit defeats the purpose of the bonus rule," said Lane.

At present, the Baltimore Orioles lead the bonus parade with five such players, while the Detroit Tigers have four. In several instances, veteran players have been released to make room for the untested phenoms.

Giles also contended the proposal would defeat the purpose of the rule which is to penalize a lavish-spending club which seeks to corner the market of young talent.

ROBERTS said the subject would come up for owner action next October.

The American and National League players also called for a one-year test of unrestricted play by big leaguers in winter ball and suggested that players be allowed to report for spring practice earlier than the usual March 1 limit at the invitation of their clubs.

The major league executive council, meeting in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday, is expected to okay the spring practice relaxation which still calls for exhibition play to start March 10.

Puleo Upsets Libby Manzo

New York, July 12 (AP)—Tab Tony Puleo as one of the better young lightweight prospects around today.

The rangy 22-year-old Brooklynite, a pro only 13 months, whacked out a decisive 10-round victory over Libby Manzo of New York in a television fight at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

TONY IMPRESSED both by his winning margin and by the smart manner in which he whipped a more experienced rival.

No wonder this great '55 Pontiac is setting all-time sales records!

It's bigger, smarter and more powerful than any other car at anything like the price!

A sales success like Pontiac's starts on the drawing boards—with engineers and designers who have been schooled for years in the Pontiac idea of giving more people more car for less money.

With its long 122" or 124" wheelbase and extra, big-car heft, Pontiac provides road-hugging comfort you get in no other car near it in price!

Now take this big, roomy car and surround it with the distinction of Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Toning—beauty that obviously is calling the turn on the future—and you have another reason for Pontiac's phenomenal sales success.

That alone would be enough for most cars—but not for Pontiac!

Pontiac corners the market on value with the most powerful engine within hundreds of dollars of its price. The sensational 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor* is the most modern power you can buy. You're on even terms with anything on the road—and you enjoy the greatest economy and dependability in Pontiac history.

If by now you're thinking "This is what I've wanted all along!", we suggest you stop in and talk dollars and cents. That's when you'll get the final reason for Pontiac's record popularity—the fact that you can fit a big, powerful, future-fashioned Pontiac into any new-car budget!

You'll never find it easier to get into the fine-car class than right now! *Low extra cost option

American Legion Juniors Take Opener From Saugerties, 11-3

Maines 3-Hits Village Nine For First Win

Hoffman, Maines Blackwell Hit Twice

American Legion Juniors launched their bid for state and national honors by clubbing Saugerties American Legion, 11 to 3, in the county series opener yesterday at Cantine Field in Saugerties.

Southpaw Bob Maines checked the home club with three hits and fanned six in a game halted by darkness at the end of six innings.

The second game of the series is scheduled Sunday night at Dietz Stadium.

THE OLD CAPITAL Motors nine found Dick Winnie a worthy opponent for Maines until the Saugerties defense collapsed in the fifth.

Kingston led 3-1 going into the fourth when they exploded for seven runs and drove Winnie to the showers. Jim Farrell mopped up for Saugerties.

Kingston's eight hits were all singles, with Joey Hoffman, Maines and Eric Blackwell delivering a pair each. Don Whitaker, Murray Craft and George Neher accounted for the Saugerties hits.

Maines, Ron Ferraro and Ronnie Ashdown each knocked in two runs for the winners.

Murder, Yells DeMarco; but Nobody Agrees

New Orleans, July 12 (AP)—Bloodied Brooklyn billygoat Paddy DeMarco today bellowed for a rematch with top-ranked Ralph Dupas and claimed he was the victim of a "mother's decision" in a 10-round loss to the French quarter speedster.

The former lightweight champion dropped a decision last night to the New Orleans nifty, rated No. 1 challenger for Bud Smith's lightweight crown.

Although most of the blood was DeMarco's, everybody in the ring and many front row spectators wore some of it when it was over.

"What do I think of him?" DeMarco fumed in his dressing room. "I think he's nothing, that's what I think. He misses a jab and the crowd goes crazy. What kind of a shake is that?"

"TALK ABOUT your hometown decisions, this was a mother's decision. I beat him easier than I did last time," the stubby battler said, referring to his 10-round decision over Dupas in January, 1954.

Dupas intimated DeMarco really used his head in the fight—as a battering ram.

"I was more afraid of his head than his hands," the 19-year-old Dupas said. He contended a DeMarco butt caused a slight cut on the bridge of his nose.

The judges and the crowd of 6,500 were in unanimous disagreement with Demarco. Referee Francis Kercheval had Dupas in front, 4-3-3, while Judge Lucian Joubert tabbed in five rounds for Dupas, three for DeMarco and two even and Judge Phil Gaffney saw it for Dupas, 7-2-1. The AP card has Dupas in front, 6-4.

Unleashing American Watchdogs

Jet planes that guard our skies from attack never sleep! Each time new, higher-powered jets roar into the sky, the heat of their power and the cold of the altitude create a terrific lubrication problem.

This problem couldn't be handled by any oil that ever existed before. Some bearings which absorb the tremendous thrust of jet power must be lubricated at 65° below zero! The same oil must guard the smooth operation of other bearings in the jet furnace at 450° above zero or higher.

Such an oil was "built" by scientists of Esso Research and Engineering Company to unleash these watchdogs of peace. Esso Research keeps pace with the needs of today . . . and anticipates the needs of tomorrow!

Nowhere else in the U.S.A. will you find such a concentration of petroleum knowledge. Esso Research sets the pace.

Every time you drive in to an Esso Dealer station, you get the full benefit of this knowledge in the Esso products you buy — plus the many helpful services of the Dealer, himself.

Outsider Captures Roosevelt Feature

Westbury, July 12 (AP)—Gratis Hanover, a 17-1 outsider, won the $10,000 U. S. Harness Writers trot, an invitational test for 2-year-olds, by a head over the odds-on favorite, Lullwater Victory, last night as the Grand Circuit opened at Roosevelt Raceway. Nora Frost was third.

Gratis Hanover returned $35.00, $8.20 and $4.20 across the board. Sanders Russell drove the winneer for owner R. J. Logue of Sydney, Canada. The time of 2:07.2 was the season's best mark for two-year-old fillies.

Miss Rodney Cops

Vernon, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Miss Rodney, driven by Fred Egan, won both heats of the $5,200 Vernon Harness Writers Assn. trot at Vernon Downs last night. She is owned by C. W. Phellis of Greenwich, Conn.

Murder, Yells DeMarco; but Nobody Agrees

New Orleans, July 12 (AP)—Bloodied Brooklyn billygoat Paddy DeMarco today bellowed for a rematch with top-ranked Ralph Dupas and claimed he was the victim of a "mother's decision" in a 10-round loss to the French quarter speedster.

The former lightweight champion dropped a decision last night to the New Orleans nifty, rated No. 1 challenger for Bud Smith's lightweight crown.

Although most of the blood was DeMarco's, everybody in the ring and many front row spectators wore some of it when it was over.

"What do I think of him?" DeMarco fumed in his dressing room. "I think he's nothing, that's what I think. He misses a jab and the crowd goes crazy. What kind of a shake is that?"

"TALK ABOUT your hometown decisions, this was a mother's decision. I beat him easier than I did last time," the stubby battler said, referring to his 10-round decision over Dupas in January, 1954.

Dupas intimated DeMarco really used his head in the fight—as a battering ram.

"I was more afraid of his head than his hands," the 19-year-old Dupas said. He contended a DeMarco butt caused a slight cut on the bridge of his nose.

The judges and the crowd of 6,500 were in unanimous disagreement with Demarco. Referee Francis Kercheval had Dupas in front, 4-3-3, while Judge Lucian Joubert tabbed in five rounds for Dupas, three for DeMarco and two even and Judge Phil Gaffney saw it for Dupas, 7-2-1. The AP card has Dupas in front, 6-4.

Unleashing American Watchdogs

Jet planes that guard our skies from attack never sleep! Each time new, higher-powered jets roar into the sky, the heat of their power and the cold of the altitude create a terrific lubrication problem.

This problem couldn't be handled by any oil that ever existed before. Some bearings which absorb the tremendous thrust of jet power must be lubricated at 65° below zero! The same oil must guard the smooth operation of other bearings in the jet furnace at 450° above zero or higher.

Such an oil was "built" by scientists of Esso Research and Engineering Company to unleash these watchdogs of peace. Esso Research keeps pace with the needs of today . . . and anticipates the needs of tomorrow!

Nowhere else in the U.S.A. will you find such a concentration of petroleum knowledge. Esso Research sets the pace.

Every time you drive in to an Esso Dealer station, you get the full benefit of this knowledge in the Esso products you buy — plus the many helpful services of the Dealer, himself.

See your Esso Dealer regularly . . . for Happy Motoring!

ESSO STANDARD OIL COMPANY

An outstanding motor oil for today's cars is the product of Esso Research. It is called UNIFLO. It's the first motor oil ever developed specifically to reduce cylinder-head deposits and keep engines so clean they can deliver maximum power, mile after mile, month after month. There is no finer motor oil for today's cars!

Perry's Rout Chezzies For 13th Victory, 11-4

Legion Upsets Destroyers, 11-9

Perry's Rest strengthened its first-place grip in the American division of the City Softball League last night, stopping the Chez Emile entry 11-4, as the second-place Destroyers were upset by the American Legion, 11-9.

In another American division tilt, Miron Lumber downed Gene's Bar and Grill, 3-2.

The Subway Grill and Rapps Express, leaders in the National division, both scored wins. The Subway squad belted Fuller-Skyline, 18-1, and Rapp's edged Les Pommiers, 10-8, in extra innings.

The Perry's team now has a 31-1 record. The Destroyers have won 13 and lost four and Chez Emile has an 11-6 mark.

THE SUBWAY TEAM has a 14-2 and Rapp's a 13-2 record.

Joe Venuti held Chez Emile to seven hits while he and his mates were collecting 17 off Joe Enright.

Bob Graves and Cliff Davis led the winners with three safeties apiece.

The Legion made a great rally in the seventh inning, scoring eight runs to down the Destroyers.

Three home runs were hit. Angie Corrado had one for the Legion. Jim Lindsay and LeRoy Williams homered for the Destroyers.

Tom Rizzi hurled the win. Bill Taylor shared hill duties with Frank Boyce for the Destroyers.

The Miron-Gene's game was a pitcher's battle, with Dick Bradley the winner over Don Dyson. Both allowed four hits.

AL HUNT HELD the Fuller players to five hits. The Subway sluggers garnered 21 against Ed Lowe, Don Osterhoudt and Arnie Bellini.

Included in the Sudway team's hits were home runs by Frank Fedee and Les Barringer.

Fede had a big night, also getting a triple, double and two singles. Joe Scholar also had four hits for the winners.

A bases-loaded triple by Lou Perry, followed by Red Hinkley's single, tied the score at 8-all as the Rapp's team rallied in the seventh inning.

In the Rapp's eighth, Frank Tiano walked, and Bill Martini walked. After a fly out, Tino Reynauld doubled for the two deciding runs.

Reynauld, who relieved Jim Massuccio in the second inning, was the winner. He allowed only three hits in six and one-third frames. Joe Amato was the loser.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

The Federal Communications Commission is in the process of reaching a decision which will directly affect millions of Americans, in and out of the sports world.

The decision is whether the government is going to permit the nation-wide introduction of pay-as-you-see or subscription television along with commercial or sponsored "free" television.

Proponents of this co-called "phonevision" are reported to be 6 to 1 in favor of the toll television. The ratio reflects the public's desire to call its own shots in sports and entertainment, even at a price, rather than submit to many of the "free" programs of the modern TV world.

We have no fear about the sports fan. He would pay to see the Giants-Dodgers, Notre Dame, the World Series.

But phonevision won't save such venerable institutions as the Kingston Colonials. Or any other form of local baseball, for that matter.

It was a saddening experience over the weekend to go from the joviality and camaradarie of a member-guest golf tournament to the dreary setting at Dietz Stadium. There couldn't have been 100 paid customers sitting in on Fred Davi's party with the Newburgh Dodger Jewels, the semi-pro club supported by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The eerie setting seemed like something out of Dante's Divine Comedy. The fog crept warily across the diamond, wafting out of the quarry behind the concrete stands. Autumn comes early at Dietz Stadium. The lighting system has rendered years of great service to baseball, but it is badly in need of repair. The reflectors need silvering. The bulbs need replacements.

But you can't blame the lighting system for the present sad plight of home town baseball. It is a victim of the television age and phonevision will never save it. Brave men like Fred Davi and William D. Ryan battle the changing times but the financial boxscores make out a bad case for them.

The next afternoon thunderheads drifted menacingly over the railroad bridge just minutes before the start of the Kingston Power Boat Association's outboard stock regatta. You can blame the weather for part of Sunday's dwindling crowd, but not for all of it.

Here was a promotion designed to appeal to area fans. The pros were missing. This was an amateur stock race and it figured there would be some inexpert handling of the turns and there were. The chills and spills occurred with the same frequency as in the heydey of the pros. But when you looked down on the front yard of the KPBA property and saw a hundred people where once a thousand jammed every inch of space, you wondered.

Crowds are non existent at semi-pro baseball games and with each passing year more people decide to stay away from other sports features in the area. There are those who grumble about the amount of space allotted to golf but golf is a rapidly growing game, alive and vibrant, unsullied by the TV menace.

Baseball will survive the TV age but not the kind of baseball we used to know. And phonevision will be approved by the FCC. People will actually pay money to see whodunits, soap operas, panel shows. They'll even pay good money to watch the wrestlers. But on the local level, baseball, regattas will never be the same.

Ronnie Secreto and Garry Barnes collaborated to spring Sprague Electric Dodgers to a 6-1 triumph over the Lions Club Yankees in the American Little League's second half opener yesterday.

Secreto struck out nine and had a shutout until the top of the sixth when he walked Joe Stopski, who was delivered by Frank Fay's single.

BARNES PUT on a show with the bat clouting a double and homer in three trips off Fay, who gave six hits and fanned seven. Barnes hit his homer with Secreto on base in the fifth. Secreto helped his own cause with a triple.

Dick Ellis had a pair of singles for the Yankees.

Red Sox meet the Giants today at 6:15 at Little League Stadium.

The Legion made a great rally in the seventh inning, scoring eight runs to down the Destroyers.

Three home runs were hit. Angie Corrado had one for the Legion. Jim Lindsay and LeRoy Williams homered for the Destroyers.

Tom Rizzi hurled the win. Bill Taylor shared hill duties with Frank Boyce for the Destroyers.

The Miron-Gene's game was a pitcher's battle, with Dick Bradley the winner over Don Dyson. Both allowed four hits.

The Lumbermen won the game on Jay Peer's double with two on and two out in the bottom of the seventh.

AL HUNT HELD the Fuller players to five hits. The Subway sluggers garnered 21 against Ed Lowe, Don Osterhoudt and Arnie Bellini.

Included in the Sudway team's hits were home runs by Frank Fedee and Les Barringer.

Fede had a big night, also getting a triple, double and two singles. Joe Scholar also had four hits for the winners.

A bases-loaded triple by Lou Perry, followed by Red Hinkley's single, tied the score at 8-all as the Rapp's team rallied in the seventh inning.

In the Rapp's eighth, Frank Tiano walked, and Bill Martini walked. After a fly out, Tino Reynauld doubled for the two deciding runs.

Reynauld, who relieved Jim Massuccio in the second inning, was the winner. He allowed only three hits in six and one-third frames. Joe Amato was the loser.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

The Federal Communications Commission is in the process of reaching a decision which will directly affect millions of Americans, in and out of the sports world.

The decision is whether the government is going to permit the nation-wide introduction of pay-as-you-see or subscription television along with commercial or sponsored "free" television.

Proponents of this co-called "phonevision" are reported to be 6 to 1 in favor of the toll television. The ratio reflects the public's desire to call its own shots in sports and entertainment, even at a price, rather than submit to many of the "free" programs of the modern TV world.

We have no fear about the sports fan. He would pay to see the Giants-Dodgers, Notre Dame, the World Series.

But phonevision won't save such venerable institutions as the Kingston Colonials. Or any other form of local baseball, for that matter.

It was a saddening experience over the weekend to go from the joviality and camaradarie of a member-guest golf tournament to the dreary setting at Dietz Stadium. There couldn't have been 100 paid customers sitting in on Fred Davi's party with the Newburgh Dodger Jewels, the semi-pro club supported by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The eerie setting seemed like something out of Dante's Divine Comedy. The fog crept warily across the diamond, wafting out of the quarry behind the concrete stands. Autumn comes early at Dietz Stadium. The lighting system has rendered years of great service to baseball, but it is badly in need of repair. The reflectors need silvering. The bulbs need replacements.

But you can't blame the lighting system for the present sad plight of home town baseball. It is a victim of the television age and phonevision will never save it. Brave men like Fred Davi and William D. Ryan battle the changing times but the financial boxscores make out a bad case for them.

The next afternoon thunderheads drifted menacingly over the railroad bridge just minutes before the start of the Kingston Power Boat Association's outboard stock regatta. You can blame the weather for part of Sunday's dwindling crowd, but not for all of it.

Here was a promotion designed to appeal to area fans. The pros were missing. This was an amateur stock race and it figured there would be some inexpert handling of the turns and there were. The chills and spills occurred with the same frequency as in the heydey of the pros. But when you looked down on the front yard of the KPBA property and saw a hundred people where once a thousand jammed every inch of space, you wondered.

Crowds are non existent at semi-pro baseball games and with each passing year more people decide to stay away from other sports features in the area. There are those who grumble about the amount of space allotted to golf but golf is a rapidly growing game, alive and vibrant, unsullied by the TV menace.

Baseball will survive the TV age but not the kind of baseball we used to know. And phonevision will be approved by the FCC. People will actually pay money to see whodunits, soap operas, panel shows. They'll even pay good money to watch the wrestlers. But on the local level, baseball, regattas will never be the same.

Scoring in every inning, the Miron Lumber Indians handed the Hiltebrant Pirates an 8-5 setback in National Little League action last night at Kingman Park. It was the third straight victory for the unbeaten league leaders, who scored in every turn at bat.

WARREN BROWN of the Pirates highlighted the game by belting two home runs. He is the first National Leaguer to hit a pair of round-trippers in a single game.

Tom Fiore was the winning pitcher, taking over for starter Bill Boice. Frank Bonavita took the loss.

R. Secreto Wins 6 to 1 OverYanks

American LL

	Won	Lost
Sprague Dodgers	1	0
Lions Yankees	0	1

Ronnie Secreto and Garry Barnes collaborated to spring Sprague Electric Dodgers to a 6-1 triumph over the Lions Club Yankees in the American Little League's second half opener yesterday.

Secreto struck out nine and had a shutout until the top of the sixth when he walked Joe Stopski, who was delivered by Frank Fay's single.

BARNES PUT on a show with the bat clouting a double and homer in three trips off Fay, who gave six hits and fanned seven. Barnes hit his homer with Secreto on base in the fifth. Secreto helped his own cause with a triple.

Dick Ellis had a pair of singles for the Yankees.

Red Sox meet the Giants today at 6:15 at Little League Stadium.

Crows Tie For First In Jaycee

Jaycee LL

Team	Won	Lost
Wrens	3	1
Crows	3	1
Hawks	2	2
Eagles	0	4

Crows players racked up an easy victory in the Jaycee Little League last night at Forsyth Park, routing the Hawks 20-5.

The win moved the Crows into a first-place tie with the Wrens. Both teams have 3-1 records.

The Crows teed off on three Hawks pitchers for 15 hits, including five doubles.

RODGER WELLS led the assault with two doubles and two singles in five tries. Bill Costello clipped three hits. Don Hughes had a brace of doubles and Bill Reardon one two-bagger.

Hughes hurled the first four innings and was the winning pitcher. He struck out nine. Reardon finished the game.

John Chedeleff was the loser. He was succeeded by Berry Bliss and Jerry Conrad.

'Windfall' of Luck

In the time of William the Conqueror, it was a criminal offense to cut timber in the forests. Only such could be gathered as the wind had blown down, so a heavy windstorm was hailed as good luck. From this comes the modern application of "windfall" as expressing good luck.

Pape was stationed at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., before arriving for duty in Germany in June of this year. He entered the Army in June 1953 and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Three-Judge

Pleas Judge Edward Blythin, who presided at the murder trial, "was fully justified in overruling a new trial motion" when it was filed in his court earlier this year.

"THE SYSTEM of impanelling a jury in this case had no error," the opinion said. "The jury was made up of good citizens of good moral character. The verdict was fair. * * * there can be no grounds to claim a mistrial because of continued publicity."

William J. Corrigan, chief defense counsel, had contended "prejudicial" newspaper, television and radio coverage of the case had made a fair hearing in this county impossible.

"We have given full consideration to the sufficiency of the evidence as supporting the verdict in this casee," the Appellate judges held.

Forest Fires

there is no possibility of the fire escaping before we report it controlled," he said.

A prospector was reported killed Sunday in the Arizona blaze.

Keith Knudsen, head of an estimated 900 men fighting two fires in southeastern Wyoming's Medicine Bow National Forest, said rainfall yesterday afternoon halted progress of both conflagrations.

THERE WAS HOPE the fires might be ringed today, he said, but warned against undue optimism because high winds could set the flames running wild again.

The larger Wyoming fire, 45 miles northwest of Laramie, has burned 2,300 acres since last Wednesday. The other, 26 miles southwest of Saratoga, Wyo., has eaten 1,300 acres.

Both fires also had moved out of extremely rough terrain, making possible better use of bulldozers and other mechanical equipment, Knudsen reported.

ABOUT 300 MEN encircled the head of a 400-acre fire in Routt National Forest in northwestern Colorado.

Forest Service officials said it was virtually under control last night.

A 33-acre fire in Yellowstone National Park and a 150-acre blaze on Sleeping Ute Mountain in southwestern Colorado were controlled yesterday after two days of fighting.

Chance ILA May

one or the other being hampered by a no-strike contract being in effect.

The agreement is a substitute for an earlier proposal that would have brought the ILA back into the AFL as a part of the teamsters union. At its convention last spring, the AFL barred such a step and warned the teamsters it is a violation of AFL rules to absorb an ousted union.

THE ILA was thrown out of the AFL for allegedly failing to rid itself of racketeers. The AFL then set up a new dock union but failed to beat the ILA in a close bargaining election last year.

A condition of the proposed agreement with the teamsters would bar the ILA from changing "its status as an independent, unaffiliated labor organization" unless the teamsters union gave its approval.

Gets Production Post in IBM Firm

FRANCIS G. PAUL of 2 Presidents place has been named to the post of coordinator of special production at World Headquarters of International Business Machines Corporation, New York city, J. W. Schnackel, vice president in charge of manufacturing, announced today.

Mr. Paul has been production manager at the IBM Kingston plant since September 1954. He joined IBM at Endicott in 1946 as an engineering training student, and his record has been one of steady advancement.

Mr. Paul, a native of Easton, Pennsylvania, was educated at Easton High School and Admiral Farragut Academy, Toms River, N. J., and received a Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering degree from Cornell University in 1946. He served three years as a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Force.

Mr. Paul has taught classes in IBM manufacturing procedures and has taken special electronics courses. He is a member of Tau Beta Phi, an honorary engineering fraternity; IBM Country Club, the IBM Study Club, the Masonic fraternity and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul have a daughter and four sons.

THE PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS ATHLETES—President Eisenhower kids with Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Cal., women's amateur golf champion, as he poses with a group of sports celebrities who were his luncheon guests July 11. Girl, 12, Hit by Car

Pat Ausanio, 12, of 82 Cedar street, was reported struck by an automobile about 7 p. m. yesterday while riding her bicycle west on Foxhall avenue. She claimed no injuries, according to Eugene Kolts, Jr., 34, of Vincent street, town of Ulster. It was reported by city police that she was to be checked by a private physician. Mr. Kolts reported that he was operating his 1949 sedan west on Foxhall avenue when the girl swung in front of his car.

'Windfall' of Luck

In the time of William the Conqueror, it was a criminal offense to cut timber in the forests. Only such could be gathered as the wind had blown down, so a heavy windstorm was hailed as good luck. From this comes the modern application of "windfall" as expressing good luck.

Three-Judge

Pleas Judge Edward Blythin, who presided at the murder trial, "was fully justified in overruling a new trial motion" when it was filed in his court earlier this year.

"THE SYSTEM of impanelling a jury in this case had no error," the opinion said. "The jury was made up of good citizens of good moral character. The verdict was fair. * * * there can be no grounds to claim a mistrial because of continued publicity."

William J. Corrigan, chief defense counsel, had contended "prejudicial" newspaper, television and radio coverage of the case had made a fair hearing in this county impossible.

"We have given full consideration to the sufficiency of the evidence as supporting the verdict in this casee," the Appellate judges held.

Forest Fires

there is no possibility of the fire escaping before we report it controlled," he said.

A prospector was reported killed Sunday in the Arizona blaze.

Keith Knudsen, head of an estimated 900 men fighting two fires in southeastern Wyoming's Medicine Bow National Forest, said rainfall yesterday afternoon halted progress of both conflagrations.

THERE WAS HOPE the fires might be ringed today, he said, but warned against undue optimism because high winds could set the flames running wild again.

The larger Wyoming fire, 45 miles northwest of Laramie, has burned 2,300 acres since last Wednesday. The other, 26 miles southwest of Saratoga, Wyo., has eaten 1,300 acres.

Both fires also had moved out of extremely rough terrain, making possible better use of bulldozers and other mechanical equipment, Knudsen reported.

ABOUT 300 MEN encircled the head of a 400-acre fire in Routt National Forest in northwestern Colorado.

Forest Service officials said it was virtually under control last night.

A 33-acre fire in Yellowstone National Park and a 150-acre blaze on Sleeping Ute Mountain in southwestern Colorado were controlled yesterday after two days of fighting.

Chance ILA May

one or the other being hampered by a no-strike contract being in effect.

The agreement is a substitute for an earlier proposal that would have brought the ILA back into the AFL as a part of the teamsters union. At its convention last spring, the AFL barred such a step and warned the teamsters it is a violation of AFL rules to absorb an ousted union.

THE ILA was thrown out of the AFL for allegedly failing to rid itself of racketeers. The AFL then set up a new dock union but failed to beat the ILA in a close bargaining election last year.

A condition of the proposed agreement with the teamsters would bar the ILA from changing "its status as an independent, unaffiliated labor organization" unless the teamsters union gave its approval.

Gets Production Post in IBM Firm

FRANCIS G. PAUL of 2 Presidents place has been named to the post of coordinator of special production at World Headquarters of International Business Machines Corporation, New York city, J. W. Schnackel, vice president in charge of manufacturing, announced today.

Mr. Paul has been production manager at the IBM Kingston plant since September 1954. He joined IBM at Endicott in 1946 as an engineering training student, and his record has been one of steady advancement.

Mr. Paul, a native of Easton, Pennsylvania, was educated at Easton High School and Admiral Farragut Academy, Toms River, N. J., and received a Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering degree from Cornell University in 1946. He served three years as a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Force.

Mr. Paul has taught classes in IBM manufacturing procedures and has taken special electronics courses. He is a member of Tau Beta Phi, an honorary engineering fraternity; IBM Country Club, the IBM Study Club, the Masonic fraternity and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul have a daughter and four sons.

The Weather

TUESDAY, JULY 12, 1955

Sun rises at 4:29 a. m.; sun sets at 7:33 p. m., EST.
Weather: Fair.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 62 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 73 degrees.

Weather Forecast

NEW YORK CITY and vicinity: Northern New Jersey and Long Island: Sunny and seasonably warm with low humidity this afternoon and Wednesday, with the highest temperature both days in the lower 80s. Clear and cool tonight with the lowest temperatures in the low 60s except in the 50s in the cooler inland sections. Moderate northeasterly winds this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday.

Outlook for Thursday, fair and slightly warmer.

Outlook for Friday, fair and hot but with low humidity.

EASTERN New York: Sunny with moderate temperatures today and tomorrow. Highest temperature today in the 70s in the north and west and in the 80s in the east. Fair and cool tonight, low in the 50s except 45 to 50 in some mountain valleys.

CITY ENGINEER'S weather report: Temperature 10 a. m. today 72 degrees, pressure 30.03 inches, humidity 73 per cent, wind NE at 15 MPH. High temperature yesterday 84 at 4 p. m., 70 at 3 a. m. Mean 77, normal 78. Relative humidity 98 at 6 a. m., 59 at 3 p. m. Barometric pressure 29.93 at 10 p. m., 29.82 at 3 a. m. Winds NE at 20 MPH.

DOUBLING IN BRASS—Don Butterfield, left, and Harry London team up on the two-headed tuba featured by the Cities Service Band of America during concerts in New York. It is the only instrument of its kind in use today. Both musicians blow at the same time, but only one of them fingers the single set of valves. Puffing and valve-pushing have to be synchronized perfectly to get the desired result.

He Strings Along

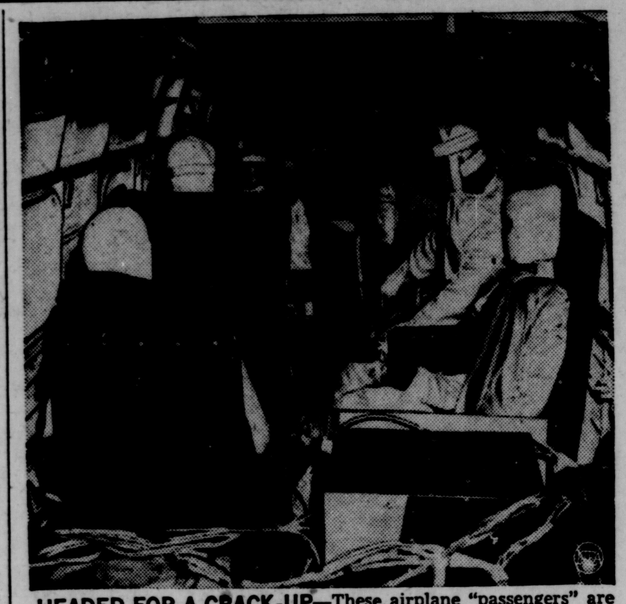

Georgetown, Ky. (AP) — An AWOL soldier was traveling on a shoestring when arrested for improper driving. "I want my shoestring back," the soldier told police. They found it on his car, which had been stolen. Police said he had switched license plates, tying the new one on with his shoestring.

Built Great Wall

The great warrior, Chi-hoang-ti, who was emperor of China about two centuries before Christ, for the purpose of putting a stop to the incursions of the Tartars and other tribes from the north, caused the Great Wall of China to be erected along the northern frontier of his dominations.

Hunting dogs reach their peak when five years old.

HEADED FOR A CRACK-UP—These airplane "passengers" are doomed to crash but they won't suffer. They're dummies, used to obtain crash impact data at the NACA Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory at Cleveland, Ohio. Thirty-seven old transport planes, each carrying dummies in various kinds of seats and facing in several directions, were deliberately crashed. Sensitive instruments connected to the dummies measured forces exerted on them.

STAMP OF HOPE—This special blue "atoms-for-peace" stamp goes on sale July 26. The central design of the three-cent stamp depicts two hemispheres showing each side of the globe encircled with the orbital emblem symbolic of atomic energy.

Cool Weather May End on Friday

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Cool, pleasant weather is in prospect until the weekend, the weather bureau said today.

A gradual warm-up will start about Friday, forecasters reported. Temperatures until then will be normal or a little above.

The predicted high temperatures ranged from 75 to 80 degrees upstate and 80 to 85 in the New York city area.

Fresh, dry air blew in from the north yesterday to begin the cooling process. The day's highs were from 75 to 85 upstate. The mercury reached 89 in midafternoon at LaGuardia Airport in New York city.

No. 17 in a series of RARE CREATURES:

THE PETRIFIED WARY

so rooted in caution he can't move a muscle

The WARY is a manufacturer who thinks the advertising field is strewn with booby traps.

The WARY plays it so safe he's left stranded on base while the competition runs away with the game.

Fortunately the WARY is a rare creature.

Most manufacturers realize that business is highly competitive and that half-way efforts will get them precisely that far.

They believe in backing their products with strong, sound advertising. They believe, for example, in saturating a market to gain dominance; in testing markets to obtain answers to sales potentials.

Smart manufacturers start—and keep—their national advertising at the local level – in newspapers!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

DOUBLING IN BRASS—Don Butterfield, left, and Harry London team up on the two-headed tuba featured by the Cities Service Band of America during concerts in New York. It is the only instrument of its kind in use today. Both musicians blow at the same time, but only one of them fingers the single set of valves. Puffing and valve-pushing have to be synchronized perfectly to get the desired result.

He Strings Along

Georgetown, Ky. (AP) — An AWOL soldier was traveling on a shoestring when arrested for improper driving. "I want my shoestring back," the soldier told police. They found it on his car, which had been stolen. Police said he had switched license plates, tying the new one on with his shoestring.

Built Great Wall

The great warrior, Chi-hoang-ti, who was emperor of China about two centuries before Christ, for the purpose of putting a stop to the incursions of the Tartars and other tribes from the north, caused the Great Wall of China to be erected along the northern frontier of his dominations.

HEADED FOR A CRACK-UP—These airplane "passengers" are doomed to crash but they won't suffer. They're dummies, used to obtain crash impact data at the NACA Lewis Flight Propulsion Laboratory at Cleveland, Ohio. Thirty-seven old transport planes, each carrying dummies in various kinds of seats and facing in several directions, were deliberately crashed. Sensitive instruments connected to the dummies measured forces exerted on them.

STAMP OF HOPE—This special blue "atoms-for-peace" stamp goes on sale July 26. The central design of the three-cent stamp depicts two hemispheres showing each side of the globe encircled with the orbital emblem symbolic of atomic energy.

Cool Weather May End on Friday

Albany, N. Y., July 12 (AP)—Cool, pleasant weather is in prospect until the weekend, the weather bureau said today.

A gradual warm-up will start about Friday, forecasters reported. Temperatures until then will be normal or a little above.

Weekend thundershowers were predicted for widely scattered areas of the eastern section.

Fresh breezes fanned the state today in the wake of a 10-day hot spell.

The predicted high temperatures ranged from 75 to 80 degrees upstate and 80 to 85 in the New York city area.

Fresh, dry air blew in from the north yesterday to begin the cooling process. The day's highs were from 75 to 85 upstate. The mercury reached 89 in midafternoon at LaGuardia Airport in New York city.

No. 17 in a series of RARE CREATURES:

THE PETRIFIED WARY

so rooted in caution he can't move a muscle

The WARY is a manufacturer who thinks the advertising field is strewn with booby traps.

He gets buck fever swatting a fly – and wouldn't crawl out on a limb two inches from the ground.

The WARY plays it so safe he's left stranded on base while the competition runs away with the game.

Fortunately the WARY is a rare creature.

Most manufacturers realize that business is highly competitive and that half-way efforts will get them precisely that far.

They believe in backing their products with strong, sound advertising. They believe, for example, in saturating a market to gain dominance; in testing markets to obtain answers to sales potentials.

Naturally they use newspapers—because newspapers blanket any market with maximum impact, creating mass action at the retail level.

Smart manufacturers start—and keep—their national advertising at the local level – in newspapers!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!
